Valley Couple Married In Rites Held at Home

Central Point - In a ceremony held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Miss Karen E. Marney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Marney, Route 4, Box 479A, Medford, became the bride of Ronald B. Gillaspay.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gillaspay, 3032 Linden lane, Central Point.

The Rev. W. Martin of the First Church of God, Medford, officiated at the 8 o'clock service held Saturday evening, July 6, and attended by 80 guests.

At the double ring rites, the bride wore a ballerina length gown with a lace bodice and chiffon skirt, and her elbow length veil was held by a crown of rosebuds and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of rosebuds.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jackie Leah Gillaspay, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in a ballerina length chiffon dress. Twin Best Man.

The bridegroom's twin brother, Donald Brood Gillaspay, served as best man, and A. L. Crapo, Klamath Falls, brother-in-law of the bride, gave her in marriage.

At the reception Mrs. Marvin Hamilton, Central Point, assisted by Miss Dorothy Cotton, Phoenix, cut the wedding cake and Miss Audrey Cutbush, and Miss Shirley Loucks, both of Talent, were at the reception table. Mrs. Don Meadow and Mrs. Albert R. Crapo, Klamath Falls, sister of the bride, served at the gift table. Mrs. Lon H. Gay, sister of the bride, Central Point, helped with the guest book.

The flowers and bouquets were arranged by Mrs. LeRoy Gillaspay, Cornell, Calif., Mrs. Robert Fink, Yreka, Calif., Miss Sharon Pestka and Miss

Bridge Bay Schedules Fifth Play

Redding, Calif.—The Bridge Bay Summer theater on the shores of Lake Shasta, 12 miles north of here, starts its fifth production of this season Tuesday, July 23, when Lyle Talbot will appear in "The Best Man."

The productions are held six days each week. Curtain time, except Sunday, 8:30 p.m. Sunday's performance begins at 7:30 p.m. No performance is held on Mondays. "The Best Man" will continue through July 28. Other plays scheduled this season include "Personal Appearance," starring Erin O'Brien-Moore, July 30 to August 4; "Sailor Beware" August 6 through 11; "A View From the Bridge," starring Al Ruscio, August 13 through 18; "Under the Yum Yum Tree," starring Steve London, August 20 through 25, and "Suds in Your Eye" from August 27 through September 1.

This is the sixth season for northern California's only professional stock company. Tickets may be obtained at the theater, 10300 Bridge Bay road, Redding.

Visitor Entertains At Dinner Party

Hornbrook—Charles Ratto, Napa Valley, who is here on an annual fishing trip, entertained a number of his friends at dinner recently at Siskiyou lodge.

Guests of Mr. Ratto were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cooley; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kehrer, all of Yreka; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Giddings, Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Cummins, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Howard, all Hornbrook. Mr. Ratto has been coming here for many years to fish the Klamath river, and years ago stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Howard at the time they owned and operated Camp Lowe, now known as Camp Tioga.

Coffee and music mix well with a unique swing-away turntable that pivots out from a combination coffee table-sterero console.

Activities Noted for Week at Senior Center

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stothers, Ashland, will return to the Senior Activity center Monday, July 22, to show slides of the second half of their trip to the East coast.

Earlier this month the couple showed pictures of the start of their trip from Ashland through Canada to Niagara Falls. This half will continue from there through New York state, Washington, D.C., Annapolis, Md. and into Virginia. The couple returned to the valley through Colorado and Utah.

Persons having slides of trips to show to the Arm Chair Travelers may contact Mrs. Karl Knutson, who is arranging the programs. The committee includes Dr. Frank Roberts, Mrs. Judd Greenman and Mrs. Knutson.

The oil painting class has been meeting this summer under the direction of Mrs. Victoria Staley. New members may join at any time. The group is now working on paintings to be exhibited at Lithia park August 10 and 11, at the annual Greenwich Village Art show sponsored by the Southern Oregon Society of Artists.

No Wednesday Classes
There are no classes on Wednesday at the present, that day being used for committee meetings.

The Senior Center orchestra, which regularly meets on Thursday afternoons, will meet twice this week. The group has been invited by the Red Cross Senior Service club to play for them on Tuesday, July 23, at the Red Cross auditorium and to participate in a potluck luncheon starting at noon. Music will follow the luncheon and cards and other games will complete the afternoon's program. The announcement was made by Mrs. Edith Whitlock, orchestra member and president of the Senior Service club. Mrs. Erma White, club member, will take the place of Mrs. Maude Arnold, assistant orchestra director and pianist, who will be absent. Mrs. Arnold will attend the Home League Camp conference of the Salvation Army at Trestle Glenn near Oregon City.

The regular practice session will be held Thursday, July 25, at the center, 601 East Jackson street.

Herb Society Workshop Set; Festival Plan
A workshop for Rogue Valley Herb society members has been announced for Tuesday, July 23 at 10 a.m., in the home of Mrs. R. D. Abel, Hillcrest road and Cherry lane.

A covered dish luncheon is to be served at noon and a business session is to open at 1 p.m.

Sweet cicely will be the herb of the month and fresh herbs used in cookery will be on display. Mrs. LeRoy Cline will furnish the arrangement on herbs and Mrs. Thelma Thomas will give information from the Herb Growers review.

Roll call will be answered by favorite herbs of members.

Fall festival plans were made at the June meeting when the group traveled to Grants Pass as guests of Mrs. Stephen Counts. A picnic lunch of herb foods was served and the hostess provided an herb dessert and beverages with herbs.

Visiting
Mrs. Richard L. Cannon and her father, Albert Nelson, who have been guests of Mrs. Cannon's half-sisters, Mrs. Grover Corum, 30 Wilamette avenue and Mrs. Ruth Boyd, 723 West Second street, have returned to their homes in Sopkane, Wash. While in the area the visitors were taken to points of scenic interest and entertained at family gatherings and picnics.

Installation Ceremonies Are Conducted

Mrs. Bertha Neff was installed commander of the auxiliary to the Disabled American Veterans in ceremonies conducted last week.

Mrs. Roberta Wolfe, commander of the department of Oregon, served as installing officer and Mrs. George Simmons was conductress for the evening.

Mrs. Neathammer, retiring commander, was presented a gift and pin for her year of service.

Mrs. Lee Turner, state executive committee woman, Grants Pass, poured punch for the refreshment hour. Mrs. Beulah McCuen, third national vice commander, and Mrs. Matilda Baur, first commander of the DAV auxiliary, also attended from Grants Pass.

Mrs. Mary Note, a national vice president of the Blue Star Mothers and Mrs. Mary Fredericks, represented that organization.

Mrs. J. P. Graham decorated the tables for the refreshment hour, and Mrs. Nettie Cassman made corsages for the occasion.

Versatility Is Fashion Note

United Press International
Versatility is the word in summer clothes. The Little Boy Look, the Little Girl Look, the shift, the slink, bright colors, all white.

Men's stretch dress shirts are expected to be the next big promotional "explosion" in the market.

Stepping up front is the set-back heel a favorite in every height from highest to nearly-low.

New stick perfume looks and works like a lipstick. Just turn the base and out it comes.

Colorful news is turn-tan, a soft vicuna hue with a golden glow. Also coming on strong is mallard blue, a deepened green blue. This is to say nothing for moss green, a vibrant yellowed green and wineberry red, a clear, bluish red—all for fall.

Britt Festival Faculty Also To Teach

Jacksonville—Ten of the Britt Music and Arts festival faculty members were announced last week by John Trudeau, musical director and conductor. The festival is scheduled to open Sunday, August 11 when one concert, the beginning of the twilight series, will be presented, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Members of the faculty will be available for teaching during their stay in the valley. Represented are a number of instruments including the flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, trumpet, French horn, trombone, tympani and percussion, piano and cello.

The remaining faculty members, to be announced soon, will represent violin, viola and string bass.

The flutist, Gretel Shanley, is a graduate of Eastman School of Music, a recipient of a Fulbright grant for study at Paris conservatory and is a soloist at the present with Temianka Little symphony and a member of the Amati Chamber players.

Solo Oboist
Peter Christ has been solo oboist with the San Diego symphony for the past three years. His festival experiences have taken him to Aspen, Colo., and Anchorage, Alaska.

Gordon Solie not only is active in the "playing profession" but also in the field of music education. He holds the position of principal bassoonist with the Portland Symphony orchestra and is instructor of bands at Portland State college. He also will serve as personnel manager of this festival.

James Smith has been hailed as one of the country's outstanding trumpet virtuosos. He has been trumpet soloist with the Portland symphony for 12 years, has recorded, worked in radio and television and is a leading exponent of jazz.

Russell White, who plays the French horn, comes from the Los Angeles area where he studied with some of the country's most famous horn players including the well known Philip Farkas. He has been principal horn player with the Portland Symphony for the past four years. He also is a teacher and just prior to this assignment had been instructing at Sun Valley Music camp.

Trombonist Coming
Alan Pierce is bass-trombonist with the Portland Symphony, is a member of the Portland symphonic brass ensemble and is active as a private teacher.

Wayne Mercer, tympani and percussion, received his education at the University of Oregon and became principal percussionist with the Portland symphony. He also is well known in the field of music education.

Margaret Moore is considered a brilliant pianist and a talented composer. She will be offering master classes in piano and composition.

She has been a student of such noted composers as Hal-sey Stevens and Ingolf Dahl. Beverly LeBeck, cellist, is a former student of Plati-gorsky and has achieved fame not only as an outstanding orchestral performer but as a soloist. She has toured Europe, Scandinavia and Mexico as a concert cellist and has been recognized by the internationally known cellist, Pablo Casals, as a gifted artist.
