

Giants' 'Oldest Backfield' Star In Exhibition Clash With Bears

United Press International
The oldest backfield in pro football prepares to launch another season Saturday afternoon when the New York Giants open their exhibition slate with the Chicago Bears at Ithaca, N.Y.

The Giant quartet of quarterback Y. A. Tittle, 36, flanker Frank Gifford, 33, and running backs Alex Webster, 32, and Phil King, 27, which returns intact from the 1962 season, boasts a combined 36 years of National Football League experience.

Place-kicking rookie Gary Kroner of Wisconsin continued to impress coach Vince Lombardi of Green Bay as the Packers prepared for Saturday night's game with Pittsburgh. The Packers traded defensive tackle Ron Gasset to the Los Angeles Rams for a future draft choice.

Lou "The Toe" Groza gave another fine exhibition in Thursday's drills with the Cleveland Browns. Groza, who has been with the Browns since their inception, has reportedly been "very sharp" since he took off eight pounds before camp started.

The St. Louis Cardinals cut three more rookies—Brian Boulee of Notre Dame, Doug Hart of Arlington State, Tex., and Larry Laster of Auburn—while the San Francisco Forty-Niners finally signed defensive halfback Abe Woodson.

Rookie halfback Tom Neumann of Northern Michigan will be in the Boston Patriots starting backfield Saturday when the Pats oppose the San Diego Chargers in a pre-season exhibition game. Neumann replaces Ron Burton, who is still hospitalized with a muscle spasm.

Quarterbacks Johnny Green and Lee Grosscup of the New York Jets will share passing duties Saturday night against the Houston Oilers, with each signal-caller working a half.

Coach Al Davis of the Oakland Raiders plans to take a long look at receiver Herm Urenda of University of the Pacific in Sunday's game with the Denver Broncos when the Raiders seek their second consecutive pre-season victory.

Shantz, Carmel also had two singles and Al Moran a double to lead the Mets' seventh-inning attack and Charley James homered for the Cardinals.

Homers by Frank Robinson and Tommy Harper paced Cincinnati's John Taitouris to his eighth win although he needed help in the ninth from Bill Henry. Roy Sievers homered and drove in three runs for the Phillies but it wasn't enough to prevent Chris Short from suffering his ninth loss.

Bob Friend scattered six hits for his 13th victory as the Pirates moved past the Braves into seventh place. Bill Mazeroski singled and scored from first base on Donn Cendon's ninth-inning double to hand Bob Sadowski his fifth loss against one win.

SPORTS

Woods, Water, Wildlife

By Hank DeVoss

Sportsmen in several sections of the country are becoming concerned about the linking of national wildlife refuges with comprehensive plans for outdoor recreation, according to the Wildlife Management Institute. Recent recreation-area documents of the Department of the Interior, key outdoor recreation planning agency, appear to be built around two outstanding national wildlife refuges—Chincoteague in Virginia and Kentucky Woodlands.

PEOPLE, NO
Basis for the sportsman's apprehension is the certain knowledge that wildlife refuges cannot support mass recreation without destruction of the natural values for which they were established. The incompatibility of beach buggies and hordes of hikers, swimmers, picnickers, and surf fishermen, for example, already has been demonstrated at the Parker River National Wildlife Refuge in Massachusetts. Human intrusion into the dune and surf habitat has virtually eliminated the once-great colonies of beach-nesting birds that were found there.

ADD—Woods, Water, etc.—old Diamond Lake—There are plenty of fish remaining to be caught and the majority of them are being taken by the stillfishermen. Exceptional luck has been had for the past several days by those drifting a red and white fly (flatfish). Fly fishing has been slow.

Fish Lake—Several limits have been taken every day. The largest fish are being taken on bait, but the fishermen interested in quantity can accomplish his end by trolling. The rainbow seem particularly to lurk in the lake.

Howard Prairie—The pattern is remaining about the same as last week. Stillfishermen in the channel are taking bigger fish throughout the day. Flyfishermen on the flats during the early evening hours are having an active time and occasionally are being hit by a big one.

Haystack Lake—Fishing is about the same in that there are some beautiful, big fish being taken every day by the stillfishermen tied to the snags. Loose fishermen are taking some by trolling with the usual.

Klamath Lake—The big fish are starting to come in. Warren Baker of Odesa Creek took an 11 pounder on FF&W the 29th. Hank Lewis of San Diego caught a 10 pounder on a wobbler the 7th of this month. The lake is up and clear and best luck is by trolling past the mouth of the creeks.

Lake of the Woods—The catching is good on the west side for fish 1 to 17 inches long. Best bet is with FF&W trolled deep.

Willow Lake—The fishing for kokanee is good. Deep trolling with FF&W, FF&F, or FF&pin-n will take fish that weigh up to 1 1/2 pounds. Number 14 pin-n will take fish that weigh up to 2 pounds. Number 15 pin-n will take fish that weigh up to 3 pounds.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER
It's a fond hope that Oregon will see the handwriting on the wall and move to protect the tremendous resources we have. Only by a balanced use of these resources can we hope to make them last through the tremendous pressures of population that seem to be coming. Too many people have no values.

GOOD LUCK!

WILDLIFE, NO
In a second announcement, the Interior department recently told of a new Tennessee Valley Authority program to develop a large Between-the-Rivers Recreation Demonstration area in Kentucky and Tennessee. Heart of the area is the 65,890 acre Kentucky Woodlands National Wildlife Refuge, an important Canada goose and duck habitat, that contains attractive water and associated land areas. It appears that the refuge will lose its identity and be absorbed entirely into the recreation area, whose purpose is to show how local economies can be improved through provision of recreation facilities and opportunities.

IT'S A STEAL
In addition to their being established to protect wildlife, refuges have been acquired, wholly or in part, with revenues derived from the sale of Duck Stamps to hunters. In fact, it was the sportsman's idea to have a Duck Stamp back in 1934 that gave the national wildlife refuge program much needed financial support.

In 1962, Congress gave the secretary of the interior authority to limit public recreation to the wildlife refuges "to the extent that such use is compatible with the primary purposes of such areas." In 11 places that law makes clear that recreation is intended as an "incidental or secondary use" when and where it does not interfere with wildlife protection objectives.

LOOK OUT!
Assateague Island and Between-the-Rivers Recreation area are not the only national wildlife refuges under consideration. The wilderness beaches of such other national wildlife refuges as Back Bay, Virginia; Swan Quarter, North Carolina; Cape Romain, South Carolina; St. Marks, Florida, and Aransas and the Laguna Atascosa, Texas, also may be involved in future considerations.

THE ANGLER'S LOG
Reports from the coast are somewhat conflicting in that the usual pattern of luck is

Jay Allen Tops Tru-Mix 8-0

The Jay Allen Jackson County softball team swamped the Tru-Mix last evening 8-0 in a non-league game at the ball park.

On top of the hitters for Jay Allen were Jerry Shults and Bill Welch. Shults scored once on a home run while Welch was able to count on three singles.

Willie Barnum and Chuck Holcomb were the winning pitcher team. Barnum allowed the Jay Allen team only one hit while dealing two strikeouts. Holcomb took over the mound in the fifth inning and went the rest of the way giving up only one hit.

Also in minor league action at the park, the Keith Schultz squad tromped Colvin 9-1 in a league counter that placed the two teams in a tie for third place.

Schultz, riding in fourth place before Thursday's game, scored five runs in the first inning of play and then remained scoreless until the fifth and last inning when the team counted four runs. Colvin's only run came in the top of the fourth.

Dodgers, Cards Both Lose; Idle Giants Now 5 1/2 Behind

United Press International
Lindy McDaniel received credit for his eighth victory of the year and Ron Santo hit two homers, including a decisive 10th-inning blow, Thursday when the Chicago Cubs slowed the Los Angeles Dodgers' pennant march with a 5-4 triumph.

Both of Santo's homers Thursday were off Larry Sherry—No. 19 tying the score in the fifth inning and No. 20 breaking up the game in the 10th. Al Ferrara, Frank Howard and Bill Skowron homered for the Dodgers who now lead the second-place San Francisco Giants by 5 1/2 games.

The Giants were idle Thursday, but the New York Mets beat the Cardinals, 3-2, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-3, and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 1-0, in other NL action.

Al Jackson ended a seven-game personal losing streak and won his seventh game for the Mets on the wings of Duke Carmel's eighth-inning homer off ex-teammate Bobby

Shantz, Carmel also had two singles and Al Moran a double to lead the Mets' seventh-inning attack and Charley James homered for the Cardinals.

Homers by Frank Robinson and Tommy Harper paced Cincinnati's John Taitouris to his eighth win although he needed help in the ninth from Bill Henry. Roy Sievers homered and drove in three runs for the Phillies but it wasn't enough to prevent Chris Short from suffering his ninth loss.

Peters Wins Sixth Straight As White Sox Dump Orioles

United Press International
Gary Peters is a living refutation of the proposition that three strikes are always "out" in baseball.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, native of Grove City, Pa., Peters "struck out" in three trials with the Chicago White Sox but got a fourth "swing" from manager Al Lopez and is making it pay off with an 11-5 record that finally earned him recognition as a first-rate major league pitcher.

After three years of failure, Peters finally won his first big league game on May 6 this year and since then has worked in the White Sox's regular rotation. He scored his sixth straight victory Thursday night when the Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-3, and he shapes up now as a 16-10 game winner.

The victory enabled the White Sox to remain eight games behind the runaway New York Yankees, who beat the Washington Senators, 3-1, in an afternoon game. The Minnesota Twins whipped the Los Angeles Angels, 3-0, the Cleveland Indians downed the Baltimore Orioles, 2-0, and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, in other AL games.

Ralph Terry pitched a six-hitter to win his 13th game behind a 13-hit Yankee attack that included two hits each by Tom Tresh and Phil Linz, struck out five and was never in serious trouble.

The third-place Twins swept to their seventh victory in eight games behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Stigman, who raised his season record to 12-10. Vic Power had three hits and Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles two each to lead the Twins' nine-hit attack. Paul Foytack suffered his fifth loss against four wins.

Old-fashioned baseball was the name of the game at Baltimore as Dick Donovan pitched a three-hitter and Joe Azcue stole home in the seventh inning for the Indians. Donovan allowed only one Oriole to reach second base and faced only 29 men during the game.

Rock Colavito's 360-foot single past a drawn-in Boston outfield drove in the winning run for the Tigers, who beat relief ace Dick Radatz for the second time in two days and saddled him with his fourth loss against 12 victories. Norm Cash hit a three-run homer for the Tigers and Gary Geiger had three hits for the Red Sox.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by Paul Lea

One of the most famous teams in baseball history was the 1934 St. Louis Cardinals, who were known as the "Gas House Gang".... How many of their regulars can you name? Here they are:

(1B) Rip Collins
(2B) Frankie Frisch
(SS) Leo Durocher... (3B) Pepper Martin... (LF) Joe Medwick... (CF) Ernie Roth... (RF) Jack Rothrock... (C) Bill DeLaney.

Did you know that in the entire history of boxing there has been just one man who retired as heavyweight champion without ever being beaten in a pro fight? The only heavyweight champ who never lost a fight was Rocky Marciano.

Who was the youngest man ever to manage a big league baseball team? The answer is Roger Peckinpaugh, who was only 23 when he was picked as manager of the Yankees in 1914.... Lou Boudreau is the second youngest manager in major league history.... Lou was only 24 when he was named pilot of the Indians in 1942.

I bet you didn't know Paul Lea Motors, Medford's Rambler dealer, has the best crew of service mechanics in all the Rogue River valley to take care of your requirements for any make of car and that you can avail yourself of their service at the lowest price available in the Medford area. Wheeler Defeats Springfield In Softball Tourney

Salem — John Wheeler Logging of Medford took an opening round victory over Springfield in the Oregon Men's Softball tournament here last night.

Wheeler defeated Springfield 2 to 0 and next will play the Corvallis Merchants Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Corvallis beat Salem 6 to 0 last night.

Milan Kurtz hurled a two-hitter for Wheeler, striking out nine and walking two.

Bryant Holds to Denial In Football Rigging Scandal

By CHARLES S. TAYLOR Jr., United Press International
Atlanta — (UPI) — Paul Bryant, his own reputation at stake in a $10 million libel suit, boomed out his denial Thursday that he and Wallace Butts rigged the 1962 Alabama Georgia football game.

"Did you and the plaintiff in this case, Wallace Butts, throw, fix or rig this game, as charged by the Saturday Evening Post?" Bryant was asked.

Bryant sat bolt upright and frowned.

"Absolutely not," he answered, "and if we did we ought to go to jail, and the persons involved should be put in jail because we didn't. Taking their money is not good enough."

Butts, wearing a black suit and a bright red tie — the colors of the University of Georgia where he resigned as athletic director last February — watched intently as his longtime friend denied that Butts gave him information in a telephone conversation which helped Alabama whip Georgia, 35-0 last year.

Sued The Post
Butts sued the Post for saying in an article last spring that he gave key secrets about his own school's football team to Bryant, successful coach of Alabama's Crimson Tide.

The trial was in its fifth day today with a short session planned before a week end recess.

The crux of the magazine story is the report by an Atlanta insurance man, George Burnett, that he accidentally overheard, by an electronic error, a telephone conversation last fall prior to the Alabama-Georgia game, Butts gave the plays to Bryant.

Bryant said Thursday he doesn't remember whether he received such a call last Sept. 13 or not.

But he said in answer to questions by Butts' attorney, William Schroder, that he had had numerous telephone conversations with Butts.

Denied Giving Information
Schroder asked Bryant if Butts had given him any information "relating to the plays, formations or defense to be used by Georgia in any football game with the University of Alabama."

"Absolutely not," Bryant answered.

Schroder put Bryant on the stand Thursday instead of calling Butts as he had announced. He said he may ask Butts to testify today "if he gets a good night's rest and his blood pressure doesn't give him trouble."

He also planned to put All-America Charlie Trippi and Leroy Jordan on the stand when court resumes Monday. Trippi is a former assistant coach at Georgia. Jordan, also an All-America, played with

World's Fastest Boats Ready for Seattle Race

Seattle — (UPI) — Nine of the fastest boats in the world were ready today to toe the mark in Sunday's $25,000 Seattle's Seafair Trophy race.

Two others still were trying to make the grade. Three have been scratched.

Miss Exide, which until a few days ago was gathering dust in Bill Boeing's garage under the name of Wahoo, still was on the outside looking in at the nine qualifiers.

But former jet Air Force pilot Russ Schleeh was planning to make a qualifying run today.

So was veteran hydro jockey Freddie Alter in Mariner Two of Detroit.

Both tried to make the grade Thursday but engine trouble sent the crafts back to the pits.
