FEEDING TIME—Shawn Harris, 17-month-old, hands a baby bottle to his mother, Mrs. Delores Harris, 19, as she prepares to feed her children, the nation's only identical quadruplets, at their home in Chicago. The quadruplet girls, two months old, now weigh eight pounds each and drink two gallons of milk daily. Mrs. Harris was awarded $30 a week child support payment from her estranged husband, Bernard Harris, 23, a $75-a-week factory worker, and she's wondering how she can support five children in a $193-a-month apartment on the $30 weekly payments. ### Business-Education Day Plans Reviewed

The 77th annual Business-Education day will be held Thursday, Sept. 5, with the largest number of educators and businessmen in the history of the project participating, according to the Medford Chamber of Commerce.

Medford teachers and school administrators, numbering 450, will assemble at Hedrick Junior High school at 8:30 a.m. for a 30-minute program for which William J. Williams, president of the chamber, will be the principal speaker.

Frank Bash, chairman of the education committee, of the chamber of commerce, will be master of ceremonies for the meeting. Dr. Leonard B. Mayfield, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Elliott Becken, assistant superintendent, will be present to announce the final details of the annual visitation of business by teachers.

To Pick Up Teachers

Representatives of the 77 host firms will be present to pick up the teachers who will start on their tour of business at 9 a.m.

During the morning the business firms will furnish the transportation and will devote time following the tour to an explanation of modern business and the problems with which it is confronted in many fields. The teachers will be guests of the host firms at individual luncheons, each firm working out its own pattern.

Missing Family Reported Safe

Vancouver, Wash. — (UPI)—The State Patrol said Sunday a family of 12 persons, reported missing earlier on a trip from Lebanon to Seattle, had checked in Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Peterson Sr., Lebanon, and 10 of their children, had been reported missing earlier by a son, Vern Jr., when they failed to arrive at their destination.

They were traveling in a bus which had been converted for private use as a camper. An officer here said that Peterson called the Washington State Patrol Saturday evening.

REPORTS OWN CRASH

Holt, England — (UPI) — A physician found that John Cowan, who walked a mile to report that his car overturned, had suffered a fractured pelvis, broken arm and bruised spine in the accident.

"John has always been a tough lad," his mother, Mrs. Lydia Cowan, remarked.

DRIVING PROBLEM SOLVED

Bilston, England — (UPI)—Frank Williams said Sunday he solved the problem of motorists driving too close to him by painting a large sign on the back of his small truck that read, "high explosives — keep clear."

Teachers Asked to Help Reduce School Drop-Outs

The Jackson County School Superintendents' association has adopted a resolution urging all teachers and school administrators to make every effort to prevent school drop-outs.

This supports action taken by six nation educators' associations recommending all those in the teaching profession contact at least one student who indicates he may drop out of school and persuade him to continue his high school education.

In a joint statement, the organizations suggested that educators make direct contact with potential school drop-outs and their parents to convince them

Children Required To Attend School

All children between 7 and 18 years old are required to spend an entire term in a public school near where the child resides, according to Oregon law, County School Superintendent Alf Mekvoild has reminded area residents.

First responsibility for such school attendance is upon the parent, and then upon the school administrator, it was explained.

Some exemptions from compulsory school attendance are: legally employed children between 16 and 18 when release has been secured from the school administrator, high school graduates, children being taught in private or parochial school, children who are abnormal or are physically unable to attend school, when distance from school bus route or school makes attendance "unreasonable."

Advertising Club Installs Officers

More than 30 members of the newly formed Southern Oregon Advertising club attended installation ceremonies for the organization's first officers at North's first wagon Thursday.

On hand to install the officers was Alan J. McKelburg, district vice president of the Advertising Association of the West and a member of the Portland Advertising club.

Officers are Bob Ford, president; Lou Tyler, vice president; Margaret Ford, secretary, and Jane Hundley, treasurer.

The Southern Oregon Advertising club is made up of individuals who are involved in the selling, producing or writing of advertising in Southern Oregon. The group meets each Friday at a noon luncheon and once a month for an evening business and social meeting. Any one interested in joining the organization may contact Ford, 772-9453.

Vice Raids Net 24 Pasco Persons

Pasco, Wash. — (UPI)—A series of vice raids here early Sunday netted authorities 16 women and eight men who were charged with vagrancy and taken to the Franklin county jail.

The raiding squad was led by Franklin County Prosecuting Attorney James Rabideau and included a team of investigators and several sheriff's deputies.

Rabideau went on the raid armed with a pocketful of justice court warrants, some of them charging violation of state liquor and vice laws.

"We had warrants only for people we know we can convict," Rabideau said. "More will be implicated later."

By midday 10 of those arrested had been released on bail, which was set at $250 each.
