

CHEERING WINNER—Spectators applaud Ray Herbert's six-hit pitching performance in the obstacle course race for 10 and 11-year-olds during the annual play day sponsored by the Medford Park and Recreation department at Hawthorne park last week. About 260 Medford youngsters participated in the event, according to Robert L. Haworth, director.

White Sox Defeat Tigers; Twins Top Red Sox In AL Play

United Press International Ray Herbert's six-hit pitching and a pair of two-run spurts off Detroit hurlers Bill Paul and Allen Koch Saturday carried the Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 victory over the Tigers.

Herbert, boosting his record to 11-6, missed his seventh shutout of the season when rookie Pete Ward's error at third base allowed the Tigers to score an unearned run after two outs in the sixth inning.

Herbert walked only one batter and permitted only one Detroit runner beyond second base. He was aided by four White Sox double plays.

Ron Hansen doubled home Dave Nicholson for a Chicago run in the second inning and the White Sox put Herbert in front to stay with two runs in the fifth when Ward singled home Camilo Carreon and Jim Landis.

Koch, taking over in the sixth, filled the bases on a pair of walks and Carreon's single, and then walked Jim Landis to force in a run. Nellie Fox's single scored Herbert with the inning's second run.

In the only other afternoon game in the American league Dick Stuart of the Boston Red Sox hit two homers to take over the league lead, but this did not deter the Minnesota Twins from scoring a 5-3 victory.

Stuart hit a pair of bases-empty homers off Minnesota's Lee Stange to increase his total to 27, one more than the Twins' Harmon Killebrew, Jimmie Hall and Zolfo Versailles hit Minnesota homers.

The Twins scored four runs off Boston's Earl Wilson during the first three innings. Stange was credited with the victory although Bill Dalley was summoned in the seventh and recorded his 12th "save" of the year.

In night games, New York was at Los Angeles, Baltimore at Washington, and Kansas City at Cleveland.

Miles Seeks Promotion Of Youth Baseball Here

Claude (Shorty) Miles, Jackson baseball commission chairman and staunch supporter of American Legion junior baseball, has reported that he would like to meet with interested groups to present facts and figures on what can be done in youth baseball with the fine facility at the fairgrounds the county is constructing.

Said Miles: "There is no question that, with a little cooperation from service clubs, we could have a wide ball program and turn $4,000 to $10,000 a year to some project such as a pet segment of the Bear Creek plan, the blind, or whatever worthwhile project you might name."

Miles reported further that youth baseball is seeing a tremendous rise in popularity. He said that police and welfare workers are finding that it keeps boys busy and, unquestionably, is one of the greatest juvenile delinquency deterrents. "Klamath Falls now has 22 ball parks," stated Miles, "and, to quote our own attorney general, 'they are doing the best job in the state in crime prevention.'"

Draws More Than 30,000. The baseball commissioner also pointed to Roseburg where the American Legion baseball program has drawn more than 30,000 total attendance this season and may go over 50,000.

Miles mentioned the Legion playoffs for the state championship which have been just completed. Play-

Tiger TKO's Fullmer After Seven Rounds, Keeps Title

Ibadan, Nigeria (UPI)—Middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria gave American Gene Fullmer a terrific beating and blood bath Saturday night in their third title fight that Gene couldn't see at the end of the seventh round and "retired" from the bout.

Fullmer's defeat will go in to the record books as a seventh-round technical knockout, referee Jack Hart of England said.

Although 32-year-old Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, suffered the worst whipping of his career, he declared in the dressing room:

"I don't know whether I'm going to quit fighting. It's too soon to decide. I just don't know."

A Mess Gene's face was a gory mess at the end of the seventh from cuts above and below both eyes. But it was a deep gash on the right brow and the river of blood that flowed down into the right eye that caused Fullmer to signal the referee and disclose that he couldn't see out of the right eye.

Fullmer was included with the idolized Tiger in the frenzied cheers of more than 35,000, sweltering in the outdoor Liberty Stadium, when Referee Hart signaled that Tiger was the victor.

The American, who had lost the title to stocky 33-year-old Tiger in their first fight and had held Tiger to a draw in their second, didn't have a chance last night, it was apparent almost from the opening bell.

Tiger lived up to his name and up to the expectations of his admirers as he tore into Gene in every round. And the big difference last night was that Dick wouldn't let Fullmer evade his tanklike attack, which trapped the American again and again on the ropes and had him bewildered and half-groggy in the opening session.

Fullmer weighed exactly 160 pounds, but he had to remove his red boxing trunks at the weigh-in to do it. Dick scaled 159 3/4.

Tiger, who stretched his unbeaten string to 10 straight bouts, including a draw, praised Gene by saying: "This fight was tougher than our first at San Francisco, but not as tough as our second at Las Vegas. At Vegas I couldn't catch him. Tonight I did."

Fullmer, halted for only the second time in his career of 62 fights, seemed half-groggy and perspiring too much from the heat in the second round. And the excited crowd began to sense that he was on the way "out."

In the third round, small cuts began to show under both of Gene's eyes. But Tiger shifted his attack to the body and almost folded him with smashes to ribs and stomach. Gene suffered a terrific battering in the fourth, almost without return, until it seemed that the bell may have saved him on his feet.

Cepeda's Bat Aids In Giant Victory Over Phillies, 7-6

United Press International First Baseman Orlando Cepeda continued his batting rampage against the Phillies Saturday and the San Francisco Giants held off a last ditch Philadelphia rally for a 7-6 victory.

Cepeda picked up three hits to give him a season mark of 22 safeties in 50 appearances against the Phils and a .440 average. His hits plus three each by Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou paced a 17-hit San Francisco onslaught on five Philly hurlers.

Giants starter Billy O'Dell twisted his ankle while batting in the second inning and Bob Bolin who relieved him, fanned nine before he tied in the seventh. Relievers Jack Fisher and Billy Hoft encountered difficulty in quelling the hosts the rest of the way.

A two-run, pinch homer by Roy Sievers in the bottom of the ninth almost pulled the game out of the fire but Hoft retired the last two batters on long flies.

Cepeda tripled home two runs in the first. The Giants added two in the fourth to drive starter Dennis Bennett from the mound and got single runs in the sixth, seventh and ninth.

The Phillies got their first hit in the fifth inning when Clay Dalrymple singled in an unearned run. Bolin allowed another in the sixth on Johnny Callison's double and Wes Covington's single and Tony Gonzalez tripled in two in the eighth.

Stan Musial's ninth inning pinch single drove across the winning run as the St. Louis Cardinals snapped a three-game losing streak by beating the Milwaukee Braves, 6-5.

Hank Aaron's eighth inning triple following Frank Bolling's double tied the score and set the stage for Musial's heroics.

In the only other day game, the Chicago Cubs broke a scoreless tie with four runs in the ninth to beat the New York Mets, 4-0. Ellis Burton's two-run homer and a single by Ken Hubbs accounted for the Chicago scoring as Larry Jackson gained his 13th victory against 10 defeats. Galen Cisco (7-11), who pitched two-hit ball until the ninth, was the loser.

In night action, Los Angeles was at Cincinnati and Houston was at Pittsburgh.
