Blackberry Pickers Cautioned on Spray

Jackson County Weed Control Supervisor Ray Hubbell this week advised blackberry pickers to pick in other areas than along county roads since crews are now spraying for blackberry control.

The sprays used are non-toxic and would not harm anyone eating them, but a few people may be allergic to certain sprays as the 2,4-D and the 2,4,5-T used, he said.

Those people still worried could put their berries in deep freeze and watch the bushes picked from to see if they
