Summerfield, Twedell, Ellis, Mason Headed CP Studs Stats

Central Point—Darryl Summerfield took the batting average honors and Dave Twedell the slugging honors for the Central Point Cheney Studs American Legion junior baseball team this season.

Table with columns for player name, AB, R, H, RBI, and Ave. Lists stats for Summerfield, Twedell, Ellis, and Mason.

Larry Mason had the top win-loss record in pitching and Neal Ellis the top fielding average.

Physical Exams Next Week for Gridders Here

Schedule for physical examinations and issuance of equipment to boys turning out for Medford high football has been announced by Head Coach Fred Spiegelberg.

Twedell had a slugging mark of .459 and Summerfield had a .386 average. Mason slugged .438 for his fewer appearances.

Equipment will be issued to all lettermen on Wednesday, Aug. 21, to junior non-lettermen on Thursday, Aug. 22, and to sophomores on Friday, Aug. 23.

Luis Alvarez headed the Studs in four batting categories with 89 turns, 25 runs, 22 hits and six doubles.

Spiegelberg's letter to prospective Black Tornado griders concluded: "We are out to defend our conference and state championship. Both Grants Pass and Klamath Falls are loaded, let alone other teams in the state."

Pitcher Larry Pepper faced 235 batters, threw 1,137 pitches, completed seven games, pitched 65 innings and struck out 106 in compiling a 6-2 record.

Admission is charged and concessions are available at the track, Medford speedway is one mile east of Cascade Shopping center at White City.

Ellis had a .974 fielding average as pitcher, infielder, outfielder. Bob Stroh fielded .972 at first base, Tomlinson .967 at first and Summerfield .961 as catcher.

The Black Tornado opens its home season here against Corvallis on Sept. 13.

Alvarez' total of 28 games, his at bats, runs and doubles, Twedell's triples and Summerfield's RBIs, 189 putouts and 203 fielding chances were Studs records.

Table titled 'FIGHTS' listing various fights and winners, including Philadelphia-UPII, Philadelphia-UPII, and Houston-UPII.

The Central Point club in a 19-9 season, hit .237 and fielded .925 as a team.

United Press International The Buffalo Bills completed an unusual trade Tuesday in which they acquired an offensive end but lost a defensive counterpart.

Statistics were compiled by Bob Alvarez.

Repentance Jim Jeffrey Theme in Talk at FCA Conference at Ashland

Ashland - "I preach repentance." That was the theme of juggling Jim Jeffrey, ex-All-Southwest conference half-back for Baylor university when he addressed yesterday evening's assembly of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at Southern Oregon college here.

In a talk on Monday Bob Richards stressed the need for men to match the purposes and plans of God.

"Repentance is not optional. It is mandatory," Jeffrey declared.

The ex-grizzer, now a successful insurance executive began his talk by stating that mass evangelism is more difficult today than at anytime in the past 20 years.

"What a chance" for Christian athletes to witness, he said. But, he added, "we need a spiritual awakening individually."

Jeffrey spoke of the United States as a nation blessed. However, he pointed to the signs of decadence, among them divorce, broken homes, juvenile delinquency, disrespect for law, sex-filled literature. And, he asserted, "We sign our own suicide when law and order dies in this, our land."

For every college student there are three persons in prison, Jeffrey reported on the status of education. For every college coed there are twice as many barmaids.

The insurance man told the athletes that a family is like a building. If the bricks become cracked, the building will fall.

He quoted J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, as saying that juvenile delinquency is a threat to society second only to communism.

He said the natural or un-Christian man has bloody hands, a lying tongue, a wicked heart, wavering feet and an unbelieving mind.

Dr. Roe Johnston, ex-Navy grizzer and dean of the conference, described the FCA as a movement and a channel to make the Church great.

The conference sessions will continue through Thursday evening and will disband after Friday breakfast.

Bob Feller, ex-Cleveland Indian pitching great, is to arrive Thursday morning and that afternoon will give pitching demonstrations.

"Deacon" Dan Towler, minister and former Los Angeles Rams fullback, will be the speaker at the Thursday evening assembly.

He was asked if they were the same notes Burnett made last September, nine days prior to the game.

"No sir, these are not the same notes," Carmichael answered.

Jalopies Race Again On Sunday

Jalopy auto racing will be in full swing again this Sunday, Aug. 18, at the Medford Speedway oval track in White City.

Again, a field of nearly 50 entries is expected in anticipation of thrills and chills created as the older-model stock cars race around the quarter-mile speedway.

As a special feature of this Sunday's show, a ready-to-race jalopy will be given away. Track workers have gutted the car and made it ready to race.

Physicians will be given on Tuesday, Aug. 20, at Doctors Clinic, 1032 West Main st. Times are 8 p.m. for seniors, 8:15 p.m. for juniors and 8:30 p.m. for sophomores.

Equipment will be issued to all lettermen on Wednesday, Aug. 21, to junior non-lettermen on Thursday, Aug. 22, and to sophomores on Friday, Aug. 23.

Spiegelberg's letter to prospective Black Tornado griders concluded: "We are out to defend our conference and state championship. Both Grants Pass and Klamath Falls are loaded, let alone other teams in the state."

Admission is charged and concessions are available at the track, Medford speedway is one mile east of Cascade Shopping center at White City.

The first half of the trade was accomplished in orthodox fashion as the Bills obtained flanker Bill Miller from the Kansas City Chiefs but the deal was equalized when Jim Moss, a rookie standout from South Carolina, was immobilized by a broken ankle in a team scrimmage.

Miller, a former All-American at Miami now in his second year in the American Football league, caught 23 passes for the Chiefs last season as a flanker back but will be used as a split end in the Bills' alignment.

All adult members of the recreation department golf classes held at Cherry Lane during July are eligible for the tournament.

Play will consist of one nine-hole round between Aug. 18 and 25. Handicaps will be figured by a committee of three and winners will be awarded trophies in men's and women's divisions on Monday, Aug. 26.

No entry fee will be charged but players will pay the regular greens fee.

Information on the tourney may be obtained from Bill Mitchell or Andy Kumas at Cherry Lane club. The telephone number is 773-9068.

Mitchell and Kumas also announced that Cherry Lane is now taking family memberships on a year or half-year basis. Those interested may contact them for details.

Depositions Read in Case Of Saturday Evening Post

By CHARLES S. TAYLOR Atlanta—UPI—Attorneys for Wallace Butts planned to read parts of two depositions and perhaps put one more witness on the stand today before resting their case in the $10 million libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

The suit is in its second week before a jury of 12 businessmen in the federal courtroom in the old post office building here.

Butts, whose career as a coach and athletic director at the University of Georgia had spanned nearly a quarter of a century, sued the Post following the publication of a story last March 23 that Butts and Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant conspired to rig the outcome of the 1962 Alabama-Georgia game which Alabama won by the lopsided score of 35-0.

Butts, sometimes tearfully, has denied that he gave away any secrets.

Bryant also has denied the rigging claim and has a multimillion-dollar suit pending against the Post.

The Post said Atlanta insurance man George Burnett had accidentally overheard a telephone conversation between Butts, who has since resigned as Georgia athletic director, and Bryant prior to the game.

Burnett said he took notes of the conversation, a facet of the suit that has drawn considerable testimony from a number of assistant coaches and others during the trial.

A witness Tuesday, Atlanta restaurant operator John Carmichael, challenged the authenticity of the notes.

Carmichael was shown a copy of the notes the Post had introduced as evidence.

He was asked if they were the same notes Burnett made last September, nine days prior to the game.

"No sir, these are not the same notes," Carmichael answered.
