Bears Defeat Redskins 28-26

By United Press International

Rudy Bukich is making a strong bid to steal Billy Wade's job as the Chicago Bear's No. 1 quarterback.

It was Bukich's two touchdown passes that carried the Bears to a 17-7 victory over the New York Giants in their pre-season opener last Saturday.

Wade's understudy resorted to more heroics at Washington Thursday night, tossing a 68-yard scoring "bomb" to end John Farrington in the fourth period that enabled the Bears to down the Redskins 28-26.

Two National Football league exhibitions are on tonight's schedule. The Philadelphia Eagles and the Pittsburgh Steelers, who both lost their openers, tangle at Bethlehem, Pa., and the Chicago Cardinals open their pre-season slate against the San Francisco Forty-Niners at Salt Lake City.

An American Football league exhibition pits the New York Jets against the Buffalo Bills at Buffalo.

Stagg 101 Years Old

Stockton, Calif. —(UPI)— The grand old man of football, Amos Alonzo Stagg, celebrates his 101st birthday here today.

Stagg is the only man in football's Hall of Fame to be honored both as a player and a coach. He has resided at a rest home here for the past few years.

His doctor, F. H. Busher, director of the Amos Alonzo Stagg Foundation, said Stagg feels "okay physically."

Tonight the "official" birthday party is scheduled at Simpson's Restaurant in San Francisco and the public is invited. A huge cake with 101 candles will be served but out of deference to Stagg's lifelong principle of abstinence, there will be no liquor served.

Stagg retired three years ago after 70 years of coaching. He was an end at Yale and was named to Walter Camp's first All-America team. He later coached at the University of Chicago and University of Pacific. During his 57 years as head coach his teams won 309 games, lost 200 and had 35 ties.

Stagg introduced the T-formation, wingback formations, forward pass, man-in-motion and numbering of uniforms.

CASCADE WINS

Portland — (UPI) — Cascade blanked Local Loan of Portland 9-0 in state ABC baseball action Thursday night as Hud Edwards pitched a six-inning no hitter. The game was called at that time because of tourney rules which say a team seven runs behind after five innings loses. A. B. Smith of Portland edged Camas 4-2 in the other game.

Cold New Year's Day Aim of Lions

Editor's note: This is the second of the dispatches sizing up the prospects of professional football teams for the 1960 season.

By HAL MRERTZ

Detroit—(UPI) — The Detroit Lions would rather spend next New Year's on the frigid shores of the Great Lakes than in sunny Florida.

For three straight seasons they have finished second to the Green Bay Packers in the Western Division and have had to settle for the Playoff Runnerup Bowl in Miami.

This year the National Football league's championship game will be played in the park of the Western division champion and the Lions would like nothing better than to give the home fans their first "live" look at a playoff since 1957.

The Lions were 11-3 last season for their best record ever. Their three losses were by a total of only eight points. For three straight years they have split the season series with the mighty Packers.

This year, there will be no "Fearsome Foursome," the defensive front line considered one of the finest in the history of pro football. That group was broken up by the NFL gambling probe that sent all-pro tackle Alex Karras to the sidelines under an indefinite suspension.

Coach George Wilson concedes that Karras will be extremely difficult to replace, but he still believes defense will be the key to the Lions' success.

Three members of the "Fearsome Foursome" will be around to harass enemy runners and quarterbacks—ends Sam Williams and Darris McCord and tackle Roger Brown. They will be backed by perennial all-pro linebacker Joe Schmidt and such deep backs as Dick (Night Train) Lane and Yale Lary, both members of the UPI All-NFL team.

Replacing Karras will be either Lucien Reeberg a 310-pound rookie giant from Hampton Institute, or Floyd Peters, a 255-pound tackle obtained from Cleveland. The defensive line and backfield are solid, although Lane and Lary have been around a total of 22 years and may have slowed down.

Raves For Rookie

A rookie that drew raves as Detroit beat Cleveland, 24-10, in a pre-season game last Saturday, was Larry Ferguson, former Iowa halfback. Ferguson, 5-foot-10 and 200 pounds, gained 43 yards in eight carries.

Ferguson is certain to see a lot of action this year, since the weakest point in the Lions' attack has been the running. Ferguson will attempt to oust Danny Lewis and Bobby Watkins from their halfback spots.

The Lions again will rely on the passing arms of Milt Plum and Earl Morrall. Morrall threw two touchdown passes and Plum one in the victory over the Browns. Plum, a six-year veteran obtained from Cleveland prior to last season, will be No. 1 quarterback. He suffered a knee injury in the Browns game and will be lost for several weeks.

The Lions have several plus factors going for them. There is Jim Martin, the veteran kicking specialist who returns after a year of retirement. There's Pat Studstill, who led the league in punt returns last year. There's Lane, the leading pass interceptor in the NFL.

The Lions figure this is their year, but know they'll have to handle Green Bay to win the title. They meet the Packers in their second game, Sept. 22 at Milwaukee, then get another crack at them in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game here.

Tomorrow—Chicago Bears.

Tru-Mix, Grocers Softball Victors

Tru-Mix Concrete and United Grocers scored second round victories last night in the winners' bracket of the Jackson County Softball association double elimination tournament.

Tru Mix beat Keith Schulz garage 7 to 3 and the Grocers whipped Southern Oregon Dry Kiln 10 to 4.

In a single game tonight, Communication Workers of America encounter Colvin and Associate at 7 o'clock. Winner will meet Jay Allen Cars at 7 p.m. on Saturday. Second game tomorrow will match Keith Schulz and United Grocers.

Three Hits

Homer Sullivan smacked three hits for United last night and Dale Matheny, Jerry Anderson and Dick Meister each two. Blair Antonucci, who was the winning chucker, bolstered his cause with a two-run triple. Dick Kuschel belted a two-run homer for Dry Kiln. He had two hits along with Wayne Gillaspey.

Antonucci struck out 13 and allowed no walks in an eight-hitter.

George Zickefoose slammed three hits for Tru-Mix and Ken Breazeale two. Zickefoose's blows included a homer and a double. Breazeale and Gary Highland also clubbed two-baggers. Don Cain doubled for Schulz.

Jim Reinholz threw a five hitter with three strikeouts for TM. Don Cain twirled a seven-hitter for Schulz.

KF TOURNEY BOUND

Klamath Falls — (UPI) — The Klamath Falls Babe Ruth baseball team headed for Farmington, N.M., Thursday for the national championship tourney. The Oregonians swept to the regional championship at Kellogg, Idaho, last week. They will play Joplin, Mo., Tuesday for their first game in the double-elimination tourney. Ten teams are competing.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by Paul Lea

Do you know who has made the longest hole-in-one in golf history? . . . The record is held by a man who once was a major league baseball player! . . . He is Lou Kretlow, a former American League pitcher . . . In 1961, Kretlow made a 427-yard hole-in-one at the Lake Hefner course in Oklahoma City . . . Most golf experts have called that the longest hole-in-one of all-time.

Here's a fact I bet you didn't know . . . In Ted Williams' first year in organized baseball, in 1936 with San Diego, he batted only .271, and hit NO home runs . . . It proves you cannot always judge a rookie by what he does in the minors.

Do you know how Casey Stengel got his nickname? . . . When Stengel first entered baseball, he told his teammates that he was from Kansas City, and they began calling him "K.C.," or "Casey" after the initials of Kansas City . . . And, needless to say, that name has stuck ever since and become one of the most famous nicknames in baseball history.
