

Charles Gelman Davis, (at left) Portland architect who designed the orchestra shell for the Peter Britt Gardens Music and Arts festival, now underway in Jacksonville for the first season, was present for the opening concert held last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Davis is pictured here with Mrs. Davis and Walter Daggett, Portland, who attended the concert with Mr. and Mrs. Davis. The festival will continue through Saturday, August 24.

Bridge Fans Plan Benefit

Final arrangements have been made for the annual benefit tournament which Medford Duplicate Bridge club will hold Sunday, August 18, at Girls Community club. Funds will go to the Girls' club.

Play starts at 1:30 p.m. and those attending must make reservations for the dinner which will follow.

Eleven tables of players took part in the games Tuesday night at the club. North-south winners were Mrs. Sam Richardson and Ray S. Wise, first 137½; Mrs. Leland Clark and John Shortridge, second, 132; Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. J. J. Finegan, third, 116; Mrs. Glen Harrison and Al Gilhousen, fourth, 112½.

Winning east-west were Mrs. Bernard Hughes and Paul A. McDuffee, first, 132; Robert R. Dickey and Mr. Clark, second, 123½; the William Duhaimes, third, 118½; Mrs. Ben Todd and Mrs. Marion Keim, fourth, 117½.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lake, Klamath Falls, were guest players.

Teachers Visit At Weaver Home

Miss Jean Larson, St. Helens, Ore., and Mrs. Thomas Mountain and her two daughters, Honolulu, Hawaii, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weaver, 841 East Ninth street last week.

Miss Larson is vice principal and dean of girls of the St. Helens High school and Mrs. Mountain is a teacher in the Honolulu city schools.

Miss Larson, Mrs. Mountain (nee Edith Clark) and Mrs. Weaver formerly taught together in the Talent school in Jackson county.

Relatives Visit Green Home; Attend Wedding

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Green, 1786 Brookhurst street, Medford, are Mrs. Green's mother, brother and nephews. They are Mrs. Norman LeGrande, Lubbock, Tex., and Fred Winter and Russell and Brian Winter.

Mr. Winter is basketball coach at Kansas State college, Manhattan, Kan., and is on the staff of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes meeting at Southern Oregon college in Ashland this week.

He will remain over the week end to attend the wedding of Miss Patricia Bigham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barry B. Bigham, 1208 Murray avenue, Medford, to the Greens' son, Kenneth.

The wedding is set for this evening at the Church of Christ, Medford, at 8 o'clock. A reunion of the Green family will be held Sunday.

Dancers Cancel Event Saturday

Applegate - Upper Applegate Square Dancers will not hold the usual open dance on the third Saturday this month, because of the Far Western square dance jamboree being held in Eugene.

The Wednesday night workshop will start again August 21 and continue regularly through fall. All square dancers are welcome.

Portland Pair Attend Festival

Ashland - Guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Herndobler, 1500 Oregon street, were Mrs. Herndobler's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Neilson, Portland. The visitors attended one of the Shakespearean plays before continuing their vacation to Bend.

Rose Gardens Made Ready for Festival

Armed with pruning shears, spray guns, and hoses, members of the Medford Rose society gathered at the Old Rose gardens in Jacksonville last week for a clean-up session in preparation for the Peter Britt Music festival.

The Old Rose garden was planted by members of the Medford Rose society and given to the city of Jacksonville with the proviso that the city would water and maintain the garden, the Rose society to do the pruning and spraying.

Located near the old Methodist church on Fifth street, across from the Jacksonville museum, the garden contains over 150 bushes of old rose varieties. Some of the bushes are from the Joseph B. Kern Rose nursery, Mentor, O. Some from Will Tillotson's roses, Watsonville, Calif., and others from the private gardens of various individuals interested in the culture of old roses.

Participating Members participating in the work brigade were Vaughn Quackenbush, society president, and Mrs. Quackenbush; and the Harold Axtell, charter members of the Medford Rose society. Mr. Axtell is an apprentice rose judge and chairman of the fall rose show. He is also a grower and exhibitor of old garden roses. Mrs. Axtell is an accredited rose judge, member of the national committee on old garden roses and consulting Rosarian. Other Workers

Clarence Miller, past president, and Mrs. Miller, tea chairman for the June show; Mrs. Edith Updike, consulting Rosarian and well-known rose grower, exhibitor and trophy winner, and Mrs. Ruth Boyd, charter member and first secretary for the society and general chairman for the June rose show, were the other workers in the group.

Later in the evening the group met at the Boyd home for a picnic supper in Mrs. Boyd's pink rose garden.

Shower Honors Talent Woman

Talent - Mrs. Charles Myers and Mrs. Tim Hunt were co-hostesses recently for a shower honoring Mrs. Charles Van Blarcom, at the Myers home on First street.

Because Mrs. Van Blarcom was unable to attend, the gifts were left unopened to deliver to her later. Games and refreshments were provided for the guests.

Attend Reunion

Talent - Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sommer, Holton road, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Leon Lockwood, Wagner creek, attended a family reunion recently at Scio. About 60 members of the Sommer family attended.

Calendar

Friday: 8 p.m. - Weatoka council, Degree of Pocahontas, Redman hall.

Mrs. Ruby Ralston, (center) Medford sculptress, was honored at a reception given to open the first show at Rogue gallery since renovation of the interior was completed several days ago. The current exhibit at the gallery, 220 West Main street, includes a number of works and sketches by Mrs. Ralston. Pictured with the sculptress are Gary Hendrix, art teacher at Hedrick Junior High school who arranged the show, and Mrs. Hendrix. The teacher is being praised for his ingenuity in combining the sculpture, pottery and a group of paintings from Medford's sister city, Alba, Italy, into a most pleasing arrangement. The gallery is open to the public Monday through Saturday from 1 until 4 p.m. without charge. Because of its variety, and because of the special interest in the work of the Italian artists, the exhibit is attracting more than the usual attention.

Russell White, principal horn player with the Portland Symphony orchestra, is also principal hornist for the Peter Britt Gardens Music festival now underway in Jacksonville. Earlier this summer he was on the faculty for the Sun Valley Music camp in Idaho. The orchestra is scheduled for concerts tonight at 8 o'clock, Saturday at 4 and 8 p.m. and Sunday at 8 p.m. The Festival choir, directed by Lynn Sjolund and made up of valley singers, will present a concert Sunday at 4 p.m. For the Sunday concert, Mr. White will be soloist for a Mozart concerto for orchestra and French horn.

Talent Women's Club Holds Work Session

Talent - Eight members of the Talent Federated Women's club held an all-day work session recently at the home of Mrs. John Baldwin, North First street, to fold bandages, to be distributed by the Jackson County Cancer society, to cancer patients.

With time out for a picnic lunch at noon, the women folded 400 small and 400 large pads. This was a special work session because of the need for such pads.

Talent Federated Women's club is a member of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs.
