New Jiffy Patterns Explained

If you think sewing is a project that's too time-consuming, get acquainted with the special new patterns now on the market. They're designed especially for people like you... and they're also ideal for those who are just beginning to sew.

Called "jiffy" patterns, they feature either two or three main pattern pieces... which means that seams are kept to a minimum. And sewing steps have been simplified to make it easy and quick to whip up an outfit in no time at all!

These special designs are offered in a wide variety of styles, including shifts, jacket dresses, sports separates, and even coats. In a season when simple silhouettes are enjoying such success, these patterns are a natural.

Here are some other tips from the National Cotton Council to remember when sewing time is at a premium:

Miniature Roses Make House Plants

New York — UPI — Miniature roses in clay pots make attractive and fragrant house plants. They need sunshine, humidity and a moderate temperature to bloom continuously over a long period of time.

The porosity of their clay pots will give these flowering plants a chance to "breathe," keep roots cooler and insure against overwatering.

Drifting Off

Chicago — UPI — Researchers into sleeping habits report that most persons literally do "drift off" to sleep, very likely several times before reaching a so-called sound sleep. This drifting, reported by a bedding manufacturer, goes on through the night, changing from light to moderate to deep sleep and back again. "Wavy," they call it.

Automobile Record Set; Two Need Beauty Shop

New York — UPI — Like weary women travelers anywhere, one of the first things Paula Murphy and Barbara Nieland did at the end of their trip was head for the beauty shop.

"We really needed Dache by the time we got here," said Mrs. Nieland.

The two at 11:40 p.m. (EDT) Sunday pulled their car up in front of New York's city hall and thus set an automobile record from Los Angeles to New York. They covered 2,932.2 miles in 49 hours and 48 minutes, including fuel and food stops. They averaged 59.13 miles per hour.

The cross country run was made at legal speed limits — the highest limit they found on the whole southerly route was 75 miles per hour. It is supposed to be the first run between the two cities to be sanctioned officially, observed, and timed by the United States Automobile club (USAC).

To Submit Record

The record of the run will be submitted to the Federation de l'Automobile, Paris, the international governing body for vehicle speed records, according to Bill Carroll, an automotive writer.

Carroll served as team captain and alternate driver on the trip which began in Los Angeles Friday, August 23. They drove a hardtop sports-type car, American make, and were accompanied by a station wagon.

In all, there were eight in the two-vehicle group — the two women drivers, Carroll, the three drivers who took turns at the wheel of the station wagon, and two USAC observers.

The schedule in each 24-hour period gave each driver of the sports car four hours at the wheel, four hours navigating, four hours driving, four hours navigating, and eight hours to sleep — in the station wagon.

Interviewed shortly after their arrival in New York, Mrs. Nieland and Miss Murphy told how they figured out the problem of privacy when the station wagon served as bed for anyone off duty.

Bundling Board
"There was the neatest foam rubber, upholstered bundling board you ever saw," they laughed.

Incidentally, as a souvenir of their trip, the men will get miniature bundling boards "which may be worn in the lapel as a sign of suffering."

"What do the two women get besides the motoring honors?" "Dollars," said Mrs. Nieland candidly.

Mrs. Thelma Fox Guest of Family

Ashland—Mrs. Thelma Fox, Hollywood, Calif., formerly of Ashland, visited over the week end with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Deller, 279 Scenic drive, who had been vacationing for two weeks in California. Mrs. Fox returned to Hollywood by air Tuesday.

In Detroit, they were entertained by Mrs. Kelly's brothers, Dr. C. E. Dunn and Gay Dunn, and families, and were joined there by a cousin, Sister Mary Therese of Siena Heights college, Adrian, Mich. They also visited in Bay City, New Baltimore and at Burt lake in Michigan and in Chicago.

Doll Collector Returns Home

Mrs. Neil Davidson has returned to her home on Lenora drive after attending the annual convention of the United Federation of Doll Clubs, Inc. Mrs. Davidson, who has an extensive doll collection, is a member-at-large of the federation.

The sessions were held at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles last week with about 500 collectors attending.

Mrs. Davidson reports that 10 outstanding doll artists had arranged an unusual display, the first since the artists organized a new group. She purchased about 15 dolls to add to her collection. One is an original Lewis Sorensen doll, a Jamaican calypso singer doll done in wax. Another is a portrait doll by Halle Blakely, and still another by Ellery Thorpe, both of Los Angeles. Mrs. Davidson also purchased some French dolls.

The Medford collector displays her rare dolls from time to time for benefits and charities.

Pick one-piece rather than two-piece dresses, and especially one-piece dresses without waistlines. Select styles that are sleeveless or have kimono-type sleeves rather than those with set-in sleeves. Stay away from cuffs or shirtsleeves.

Designs with few details are also faster. Select patterns with a minimum of darts, collarless necklines, and softly gathered skirts rather than pleated ones.

Uncomplicated construction is another important consideration. For example, coats and jackets that are lined in the edge take less time to make than those with both facings and linings.

And remember, that solids, tiny checks, and over-all prints need no matching or alignment.

Because color is closely related to emotion, some psychiatrists say that the colors you like may tell much about your personality.

Here's a short-sleeved shift that can be made in a hurry. Bold printed material suits the easy lines of the dress, which has a string tie. The simplicity pattern also includes a clutch bag.

Riedel Sisters Visit Ashland

Ashland—Visitors in Ashland last week were Connie Ruth and Susan Riedel of Wenatchee, Wash., daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. E. Paul Riedel. They were entertained at many parties by members of Grace Lutheran church, where their father was pastor for several years.

Connie Riedel will enter Concordia college, Portland, next month. Miss Ruth will be a senior and Miss Susan a sophomore at Wenatchee high school.

Valley Group To Hold Picnic

Rogue Valley Home Economists in Homemaking plan the annual picnic Thursday, August 29, at the home of Mrs. Robert Little, 1700 Lenora drive, Medford.

Swimming at 5 p.m. will be followed by dinner at 7 p.m.

It's In The Bag

New York—UPI—New frozen boil-in-bag vegetables are vacuum-packed with lightly seasoned butter sauces. Cooked as the labels direct, they have the texture and flavor of fresh vegetables.

Cooking time ranges from 12 minutes for sliced green beans, Italian green beans and whole kernel corn to 16 minutes for baby lima beans and broccoli spears. Tiny peas and whole kernel corn with sweet peppers cook in 14 minutes each. Baby brussels sprouts will be available in the fall. Each package is designed to serve 2 to 3 persons.

Overweight people are apt to be either unhappy or immature, according to three medical researchers who surveyed the records of 1,660 people.

Sylvia Family Holds Reunion In California

Hornbrook—Brothers and sisters and other more distant family members who had not seen each other for almost half a century were reunited recently when members of the Sylvia family held a series of reunion events.

The arrival of a brother who had left for the East 43 years ago sparked the occasion, which began with a potluck dinner in the Yreka city park, and which some 30 family members attended. After his long absence, the return home of Charles Sylvia and his wife, Pearl, from their home in Addison, N.Y., brought about the "gathering of the clan." In addition to the picnic in the park, the visitors joined in a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Michels in Yreka, and a barbecue dinner for all the family group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith in Hornbrook.

The visitors spent one day in Dunsuir with relatives, and later toured the Mt. Shasta Ski bowl. Another day was spent in Happy Camp. Brothers and sisters of Charles Sylvia attending the various events were John Sylvia, Hornbrook; Albert (Bert) Sylvia, Happy Camp; Jess Sylvia, Dunsuir; and Mrs. Mary Lieurance, Redding, Calif.

Four other sisters, all of whom live at a distance, were unable to attend. The location of one brother, Joseph R. Sylvia, is unknown, and another brother, Frank, was killed four years ago in a car accident. His home was in El Paso, Texas. All eleven of the children were born in Hawkinsville, just north of Yreka, to pioneer parents of that area. Of the eleven, John, of Hornbrook, is the only one who has remained a rancher. Charles is a barber and has his own shop in Addison; the others have turned to various lines of endeavor. The visitors from the East remained in the area for ten days before returning home.

In Idaho

Hornbrook—Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Shelly, his brother, Frank, Sunnyvale, Calif., and Mrs. Shelly's grandson, Joseph Duarte, San Pablo, Calif., made a trip last week to St. Mary's, Ida., on Lake Couer d'Alene.

Return

Ashland—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Peters flew back to Portland on Monday after spending several days in their Ashland home. During their stay they attended the wedding of Ron Baker and Dixie Revel Saturday evening.

Close to 1.6 million American women will marry this year, some 200,000 of them during June, the Population Reference Bureau reports.
