Josephine County Fills Health Post

Grants Pass—The Josephine county board of health has named Dr. Edward C. Wall, Grants Pass, as county health officer, filling the post left vacant this spring by the resignation of Dr. W. J. Moore.

In other action, Thomas Denney, Grants Pass school supervisor, was elected chairman of the board to fill the unexpired term of former mayor Charles B. Gill, Jr., and the appointment of Dr. John R. Boe as deputy health officer was recommended to the board of county commissioners.

Dr. Wall has been in practice in Grants Pass for the past 16 years. Prior to that he served as assistant health officer in Crook county and as flight surgeon with the Air Force in the South Pacific.

Dr. Wall who has been acting health officer on a part-time basis, announced that he would continue in that status until he can complete the change-over from his private practice.
