Attack of Boston Patriots Must Be Entirely Revamped

(This is the ninth of the dispatches sising up the prospects of professional football teams for the 1963 season.)

By DICK DEW
Boston—UPI—Boston Patriots coach Mike Holovak may not be the unluckiest guy in pro football but he sure stands high on the list.

Holovak, about to launch his second full season as Patriot coach, saw his team push Houston right down to the American Football league wire last season.

But just at the crucial moment, he lost veteran quarterback Babe Parilli to a shoulder injury—and the Patriots dropped back into the second place berth they had occupied the year before.

Dame Fortune didn't wait for the 1963 season to open before dealing the Pats their latest stroke of bad luck. This time, it was former Northwestern All-American Ron Burton, coming into his own as "one of the best running backs in pro football," who was knocked out by back injury in an exhibition game at Oakland.

One of Greatest
"I am convinced that Ron has one of the greatest potentials in football today," Holovak said. "He had become one of the most feared runners in our league last season."

"We still don't know when Burton will play football again. I don't think he'll be back this season—certainly not before the final few weeks at the earliest.

The big question is where do the Patriots go from here. With just about two weeks remaining before their opening game Sept. 8 against the New York Jets, the entire Patriot attack has to be revamped. Says Holovak:

"Right now, I can't even name my starting backfield for the first game. Oh, Parilli will be at quarterback but beyond that, your guess is just as good as mine."

A fair bet on the opening backfield would be Larry Garron, Jim Crawford and the veteran Jim Colclough at flankerback. Then there are one veteran, fullback Nilly Lott, and three rookies still in the running.

Harry Crump of Boston College is the fullback hopeful while Al Snyder of Holy Cross and Tom Neumann of Northern Michigan are the halfback bidders.

Some Prospects
While there are three promising newcomers still fighting for backfield jobs, the best Patriot yearling prospects are at other positions. They are former Boston college end Art Graham, a collegiate pass-catcher of national rank, and former Dartmouth lineman Don McKinnon, a linebacker aspirant. Graham, however, missed about half the pre-season schedule with injury.

The Patriots have one good job battle despite all their injuries that's at split end where Gino Cappelletti, one of the league's top scorers for two seasons, is being challenged by Graham and former National Football league scoring tight Bobby Walston. Boston, loser, of all three exhibition games, has always had severe defensive backfield problems and it's complicated this fall by injury to veteran cornerback Don Webb. He may miss the start of the season thus shaving the secondary forces to Ross O'Hanley, Bob Mirabelle, another yearling from Norwich, Ron Hall, Dick Felt, Jimmy Field and rookie Dick Williamson from Alabama.

Giants' 12th-Inning Run Gives 4-3 Win Over Reds

United Press International
Chuck Hiller lined a bases-loaded single in the 12th inning Saturday to score Felipe Alou with a run that gave the San Francisco Giants a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

John Tsitouris of the Reds pitched 11 1/2 strong innings before he hit a wild streak in the 12th and loaded the bases by hitting Alou and Jose Pagan and then walking pinch-hitter Norm Larker. Al Worthington was summoned from the bullpen and struck out Harvey Kuenn, but Hiller then delivered the game winning hit.

WANTED! MEN - WOMEN

Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay as high as $446.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

The Reds got a run in the fourth on Don Pavletich's homer and tied it up in the fifth on a double by Kasko

Don Larsen, who went in to relieve starter Billy O'Dell in the fifth inning, got credit for the victory. He went 7 1/2 innings—longest period on the mound since he joined the Giants two years ago—and only allowed two hits.

The Giants picked up a run in the second inning on singles by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda, followed by Ed Bailey's double play ball. The Reds came back to even it in the third on a double by Chico Cardenas and singles by Eddie Kasko and Pete Rose.

San Francisco scored two in the third on a single by Kuenn, a double by Hiller, followed by a two-out single by Mays, that completed the Giant scoring until the 12th.

GOVERNMENT WORKERS
New York—UPI—By 1980 there will be one civilian working in government for each four privately employed, says the Chase Manhattan bank. Chase said a record 9 1/2 million were in federal, state and municipal employ last year, or 13 1/2 per cent of the nation's work force.

and singles by Tsitouris and Rose.
In the only other day game played in the National league, the New York Mets defeated the Chicago Cubs, 50, on Carlton Willey's six-hit pitching. Jim Hickman, the game's first batter, hit a home run, and Willey bunted home another run in the fifth against Cal Koonce. Willey struck out only one batter but did not walk any. The win was the Mets' 41st of the season and enabled them to pass last year's total.
