

Dodgers Top Mets To Ease Pressure; Phils Beat SF; Redlegs Defeat Cardinals

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers were back in the "cat bird seat" today because the bubble burst for the San Francisco Giants and poor Roger Craig can't win for losing.

The Dodgers made the most of six hits Wednesday night to beat Craig and the New York Mets, 5-3, while the Philadelphia Phillies snapped the Giants' nine-game winning streak with a 14-inning 7-3 victory.

It was Craig's 17th straight defeat — one short of the National league record set by Clifton Curtis of the old Boston Braves in 1910.

A walk, a single by Ron Fairly, a triple by John Roseboro and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis in the second inning accounted for three Los Angeles runs and two more singles, an error by New York second baseman Ron Hunt plus a wild pitch by Craig scored two more in the fourth inning. That proved more than enough as Pete Richert, Ken Rowe and Ron Perranoski held the Mets off to nail down the victory.

Combined with the Giants' loss to the Phils, it restored the Dodgers' first-place lead to 4 1/2 games.

Marichal Knocked Out

Juan Marichal was cruising along with a 3-0 lead when the Phils scored a run in the eighth and then chased him with two more in the ninth.

In the 14th the roof fell in for the Giants. Bob Olds led off with a single off reliever Bob Bolin and Don Hoak reached first when Ed Bailey was charged with obstruction on a sacrifice bunt. Earl Averill grounded to Bolin who threw wildly past third, permitting two runs to score and then Johnny Callison unloaded a two-run homer to wrap it up.

The third-place Cardinals also lost ground, slipping to

Snagging of Salmon Serious This Season

Illegal snagging and foul hooking of spring chinook on the Rogue river above Dodge bridge reached serious proportions during the latter part of the spring salmon season, it was reported by the game commission following a systematic survey of upstream holding waters.

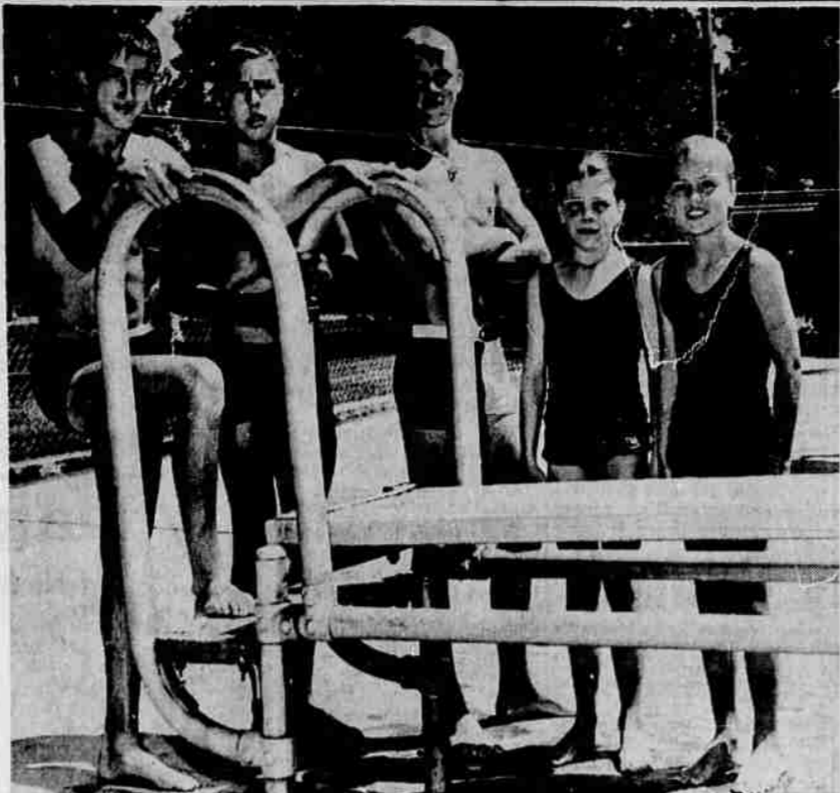

The investigation followed reports by river guides and other interested individuals who spoke bitterly of the death and the other two probably died of snagging wounds. Six other carcasses observed were badly decomposed and fungused, but snagging wounds were thought to be the cause of death of at least one of these.

SCUBA gear was used by game commission personnel to survey some 20 more miles of river between Laurelhurst bridge and Shady Cove. Divers entered each salmon resting hole, counted and observed salmon, and collected fishing tackle from the bottom.

Of around 1,000 salmon observed by the divers, almost 5 1/2 per cent had definite snag marks. Five of the fish observed still had hooks embedded in the flesh. Eight dead chinook were observed but were too badly fungused and decomposed to determine the cause of death.

Of fishing tackle retrieved from the bottom of the Rogue, approximately 60 per cent was legal gear. Tackle which was originally legal but which had been altered by attaching large, treble hooks made up 23 per cent. Tackle retrieved that was rigged strictly for snagging purposes comprised 17 per cent.

From the foregoing percentages of legal and illegal gear recovered, biologist reckoned that if law-abiding fishermen and snaggers lose tackle in about the same ratio, it appears that there is a sizable group of fishermen on the Rogue who attempt to take spring chinook by snagging, foul hooking or other illegal methods.

He could be around national record time here.

Leovich, 15-17 class swimmer for Multnomah AC, is at 15 a top contender in distance freestyle events.

Jim Mason, 15-17, also from MAC, will be another to watch in the butterfly and individual medley. Mason and Leovich have been swimming for MAC since they began in the 10 and under group. They have been outstanding in each age group.

All-American

Medford will enter the likes of Jim Brinson and Bruce Hess, 15-17, and Phil Taylor, 13-14. Brinson was the only Oregonian in the last school year to make his high school All-American. Hess was free style winner in the state long course meet at 100 meters. He was second in the 200 meter medley and in the 100 meter butterfly.

Among the girls to watch are Bobbie Boone, North Bend, and Linda Fairchild, Paula Aleskus, MAC. Miss Boone is one of the top girls in the 11-12 age group and good in the freestyle and medley events. Miss Fairchild, reportedly will contend in the 11-12 group as unattached. She is also a medley and freestyle standout and set 10 and under state records before moving up.

Miss Aleskus, a 13-14 contender, is a leading swimmer in the backstroke and medley.

A large tent has been obtained again to provide shade for contestants. Bleachers will be available for spectators and a concessions stand will be in operation.

The 18-hole medal play tourney will get under way at 9 a.m. following a 7:30 a.m. breakfast.

O'Toole Wins 14th

Jim O'Toole spaced seven hits in gaining his 14th victory against nine defeats. The Reds made it easy for him to snap a personal six-game losing streak by hopping on Bob Gibson for six runs in the first three innings. Pete Rose, Frank Robinson and Marty Keough each had two RBIs for Cincinnati.

Pinch hitter Manny Mota's two-run single capped a four-run seventh inning rally that enabled the Pirates to come from behind and beat the Colts. Bob Friend, with help from Eloy Face, gained his 12th victory against nine losses for Pittsburgh. Reliever Hal Woodeshick (8-6) took the loss.

Ron Santo drove in three runs with a third inning home run and a ninth inning sacrifice fly to account for all the Cubs' runs. Santo's hitting enabled reliever Lindy McDaniel to pick up his seventh victory and saddled Bob Shaw, the last of five Milwaukee pitchers, with his eighth loss.
