

Dr. and Mrs. Royal Grover Aubrey (Landis photo)

Late Summer Ceremony

A late summer wedding was that of Miss Carol Mae Clark and Dr. Royal Grover Aubrey. The rites were read at 8:30 o'clock in the evening of Saturday, August 31, in Central Church of Christ.

The Rev. Fred O. Sapp Jr., First Advent Christian church, assisted by John Heberling, minister of the Central Church of Christ, performed the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard B. Clark, 1679 Old Stage road, Medford, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Aubrey, 202 South Oakdale avenue, Medford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Chantilly lace gown over satin. The bodice embroidered with seed pearls, was made with scalloped neckline. The skirt of tiers of ruffled net was designed with chapel train of Chantilly lace over satin. The fingertip length veil of illusion was held by a caplet of lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and white roses centered with an orchid.

Sister Is Matron
Mrs. Howard Watkins, a sister of the bride was matron of honor and Mrs. Larry Bucy, Wilder, Ida., a sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmatron. Miss Nancy Aubrey, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jo-

Ann Robertson, a cousin of the bride were bridesmaids. Ann Marie Clark, Phoenix, a niece of the bride, was flower girl, and Barto Gene Watkins, her nephew, carried the rings.

The bride's attendants and the flower girl wore princess styled satin gowns with lace panels which accented the backs. All had lace sleeves and lace cummerbunds. The honor attendant was in deep purple and the others were in lavender. Their deep purple pillbox hats of lace over satin held short lavender veils. The attendants carried bouquets of orchid and white gladioli.

Lyle Steers, Klamath Falls, a cousin of the bridegroom served as best man and ushers were James A. Clark and Vaughn W. Clark, brothers of the bride, and Jerry McCormack, Kent, Wash. Miss Pauline Teresi, a niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Connie Potter, Dahl Pine, Ore., lighted the candles. Jerry McCormack and the Rev. Mr. Sapp were soloists and Mrs. Melody Dunn was the musician.

Reception Held
Almost 200 guests attended the ceremony and reception which the bride's parents gave in the church banquet room. Mrs. L. K. Morris decorated the reception table and arrangements of orchid and white gladioli were about the room.

Hostess Gives Party Series During Season

Mrs. G. R. Carter, 821 East Jackson street, has been hostess during the summer for a series of parties.

The first, a luncheon, honored her two step-grandsons, Gerald and Anthony Brown, who recently arrived from New York City where they had been living with their maternal grandmother. They have returned to Oregon to be with their stepfather and their mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Carter, Talent. Six guests attended the luncheon.

The other parties given by Mrs. Carter were afternoon events to honor her sister, Mrs. H. C. Cole who was here from California. The first entertained friends of Mrs. Cole from Eagle Point; eight guests were present. Another was attended by 14 women in the Carter neighborhood and from Rogue Valley Manor.

The third party was attended by friends to Mrs. Cole from Ashland. Ten were present. Mrs. Cole since has left for her home. Her visit here was the occasion for other events given by relatives and friends.

Robert R. Carter's older son, Robert A. Carter, is a graduate student at Yale university law school in New Haven, Conn. He was graduated from the university in 1958, when he entered the Army. Later he was a reporter for the Journal-Courier in New Haven, Conn., for which he won a prize from the Connecticut State Medical society for newspaper medical writing.

In a recent issue of "Newsweek" he and three other men from the Yale law school were subjects for a story. They had been chosen as a debate team to appear before a trio of distinguished jurists from the U. S. Supreme Court.

Robert R. Carter's younger son, William George Carter, Medford, will leave soon for Eugene where he is a student of the University of Oregon law school.

Valley Group In Redding For Ceremony
Several valley residents are in Redding, Calif., this week end to attend the wedding of Miss Katherine Diane Graf of that city and Ronald Lawrence Reich, 527 Bush street, Central Point, which was scheduled for Saturday, September 7 at 8 o'clock in the Redding First Methodist church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Graf of Redding and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Woodrow Reich, formerly of Medford and Central Point, and the late Mr. Reich. Mrs. Reich, who had just arrived in Central Point after seven months at Cape Cod, Mass., and the bridegroom-elect left Friday for Redding.

Among others who planned to be there were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reich, Dark Hollow road, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, and John Frazer, who was to serve as an usher, and Gordon Safely, best man.

Mrs. Woodrow Reich has been a houseguest in the home of her mother, Mrs. Fannie E. Grant, Central Point.

First meeting of the fall season for Xi Mu chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will be held at the home of Mrs. T. M. Gerow, 108 Vancouver avenue, Wednesday, September 11, at 8 p. m.

Presbyterian Service Marries Ashland Couple

ASHLAND—The wedding service for Linda Ann Wright and Frederick M. Schuerman was read September 1 by the Rev. B. J. Holland in the First Presbyterian church. The 3 p. m. ceremony was attended by more than 90 guests.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, 595 Taylor street, Ashland. Mr. Schuerman is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuerman of Portland, who were Ashland residents for many years.

An empire style gown of white silk organza over taffeta was worn by the bride. It was made with three-tiered embroidered skirt and cummerbund, cap sleeves and scoop neckline. With it she wore an elbow length maine veil held by a pearl filagree crown and carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis encircling an orchid corsage. She was given in marriage by her father.

Three Attendants
The three attendants, Miss Carol Linniger, Miss Linda Sue Crabbill, Grants Pass, and Mrs. Robert Wright, the bride's sister-in-law, wore matching frocks of antique gold satin, sleeveless and with bell skirts. Their satin circlet hats and veils were designed by the bride's mother and Mrs. Robert C. Snider. Each carried a bouquet of white Fuji chrysanthemums tied with gold streamers.

Quinton Million of Portland was best man and ushers were Dennis Berry and Loy Kahler, both of Portland. The bride's three-year-old nephew, Kyle Wright, was ring bearer.

"For All Time to Come," a wedding song written and composed by the late Jeanne Alden Joy of Ashland, was sung by Mrs. Snider, who also sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Glenn Taylor.

Lighted tapers in candelabra and tall baskets of white gladioli decorated the church altar and the same gold and white motif was used in the Fireside room where the bride's parents were hosts for a reception.

Cake served
Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lawrence Snider, Ashland, uncle and aunt of the bride, cut and served the cake, while the bridegroom's sisters, Miss Sheila Schuerman and Mrs. Robert Walters, Portland, and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, the bride's cousin, served punch. Mrs. Jim Parsons and Mrs. K. A. Parsons, the bride's aunts, were in charge of the reception. Mrs. John H. McAvory assisted the bride and Miss Peggy Parsons, a cousin, and Miss Dian Murphy were in charge of the gifts.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wright wore an embroidered satin sheath of dusty rose with beige accessories and a cymbidium orchid.

When the couple left for their honeymoon trip to Canada the new Mrs. Schuerman wore a navy blue figured sheath and full length navy coat. Her accessories were white.

To Study
Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Schuerman will go to Corvallis where both will continue graduate work at Oregon State university. Mr. Schuerman has been attending Radar intercept officers training school at the Portland Air Base.

Following the wedding rehearsal Saturday evening the bride's parents entertained at a buffet supper in their home for the bridal party and relatives. Several showers were given by friends of the bride, one being held at the Raymond Linniger home when Mrs. Linniger and her daughter Carol entertained a group of 20 guests, most of them former school friends and their mothers.

Among out-of-town relatives attending the wedding were the bride's great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lühr, Santa Barbara, Calif.; her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Phillips and daughter, Monica June, Fremont, Calif.; and Ray Dallaire, Medford, and uncle.

To Coast
ASHLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Seaside drove motored to the coast during the week for a few days rest from their schedule of volunteer Shakespearean Festival activities.

Nursing School To Graduate Local Women

Two young Medford women will be graduated from the Portland Good Samaritan hospital school of nursing in ceremonies September 13 at 8 p. m., in Trinity Episcopal church, Portland.
