Grange News

Phoenix Grange
At the last meeting of Phoenix Grange, Mrs. Harland Glasscock asked members to save large paper bags for the rummage sale planned for Sept. 13. It was suggested that articles for the sale be gathered now; also those who preferred could bring them to the hall at the meeting preceding the sale.

Mrs. and Mrs. James R. Prior were elected members and will receive the first and second degree work at the next meeting.

Cattle prices have dropped slightly, according to Charles Hockersmith. He said that anyone interested in the calf project may contact the Grange Co-op at Central Point for the details. It was reported that the potato crop will be small this year because of the freezing weather during the spring.

Mrs. L. R. Thomas stated that it is now time to separate and replant primroses. The legislative report by Melvin Lattie included that the federal income tax is fairly certain to be reduced after Jan. 1. He mentioned how the Civil Rights program is affecting some schools in the East. He also stated that the State Grange and the Pomona Grange are opposed to the Oregon state tax referral petition. He explained how school districts could be affected if special elections are necessitated.

Laugh and a c k e n b u s h shows a display of arrows which were found on the Hanley farm at Jacksonville and told about the Indians of this locale. They were known to be some of the finest craftsmen in the United States.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stancliff.
