Strontium-90 in Milk Expected To Show Increase

Washington—UPI—The Public Health Service expects radioactive strontium-90 in milk, already at a record amount, to increase in the next several months.

During the 12 month period ending in May, the count was the highest in the history of nuclear testing and was nearly twice that recorded in May, 1962 the PHS said Saturday. The Federal Radiation Council said the count still was far below the amount which, if consumed annually, would injure man.

At the same time, the PHS said that another radioactive substance sampled in milk, iodine-131, was a record low. A spokesman said this was because iodine-131 has a much shorter life than strontium-90 following a nuclear explosion.

The PHS blamed the unusually high strontium-90 on atmospheric tests conducted last year by the United States and the Soviet Union.

More Material Released

The United States resumed testing after the Soviet Union ended the nuclear test moratorium in September, 1961. Officials estimated that more radioactive material was released at that time than in all the nuclear explosions before the 1958 moratorium.

The council has estimated that a human being can absorb 73,000 picocuries of radioactive strontium-90 in a year before protective action must be considered. A picocurie is one million-millionth of the amount of radiation given off by one gram of radium.

In a statement the radiation council said: "Health risks from present fallout levels due to testing through 1962 are too small to require measures to limit intake by modification of diet or alternating the normal distribution or use of foods."

Waldport Man Dies As Cruiser Capsizes

Waldport, Ore.—UPI—Lawrence Torbert, 63, Waldport, died and another man was saved when their 16-foot cabin cruiser capsized in Alsea Bay Monday afternoon.

An autopsy was scheduled to determine if Torbert drowned or suffered a fatal heart attack.

Edwin Nelson, 52, Waldport, survived by hanging onto the boat until it was towed to safety by another boat. Torbert's body was found caught on the canvas top of the cruiser.

Nelson told the Coast Guard that he was operating the boat when Torbert fell down and went over the side. Torbert was hanging onto the boat and Nelson went to his aid. It was then that the cruiser capsized.

Jackie Kennedy Awaits Discharge

Otis AFB, Mass.—UPI—First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy was looking forward to the President's return here tonight to sign her out of the hospital.

The White House did not announce a definite time for the President's 34-year-old wife to go home. But she was making a fast recovery from the caesarean delivery of Patrick Bouvier Kennedy last Wednesday and the heartbreak of the infant's death 39 hours later.

Friends said Mrs. Kennedy was counting the hours when she would rejoin Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2, at their summer home, "Bramble Tyde," on Squaw Island.

Hunt Pushed for Hospital Inmate

Portland—UPI—Search for Royal Kenneth Hayes, 26, who fled the minimum security building of the State Hospital in Salem Sunday, spread to three states today.

Hayes was committed to the hospital following the fatal shooting of Theodore Robert Ross, 54, a security guard in the Oregon Journal building, in 1962.

Search was spread to Washington and Idaho after police found a car, reported stolen in Salem Sunday evening, wrecked and abandoned near Multnomah Falls on Highway 30 early Monday.

Dr. Dean Brooks, hospital superintendent, said Hayes was not considered dangerous.

HARRY HERSHFIELD, scheduled to be guest of honor at one of the innumerable banquets he attends, stood in front of a mirror in the washroom, straightening his black tie and adjusting his dinner coat. Pinching his cheeks to bring out the color, he asked the attendant, "How many great men do you reckon there are in New York City today?" The attendant answered solemnly, "One less than you think."

Jerome Beatty chronicles a crisis in the career of a great Chinese pundit. Said pundit was giving a lecture to an enthusiastic audience when all the lights in the hall suddenly went out. Seemingly unruffled, he asked the members of the audience to raise their hands. Directly they had done so, the lights went back on. "You see?" beamed the pundit. "Old Chinese saying is no bunk: 'Many hands make light work.'"

Eustace Johnson, of Alabama, explained to his friend Jeb why a collision was preferable to an explosion—if catastrophe had to strike. "It's like this, Jeb," said Eustace. "If you is in a collision, there you is, but if you is in an explosion, where is you?"

Portland Studies Rights of Negroes

Portland—UPI—The Portland School Board Monday night named a 43-member committee, headed by a circuit judge, to determine if Negro students are being denied equal rights in the public school system here.

Circuit Judge Herbert M. Swab heads the committee, which includes leaders in business, labor, professional, religious, and education fields.

Objectives were listed as recommendation of corrective steps if it is found Negro students are denied equal opportunities; to recommend what might be done to improve achievement of students in culturally deprived areas, and to recommend what the school system might do to eliminate unreasoned racial prejudice by school children.
