Governors Said To Be In Favor Of New Racial Laws

Washington – (UPI) – Many of the nation's governors want Congress to pass a law barring racial discrimination in motels, hotels, theaters, restaurants, and other public facilities, a congressional poll revealed Saturday.

And those who are the chief executives of states which already have public accommodations laws said they are effective although some discrimination persists.

The senate commerce committee, which has just completed five weeks of hearings on President Kennedy's public accommodations proposal, asked the 50 governors to comment.

Six governors testifed in person and 21 others replied by letter. Of this number, 14 endorsed the President's program, eight were non-committal. Five others, all from the South, registered strong dissents.

Twelve of the governors come from states with public accommodations laws, several of them dating back to the latter part of the 19th century.

The were unanimous in telling the Congress that such enforceable laws help break down racial barriers and in some cases lead to a lessening of discrimination in other areas such as housing.

The 15-point code was signed by the governor before he left for Europe and released Saturday by his office.

Discrimination is prohibited in all state activities. An active policy of eliminating de facto discrimination is to be taken.

–State contracts and subcontracts shall include an anti-discrimination clause, which is to be "fully and effectively enforced."

–"Disciplinary action" consistent with state powers is to be taken against businesses licensed or regulated by the licensed or regulated by the state that praactice businesses licensed or regulated by the state that practice discrimination.

Pilot, Passenger Seriously Hurt In Area Plane Crash

Two local men received serious injuries when their light plane crashed near Soda mountain six miles from the summit of the Green Springs Saturday morning.

Al Wright, Ashland, the passenger is being treated at Ashland Community hospital fc. serious head injuries. James Collins, 460 DeBarr ave., Medford, the pilot, is being treated at Rogue Valley hospital for serious head injuries, possibly two broken legs, and chest lacerations.

Helicopter Rescue

The two men were flown out of a canyon by a U. S. Forest Service leased helicopter piloted by Jim Berquist, Evergreen Helicopter, McMinnville. Wright was able to walk. Collins required a physician to be flown in by helicopter before he could be moved.

The plane was flying low over canyons reportedly looking for cattle belonging to Wright.

The state forestry department's Soda mountain lookout reported to her headquarters office this morning that she saw a plane disappear behind a mountain and later saw something glisten in the sun. Binoculars revealed the plane nose down in a canyon.

Crew Hikes In

The forestry department dispatched a 10 man crew which hiked in and a spotter with the helicopter to coordinate air-ground rescue activity.

The helicopter was able to land next to the wrecked plane. No fires resulted from the airplane crash, the state forestry department reported.

Checks Slated for 1958 Unemployed

Salem –(UPI)– Some 360 of the persons made jobless by the construction industry labor dispute in Oregon in 1958 are going to get state unemployment checks for that time.

Announcement that the checks are being sent out was made by Oregon Employment Commissioner David H. Cameron Friday.

The payments come after a long legal tangle over the eligibility of the men which ended with an Oregon Supreme Court decision.

Those who will be getting the checks are members of crafts who weren't directly involved in the labor dispute but couldn't work because it was going on.

Police, Clergymen Curb Violence Of Chicago Outbreak

Chicago – (UPI) – Tough policemen and peace - making clergymen appeared Saturday night to have succeeded in curbing the violence of Chicago's worst outbreak of the decade.

About 200 demonstrators, less than half the throng which milled through the south side neighborhood on five previous nights, moved along the street quietly Saturday night in protest of the move-in of three Negro families.

Most were teen-agers. Police arrested five juveniles and turned them over to their parents. They quickly stopped an outbreak of rock-throwing at automobiles by young Negroes in an area about five blocks to the southeast.

There were hopes that a campaign by police, clergymen and chain - calling by Catholic and Protestant church members had stilled the bitterness and turmoil which has torn the neighborhood since Monday night.

Forty - seven persons were arrested Friday night, bringing the total for the week to 185.

The crowds were sullen, but smaller. Police had feared the night would be the worst of the week.

Instead crowds had no time to assemble as motorcycle officers roared down sidewalks and demonstrators were hustled into paddy wagons at the first sign of trouble.

In Gadsden, Ala., about 1,000 singing and praying Negroes, including children and women with babies in their arms, Saturday staged the largest anti-segregation demonstration in the city's history. Police arrested about 685 of them.

A sheriff's deputy said about 200 of these were juveniles and they were released.

The marching demonstrators were halted by local police and highway patrolmen who were sent to this northeast Alabama industrial city on an urgent basis.

Viet Nam Asked Not To Ignore Buddhists' Rights

Vatican City – (UPI) – Pope Paul VI Saturday called on the Roman Catholic leadership of South Viet Nam, which has been accused of discriminating against the nation's Buddhist majority, not to "ignore the rights" of its people.

The pontiff made no direct reference to South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem's three - month religious crisis when he spoke to an audience of 42 Vietnamese students at European universities. But there appeared little doubt his remarks were aimed at the dispute.

Discover Unity

Pope Paul told the students they must discover that unity is the secret of the church.

"And that discovery will be all the more marvelous inas much as it will show you how this spiritual vocation to unity applies equally to your noble nation, as to others, with this essential priority: that it does not ignore the right, the merits, the characteristic aspects of the country named; that it does not suffocate the genius of the people to which it addresses itself," he said.

Pope Paul was reported to have discussed the Vietnamese situation last month with UN Secretary General Thant, a Burmese Buddhist. But Thant declined comment at the time on whether he had asked the pope to intervene with Diem.

The pontiff told the students Saturday he hopes Viet Nam will give its people "the consciousness of its mission in regard to them and also its inner strength for developing . . . beneficial, cultural, social, and artistic ways."

Rusk Arrives In Moscow, Calls Pact 'Turning Point'

Monday Signing To Be Followed By Discussions

Congressional Leaders On Trip

Moscow – (UPI) – Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived here Saturday for the signing of the partial nuclear test ban treaty Monday with Britain and the Soviet Union, and expressed firm determination to make the pact a "turning point in the affairs of mankind."

Rusk arrived here at the head of a blue-ribbon delegation of State department and congressional leaders shortly before British Foreign Secretary Lord Home arrived from London.

What is needed after the test treaty is signed, Rusk said in a prepared airport statement, was more "step by step progress" in easing world tensions.

'Course Not Easy'

He warned, however, "This course is not easy."

"Nevertheless, the U.S. government and people are determined to follow this course and we come here with hope and resolve to make this a turning point in the affairs of mankind."

Rusk's visit here, the first by an American secretary of state in 16 years, was expected to be hailed by the Soviets as a tangible indication that the West is willing to negotiate to help end the cold war.

This is the theme which Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev stressed when he called for "liquidation of the cold war" following the conclusion of the test-ban negotiations last month.

Rusk and Home are scheduled to talk with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko after the signing ceremonies.

At these exploratory discussions, starting Tuesday, Rusk will investigate Soviet intentions regarding an East-West non-aggression pact in Europe, proposals for preventing surprise attack, the reduction of foreign troops in Germany and other "peace" measures.

The U. S. delegation, included Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, senators and disarmament officials.

The British party includes Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath and parliamentary Under Secretary of State Peter Thomas.

Today Rusk and Home will meet for joint consultations and then dine with Kohler.

Soviet news media have been sharply critical of all those who oppose the treaty including the Communist Chinese, France and some U. S. senators.

USSR Issues Blistering New Attack on Communist China

Moscow –(UPI)– The Soviet Union, claiming its nuclear weapons protect Communist China, Saturday accused Peking of "emasculating" the world Communist movement by refusing to sign the partial nuclear test ban agreement.

The blistering Kremlin attack charged Communist China with taking a position tantamount to advocating thermonuclear war in which "others" would pay with their lives.

The bitter attack, carried by the Soviet party newspaper Pravda, the official news agency Tass, and the government newspaper Izvestia claimed the Russians have "the most powerful nuclear weapons in the world today, the most advanced means of their delivery to any targets."

"This powerful rocket-nuclear shield ensures the security not only of the Soviet Union, but of all the socialist countries, including the peoples Republic of China . . ." the statement said.

The Soviets asked, "who was more competent to be the judge" of the value of the test ban in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water?

"Those who possess nuclear weapons and hold their tests, or others who know about them only from literature," the Soviets said in an obvious reference to the fact that China has yet to develop nuclear weapons.

Pravda said the Chinese mistakenly believe "the center of the world revolutionary movement is where uprisings are the most numerous and where weapons are used the more often."

The government statement on testing said:

"Those who today oppose the prohibition of nuclear tests, whatever verbal contrivances they may resort to, show themselves to be opponents of the line of relaxing international tension and of undermining the forces of aggression and war."

The test ban treaty can be objected to only by people who stand aside from the struggle of the peoples against nuclear war and who cover up with a flashy phrase about the most radical disarmament measures their lack of readiness or desire to achieve disarmament.

"Only disregard of the vital interests of the peoples who have long been demanding an end to nuclear testing could suggest such an interpretation of the aims and meaning of the treaty as the Chinese government seeks to give in its statement."

County Employment In Definite Upturn

Employment in Jackson county took a definite upturn during July, due in part to favorable weather which permitted outdoor work on a full scale basis, according to John J. Patton, manager of the state employment office.

The northwest lumber strike has not affected any local mills, Patton said. Instead, it has resulted in overtime work, aimed at taking advantage of higher lumber prices.

Influx Noted

Patton said a considerable number of men displaced by the strike in other areas have been looking for work here.

During the week ending July 25, the rate of insured unemployment for Jackson county dropped below the rate for one year ago.

Outlook Good

The outlook for employment is generally good for at least the next 60 days, Patton said. The short pear crop will offer less than the usual amount of work in the packing houses.

A heavy demand for pickers is anticipated because scattered fruit results in less production per picker, and consequently more pickers are needed in proportion to the size of the crop.

Patton announced that the employment service farm labor office trailer will be located next to the baseball park at the Jackson county fairgrounds in the same place as last year.

Most Korean War Anti-Repatriates Have Returned to America or Moved to Europe

Washington –(UPI)– On Sept. 24, 1953, Peking radio announced that 23 American soldiers captured in the Korean war had refused repatriation. The U. S. Army at first declined to confirm or deny the claim. Today, the State department and the Defense department say 21 GIs were involved, of whom one has died and 11 have returned to the United States.

All were dishonorably discharged in January, 1954. Two, Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson of Big Stone Gap, Va., and Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Tex., were court-martialed and sentenced to 10 and 20-year prison terms respectively. But the U. S. Supreme Court ruled in 1955 that the Army had no jurisdiction once the anti-repatriates had been discharged.

The Army then released from detention Cpl. Lewie W. Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex.; Cpl. Othox G. Bell of Olympia, Wash., and Cpl. William A. Cowart of Monticello, Ark., all of whom had returned from Communist China to the United States that year.

Ex-Cpls. Arlie H. Pate of Carbondale, Ill., and Aaron P. Wilson of Urania, La., left Communist China for their homeland in 1956, and Pfc. Samuel D. Hawkins of Oklahoma City, Okla., returned the following year.

Returning later were Sgt. LaRance Sullivan of Omaha, Neb., and Sgt. 1/c Richard G. Corden of East Providence, R. I., leading spokesman for the 21 GIs.

Ex-Cpl. Lowell D. Skinner of Akron, Ohio, arrived in Hong Kong last Friday on his way home after 10 years in Red China.

These Remain

The State department said these former GIs remain:

–Ex-Sgt. Albert G. Belhomme, a Belgian national whose U. S. hometown the Chinese listed as Ashland, Pa. (Skinner said Belhomme is an electrician working in Tsinan and that he and his wife, both of whom carry Belgian passports ,are to leave China within a few weeks.)

–Clarence C. Adams of Memphis, Tenn., former corporal last reported to be studying Chinese literature at Wuhan university. (Skinner said Adams now works in Peking in the foreign language press, Peking's principal publishing house for overseas propaganda material. Skinner said Adams has a Chinese wife and two children. Skinner himself left a Chinese wife in China.)

–Ex-Sgt. Howard G. Adams of Corsicana, Tex., last reported working as a chemist at a paper mill in Tsinan. (Skinner said Adams has a Chinese wife and one adopted child.)

–Ex-Cpl. John R. Dunn of Baltimore, Md. (Skinner said Dunn married a Czech girl and has left China for Czechoslovakia.)

–Ex-Sgt. Scott L. Rush of Marietta, Ohio, a lathe operator in a textile mill in the city of Hanyank. (Skinner said Rush married a Chinese and has one child. Rush also is expected to leave China shortly, Skinner said.)

–Ex-Pvt. James G. Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif., a lathe operator in Tsinan. (Skinner said Veneris has a Chinese wife but no children.)

–Harold H. Webb, former sergeant of Ft. Pierce, Fla., reported several years ago to be studying at Wuhan university. (Skinner said Webb married a Polish girl and had gone to Poland.)

–Ex-Cpt. William C. White, Plummerville, Ark., studied Chinese and was last reported working in a commune. (Skinner said White is working at the foreign language press in Peking, and has a Chinese wife and one child.)

–Ex-Cpl. Morris R. Wills, Ft. Ann, N. Y., last reported studying classical Chinese at Peking university. (Skinner said Wills, married to a Chinese with no children, is working at the Chinese language Press in Peking.)

Reported Dead

Former Sgt. Rufus E. Douglast of San Angelo, Tex., was reported to have died in China in June, 1954, of a "heart disorder with complications."

The Chinese originally listed two other GIs as having chosen the Communist side after Korea, but there has been no confirmation of their names here.

Peking listed them as Pfc. Richard R. Tenneson of Alden, Minn., and Sgt. Andrew Fortuna of Ionia, Mich.
