

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counselors and social workers. Edited by Mrs. Alma Denny. (Copyright by General Features Corp.)

Mrs. K.F. - It seems a shame to turn down such a wonderful home.
Mrs. E.L. - We tried it. Hold on to your own home no matter what.

Mrs. K.F. - Our son plans to purchase a 13-room house, specially designed for two generations of the same family. It's in a new community and the whole idea sounds great - my husband and I would occupy the 3 - room apartment set off in a separate wing, yet we'd all be under one roof. But my friends warn against it.

Mrs. E.L. - In theory that togetherness proposition sounds perfect but my husband and I fell for it and we've regretted it. Instead of taking it easy in our later years, we find we've taken on our children's burdens and responsibilities. When they can't meet a payment, we handle it. And we're captive baby-sitters.

The Council: Before giving up their sovereign rights as householders, Mr. and Mrs. F. should weigh the cons, presented by Mrs. L., against the pro's pressed on her by her son. It's true that no two cases are alike, but elemental self - preservation demands that she see the possibility of being "used" and exploited

Band Uniforms Ready For Crater Students

Central Point-Crater High school band members may check out uniforms starting at 9 a.m. Sept. 4 in the Crater band room, Norman Carothers, music director, has announced. Upper classmen are asked to get their early to insure a good fit. Ninth graders will check out their uniforms Sept. 6. All band students are urged to be outfitted before classes begin Sept. 9.

by the young folks. She'll trod the fussy line between "business" and "family," being a tenant and a partner at the same time. Often it is pure selfless love which causes grown children to issue such an invitation. Many's the parent who gets hornswoggled into serving as maid, errand boy, loan officer and general flunkie, all in the guise of "togetherness." . . . The two-in-one home fares best where all concerned are self-sufficient, and where "gentlemen's agreements" are clear (preferably, in writing) as to the autonomy of each family - kin or no.

Howard Lage at Meeting in Portland

Keynote speaker at the meeting was Arthur Flemming, president of the University of Oregon. Flemming is a member of the Muscular Distrophy association's national board of directors.

Covered in discussions at the conference were workshops on clinic programs, research developments, physical therapy treatments and all phases of fund raising.
