SIT ON SIDEWALK—Vietnamese students and Western sympathizers sit on sidewalk of Boulevard Jourdan outside University of Paris Tuesday in a 24-hour hunger strike to protest alleged persecution of Buddhists in South Vietnam. Demonstration, conducted in complete silence, was to have been held on the grounds of the university, but officials refused permission. (UPI)

First Public Testing of State Voting Device Held

Salem — (UPI) — The first public testing of a voting device in Oregon history got under way here today at the state fairgrounds.

The test could pave the way for a revision of balloting procedures throughout the state.

Jack Thompson, elections supervisor for the secretary of state's office, encouraged fairgoers to "come early and vote often."

Two polling places have been set up on the fairgrounds, one near the administration building, and the other in the natural resources building, Thompson said.

Each polling place will have three of the voting devices, two for balloting, and one for instruction. Each of the booths will be open from noon to 8 p.m. each day of the fair, and will be manned by two representatives from the secretary of state's office.

Punch Holes

The small portable devices hold a special data processing machine card. Voters punch holes in the cards to register their choice.

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. has termed the device, called a "Votomatic," the most significant advance in balloting procedures since biblical times.

The punched cards will be fed through data processing machines which will electronically tabulate results.

The ballot being used during the state fair test was designed to give voters a chance to express an opinion on vital state issues. Another section of the ballot will enable an evaluation of the answers, and a third section will test public reaction to the new balloting method.

The issue questions are:

- 1-If state taxes are to be increased, the methods I favor are: (vote for two); state property tax, increase present income tax rates, sales tax, net revenues tax, cigarette tax.
- 2-Should capital punishment be abolished in Oregon (vote for one); yes, no.
- 3-Too many students of colleges and universities. I favor: (vote for one); higher entrance requirements, increases in student tuition, increases in state taxes, more community colleges, bond issues.
- 4-Should Oregon adopt a new state constitution as proposed to the last legislature (vote for one); yes, no.

The evaluation section will tabulate age groups, sex, and political party affiliation.

The reaction section asks the voters' opinion of the voting method, and whether they think it should be adopted in Oregon.

Appling has been seeking a foolproof, inexpensive method of modernizing balloting procedures for several years.

He said the machine could provide quicker returns, more accurate tabulation, and result in a major cut in election costs.

If the state fair test proves successful, Appling may arrange a one-county test of the method at a regular election sometime next year.

Area's Berry Crop Reported Poor in National Forest

The most optimistic report on fishing and berry picking in the Rogue River National forest comes from the Prospect district this week in the announcements issued for the benefit of recreationists by the Medford office of the forest service.

Fishing is fair to good on the Prospect Ranger district and there are scattered berries, both blackberries and huckleberries, at higher elevations.

Reports from the Union Creek, Butte Falls, and Ashland ranger districts describe fishing as "poor to fair."

Blackberries are reported good in lower areas of the Butte Falls district, but generally the berry crop is described as poor. Huckleberries are poor, and picking is slow in most areas of the forest.

Wildflowers are still an attraction on the Applegate district. They are in full bloom around Dutchman peak.

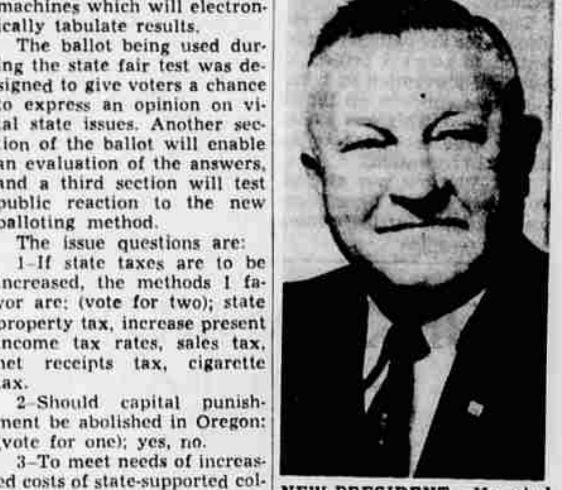

Construction is continuing at Seven Lakes Basin on the Butte Falls Ranger district between Grass Lake and Middle Lake, and from Devil's Peak south toward Devil's Lake.

All roads are open on the Butte Falls, Prospect, and Union Creek districts, but motorists are warned to be on the lookout for heavy logging traffic on weekdays.

Roads listed in this category are Woodruff Creek, Abbott Creek, Kitter Creek and Woodruff access roads on the Prospect district; County Line, Wizard Creek and Prairie Creek on the Union Creek district; Lodgepole on the Butte Falls district, and Thompson Creek and Sturgis on the Applegate district.

Elliott Creek road is closed and there is moderate logging traffic on Beaver Creek, Middle Fork, Glade Creek and Carberry.

All trails are open on all four districts. The going is still rough where the blow-down has not been cleared, but the trails are open.

Should Use Real Sandpaper

FTC Landmark Cases Cut at Very Fiber of Commercial Integrity

By DICK WEST

Washington — (UPI) — The vigilance exercised by the Federal Trade Commission in protecting consumers from a landmass of commercial integrity is being eroded by a line of waterproof watches that cannot withstand a heavy duty.

But every now and then, the commission turns up a landmark case that cuts through to the very fibers of commercial integrity.

One such case was its far-reaching decision that when a shaving cream company demonstrates its product by shaving sandpaper in a television commercial, it ought to use real sandpaper.

Recently, after a period of relative calm, the commission posted yet another milestone. It ruled that when a plate glass company is demonstrating the transparency of its product in a television commercial, it ought to use real glass.

These three cases undoubtedly will stand as monuments, but even so they failed to prepare me for what was coming next. The commission now is considering a case that cuts through to the warp and woof of Western society and particularly the wool.

A final ruling is not expected for some time, but the implications of it made me gasp. If the initial allegation is upheld, it may force a book publisher to retract a blurb.

Profound Effect

Do you catch the significance of that? It could have the most profound effect on the literary world since the invention of the four letter word.

Should this case establish a precedent, the blurbs that appear on the dust jackets and elsewhere would have to bear some relation to the contents of the book.

No longer would we pick up a book blurb as "sizzling... sizzling... sexy" and discover that it is a history of the Brownie Scout movement.

Such a policy would, as you can see, take all the fun out of book buying. Who wants to buy a book if you already know what's in it?

Smith Urges Books to Be Made Full-Time

Portland — (UPI) — Ex-Gov. Elmo Smith said Thursday Oregon should have a full time parole and probation board.

Smith, now publisher of the Albany Democrat-Herald, said the work load of the present part time volunteer board is more than it should be asked to handle.

Arrest of Nervous Ex-Convict Ends Wide Manhunt

New York — (UPI) — A nervous ex-convict, the bullet-riddled body of his pal on a marble slab, surrendered to police Wednesday night to end a wide manhunt for the killers of two New Jersey policemen.

Thomas (Rabbi) Tom Trantino, 25, Brooklyn, accompanied by an attorney, turned himself in at a Manhattan police station. He was booked as a fugitive.

Less than 24 hours earlier, Frank Falco, 23, was shot to death in a hand-to-hand struggle with detectives who traced him to his hideaway in a mid-Manhattan hotel where he had registered under another name.

Both had been sought since early Monday morning for questioning in the "thrill slaying" of Det. Sgt. Peter Volo, 40, father of three children, and probationary Patrolman Gary Tedesco, 21, both attached to the Lodi, N.J., police force.

Authorities said the two officers had gone to the Angels Lounge, a Lodi nightclub, to quiet a disturbance caused by Falco and Trantino.

Police said the two hoodlums, both with long criminal records, were celebrating a $2,000 Brooklyn stickup staged only hours before.

They said the two suspects pulled guns on the policemen, forced them to disrobe partially, then shot them dead.

Jackson County Has Project Approved By Highway Agency

Salem — (UPI) — Four projects in four Oregon counties were approved Thursday by the state highway commission as part of the construction work authorized on the county federal-aid secondary highway system for the 1964 fiscal year.

The project in Sherman county requires that 6.6 miles of the Scott canyon-Wasco section of the Wasco-Rufus county road receive surfacing and oiling. The county plans to grade the section.

The Klamath county project involves the grading and base surfacing of 1.4 miles of the Seven Mile Creek-Rocky Point section on the west side

Concord Chapel Service Announced

Gold Hill — "Our Spiritualist Camps and Workers" will be the topic of the address by the Rev. Elvina Colburn at Concord Spiritualist chapel Sunday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Colburn returned Aug. 27 from Edgewood Spiritualist camp at Tacoma, Wash.

During the pastor's absence the past two Sundays, C. R. Routh officiated at the services. He will assist Mrs. Colburn Sunday evening. Others who will assist the pastor are Miss Susan Show and Sidney Jones.

Mrs. Colburn and Mrs. Brien will play piano-solovox and piano-organ duets. Miss Carol McCall will play the clarinet.

Rogue River Academy Sets School Opening

School will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 3, at Rogue River academy, Seventh-day Adventist junior academy on South Stage rd., according to Max Boicourt, principal.

Boicourt, who replaces Burt Kortz, who is with Portland Union academy this fall.

Boicourt is a graduate of Walla Walla college and moves to the Rogue valley from Grandview, Wash., where he was principal of Grandview Junior academy. The Boicourts are making their home at 2472 Robin lane, Central Point.

Other new teachers joining the Rogue River academy staff are Mrs. Mary Austin, Mrs. Robert Dixon, and Ed Sanders. Mrs. Austin will teach the second grade, Mrs. Dixon the fourth, and Sanders the seventh and eighth grades.

Increasing enrollment has necessitated the division of the third and fourth grades, which have formerly been taught in one room. According to Boicourt, a new classroom has been finished this summer to accommodate ninth and tenth grade students.

Also recently completed is the principal's office, business office, and library. The cafeteria will be ready for use Oct. 1, Boicourt said.

Sunday, Aug. 25, was designated as work day at the school.

Girl Wins Camp Trip to Lake

Yreka — More than 70 children and young people attended the Berean Fundamental church, Yreka, annual Daily Vacation Bible school recently in the church's new sanctuary at Wetzel Way and North st.

Winner of the prize of a week at camp at Lake of the Woods in Oregon was Brenda Williams. Contest awards were earned on the basis of memory work, school conduct, lesson preparation and taking students to the school.
