

Pilot Injured in Hermiston Air Show

HERMISTON, Ore. (UPI)—Russ Staples, Kennewick, Wash., suffered leg fractures and facial injuries Sunday when his light plane crashed during an Oregon Pilots Association airshow and contest here.

Authorities said Staples apparently lost control of his plane during a balloon-breaking contest over the Hermiston airstrip.

Staples, a veteran pilot, was at an altitude of about 300 feet and attempting to break a balloon with the propeller when the plane went into a dive.
