Californians Entertain Travelers From Abroad

By JOSEPH A. ST. AMANT

Los Angeles — UPI — If you're a tourist from a foreign land and you'd like to have a free meal with a family in the Southern California wonderland, a hospitable chap named Donn Gift can book you — no strings attached.

Donn with his improbable last name of Gift has set up an organization called Los Angeles - at - home and he's got a list of at least 250 Southern Californians who would like to entertain for an evening persons from other countries.

Gift got the idea for his group back in 1945 when he made a trip to Denmark and was entertained in a program called "Meet the Danes." This program was sponsored by the Danish government. Other nations such as Sweden, the Netherlands and Norway do the same thing.

Gift came home and tried to enlist prestigious organizations in sponsoring a similar program here but he had no luck.

So last October he launched one on his own. And with no capital to speak of he has made a good start.

Gift is a radio announcer, engineer and publicist by profession and he has drummed up interest in his project among air lines and travel agencies.

He has received compliments and moral support from the Los Angeles county board of supervisors, Mayor Samuel Yorty and numerous other official groups and individuals.

"The basic idea of my program," he said, "is to enable the average tourist to meet an American family and learn how we live and think. This will in a small way make for better understanding among nations. The only way to get to know a country is to know the people who live in it."

Gift has chosen as the motto of his fledgling organization the Spanish legend: "Mi Casa es su Casa" which means "My house is your house."

Gift has had a good response to his efforts. "People want to be friendly," he said, "and they like to see foreigners."

In the few cases he has handled to date, correspondence has been started among the principals and one family told him they made a lasting friendship.

There's no sweat in this deal, as Gift explains it. You entertain the foreign family for one evening and you don't pledge yourself to spend any great amount of money.

It's strictly a friendly affair and the foreigners and the Southern California hosts seem to enjoy themselves.

PLANE CARRIER—A new concept for aircraft ground handling—moving the plane by carrying it—is shown in model form as proposed by Roy P. Gibbens of the Martin Co. The aircraft taxis on and off the carrier and can be moved at 20 miles per hour. Annual savings per aircraft in fuel now used in taxiing would be more than enough to pay for the carrier vehicle. The model is on display in Washington. (UPI)
