

Morse Wins Seven Fair Championships

Gresham—(UPI)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) won seven championships with 12 entries of Devon cattle at the Multnomah County Fair here Wednesday.

Senator Morse showed the cattle personally. One was a grand champion bull.

MOTHER AND PUPS—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy may give away one or more of the four pups, born to Pushinka, a gift from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The pups, who look like their father, Charlie, the White House Welch terrier, are new members of the White House's growing canine family. (UPI)

Birth-Marks

People write to ask me, "What is a hemangioma? Is it malignant, and what can be done for it in the way of treatment? Does it have to be operated on? A port-wine mark on a baby's face or arm is a hemangioma made of many small blood vessels. In the word hemangioma, hem comes from a word meaning blood, angio comes from a word meaning a blood vessel, and oma means a tumor. Hence, a hemangioma is a tumor formed out of blood vessels. Telangiectasis (tel refers to the end; angi refers to a blood vessel, and ectasia means dilation) means a dilation of tiny arteries. Many an old person has two or three dozen telangiectatic nodules—about as big as the head of a pin—scattered over the skin of his chest wall. Such tiny nodules are harmless and unimportant.

A very dangerous and distressing and hereditary type of telangiectasis is to be found in the nose, throat, gullet, and stomach of a few human beings. The terrible thing about the blood vessels in these tiny tufts is that every so often they break open and bleed terribly; sometimes until the unfortunate person is almost dead. The "tufts" in the nose or gullet that can be seen through a lighted tube can be burned off with an electric needle.

Rarely, many good-sized hemangiomas can be found in a liver, or a single one can be found in the wall of the small bowel. Such a nodule can cause indigestion, pain or bleeding; and then it has to be removed by a surgeon. Usually, hemangiomas are not cancerous. Many of those that appear on the face of an infant are best left alone by plastic surgeons. The "port wine" marks had better not be operated on because the scar may cause as much annoyance as did the purplish spot. A "strawberry" mark should be left alone because it will usually fade within a few years.

Two years ago, after 10 years of untold misery, trying to live with the man, she took her children and left. But the two years were full of torture because the man kept constantly threatening to kill her; sometimes he would come to the house and beat her badly; sometimes he followed her with a gun, and eventually he shot and killed her. As my correspondent says, she realizes now that her sister should have gone far away and dropped out of sight.

Another woman writes me to say that when her alcoholic ex-husband was threatening to kill her for having left him, her brother got an ingenious idea; he told the man that a job had been gotten for him in Hong Kong and gave him a one-way ticket to that city. Naturally the fellow never was able to save up enough to get back home! Hot Springs and Arthritis

Most people assume that when a patient with arthritis takes a course of baths at some hot spring, and feels better, this is because there is something in the water which cured him. Actually, the experts do not believe this. They believe that it is only the heat that caused the joints to feel better and to work better. Also, when a person goes to a "Spa" of the European type, he gets a vacation from work; he usually is put on a diet; he is made to take some exercise, he is given some massage, and he is made to go to bed early. With all this, he ought to come home feeling better.

Dr. Alvarez discusses various treatments for arthritis in his booklet on the subject. You may get a copy of it by sending 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. MMT, Box 957, Des Moines 4, Iowa.

In the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

Well, the nuclear test ban treaty is signed. So—WHAT NEXT?

THIS is the situation: The U.S.S.R. is a one-man dictatorship—and the One Man has signed. That ends it so far as the U.S.S.R. is concerned.

The next move is up to us—and in our case the situation is quite different. In the U.S.A., the treaty MAKING power is in the hands of the President. Our President may enter into a treaty with "the advice and consent" of the U. S. Senate.

But—Before a treaty negotiated by the President (with the assistance of the State Department) can become effective, two-thirds of the senators PRESENT when the vote is taken must agree to the treaty terms.

THE big question now: What will the U.S. Senate do with the nuclear ban treaty that has just been negotiated and signed?

IT'S hard to say. Dissenters on our side instinctively distrust anything that can be agreed upon with the communists. They think that in the very nature of things there must be skulduggery somewhere. How can ANYONE trust a communist?

There is the case of the state of Washington's Senator Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson. In an article in the Sunday New York Times, he appears to say that he is going to vote for the treaty. But he hates to do it, and seems to be waiting for something to turn up that will enable him to vote against it. He is bothered by seven assumptions that he thinks are false and may be misleading us.

SENATOR JACKSON is in the position of the Dakota farmer in Theodore Roosevelt's famous ranch story. Teddy was on his way to town when he met a neighbor. The neighbor's face was long and gloomy. Teddy said to him: "What's the matter, Joe? You look like you had just lost your last friend."

The farmer answered: "I'm goin' to town to get drunk — and GOSH how I dread it!"

Senator Jackson seems to be in about the same fix. There are probably other senators who are sitting on the same hot spot.

THE BIG QUESTION: What SHOULD be done about it?

LET'S put it this way: Only at Hiroshima and Nagasaki has an atom bomb been dropped. The Hiroshima bomb had an explosive force of about 20,000 tons of TNT.

It is estimated that the U.S. has a nuclear stockpile equivalent to 35 BILLION tons of TNT. It is guessed that the Soviet stockpile equals 25 BILLION tons of TNT.

The biggest problem in the world is to see to it that these nuclear stockpiles are never used.

CAN it be done? Well, it had BETTER be done if we want a world for our children to live on.

FBI Arrests Man Wanted in Burns

Columbus, Ohio—(UPI)—FBI agents Tuesday arrested Thomas Gerald Lester, 25, wanted for illegal flight to avoid confinement for a burglary conviction in Burns, Ore.
