Doctors Complete Separation of Siamese Twins

Los Angeles - (UPI) - Two teams of surgeons, working against a 36-hour deadline, successfully separated the Siamese twin sons of a teen-aged Glendale, Calif., couple Sunday.

The operation on the day-old boys took three hours. Surgical teams of three doctors each were assigned to each baby in the operation.

Both infants were placed in incubators following the operation.

Born Saturday The boys, Daniel Clifford and David Eugene were born Saturday at Glendale Sanitarium by Caesarian section to Mrs. Rebecca Bartley, 16. She and her husband, William, 19, gave permission for the separation.

The twins were first children born to Bartley and his wife. She was reported in satisfactory condition at the sanitarium.

Doctors said the separation operation had to be performed within 36 hours of the twins' birth to tilt the scales of survival in their favor.

Chances Seen Dim For Adult Literacy Measure in Congress

Washington - (CQ) - Prospects do not look very bright for an adult literacy bill just reported by the House Education and Labor Committee.

A similar proposal died in the Rules Committee last year. It faces the same kind of trouble now - conservative opposition and possible civil rights snags.

Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) is known to oppose most other education proposals generated by the Administration, and he is not expected to approve the low priority adult literacy bill either, Republicans also object to the bill.

The proposal would authorize $70 million to the states over a three-year period to help provide basic educational skills, such as reading and writing, to persons 16 or over who do not read or write English or have not finished the eighth grade.

The Census Bureau estimates that there are 24.5 million adult Americans who fall below this level of education, concentrated in the South and large Northern cities. A large number are Negroes. Oregon has 125,119 persons 16 or over who lack an eighth grade education.

Each state would receive a minimum of $50,000 yearly under the bill and would not be required to match the grants until the third year of the program. Oregon's allotment would be $101,068 for the first year.

The bill provides that funds would be apportioned among the states to give adults an eighth grade education, to finance local agency pilot projects and to improve existing state technical and supervisory services.

Republican Criticism Republican opponents argue that the bill duplicates other pending legislation, specifically an amendment to the Manpower Development and Training Act which would provide adult literacy courses for unemployed workers who need basic education in order to take job training.

Both infants were placed in incubators following the operation. The operation was completed six hours before the deadline passed.
