Feeding the Family

Ceylon Style Shrimp Curry

Ceylon is a self-governing dominion in the British Commonwealth of Nations. Occupying an area of only 25,332 square miles this small Asian country has a population of over 9½ million, which means the population density is approximately 381 people per square mile. Ceylon is heavily dependent on food imports particularly rice, the staple food of the country. The three major exports are tea, rubber and coconuts.

This Ceylon-style curry served with rice and *Onion Sambol as an accompaniment is considered a national favorite when mealtime rolls around, according to representatives at the United Nations. Recipe makes four to five servings.

- 1 pound uncooked medium-size shrimp
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- ¼ to 1 teaspoon ground red pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon tumeric
- 2 cloves garlic, sliced
- 2 slices green ginger or ½ teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 inch piece of stick cinnamon
- ¾ cup milk or coconut milk
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- Juice of ½ lime

Shell, de-vein and wash shrimps. Put shrimps, half of the onion slices, and all seasonings and spices in a kettle. Add milk. Boil 10 minutes. Brown remaining onion slices in salad oil and add to shrimps. Add lime juice. Stir. Simmer 10 minutes. If desired thicken the liquid with one teaspoon cornstarch mixed with one-quarter cup water. Boil until thickens. Serve as a main dish with hot cooked rice.

Onion Sambol

Peel and finely slice one large onion, one medium cucumber and one medium green pepper from which the seeds have been removed. Combine in bowl. Add juice of one-half lemon, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon ground black pepper. Mix lightly. Peel and cut three hard-cooked eggs in half. Arrange on onion-cucumber mixture; chill.

Lemon Cream Rice Irresistably Piquant

Lemon Cream Rice is an easy-to-do dessert that will tantalize the taste buds with its irresistable piquant flavor. It can be served as meringue topped pudding or the whipped egg whites can be folded into the lemon custard and when the baking is done . . . a souffle. Cream or a fruit sauce are tops for topping this delightful dessert. Recipe makes six servings.

- ½ cup rice
- 3 cups milk
- 1½ tablespoons lemon juice
- grated rind of 1 lemon
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, separated
- 2 tablespoons honey
- ¼ teaspoon lemon extract

Rinse rice. Place in double boiler. Add milk and cook over boiling water until rice is tender. Add the one-half cup honey, lemon juice, lemon rind, salt and beaten egg yolks. Continue cooking until mixture thickens. Turn into 1½ quart buttered baking dish.

Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually adding the two tablespoons honey and the lemon extract. Pile on top of pudding and bake in a moderate, 350 degree, oven 20 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned. Or fold whipped egg whites into the hot custard and bake as a souffle.

Liver Cheese Balls

These are party-right anytime of day or night. For variation they can be rolled in finely chopped walnuts, parsley or chives. For 24 small balls: Blend one 4½ ounce can liver spread with one three-ounce package cream cheese. Form into small balls and chill. When chilled roll in the finely chopped walnuts, parsley or chives. Serve with toothpicks or thin pretzel sticks for spearing.

Spotlight on Specialty Melons, Grapes, Bartlett Pears

September morns find harvesters busy in thousands of areas, garnering the riches of our melon patches, vineyards, orchards. Cantaloups have been tempting us for months but today's spotlight is on the "specialty" melons. All are superb eating, a treat anytime.

Honey balls are small, round, usually slightly-netted; vary in color from whitish green or gray to light yellow. Honeydews are bluntly oval in shape and considerably larger than honey balls, weighing four to eight pounds; creamy white or cr pounds; creamy white or creamy-yellow when ripe.

Casabas are nearly round in shape but may be somewhat pointed at stem end. Rinds are wrinkled or furrowed. These weigh five to seven pounds each. Cranshaw melons are pointed at stem end and rounded at blossom end, usually weigh four to eight pounds; rind is generally smooth; no netting, very little ribbing; usually mottled green and gold when displayed for sale.

Persian melons somewhat resemble cantaloups with finer, flatter, less pronounced netting deeper green background. Persians usually weigh six to seven pounds.

Grapes Galore. Purple and yellow, red and green, white and black, this is a great year for grapes. Today we talk of Tokays which are grown only near the city of Lodi in California's fertile San Joaquin Valley. These are the brilliant red grape with excellent keeping qualities. They're in the markets for giving pleasure until after the Christmas holidays.

Bartlett pears were never better. Pears unlike most fruits, should be ripened off the tree for most flavor, best texture. Let them come to melting ripeness at room temperature for eating out of hand, combining in salads, compotes, for baking in orange juice. Fresh pears and cheese are a superlative dessert, are unsurpassed for snacking.

Quick Look-Best Buys

Meat, Poultry, Fish. Beef that is ideal for pot-roasting, for meat-loafing and for stews of all kinds is a very good buy. Look too for lamb and pork specials. An abundance of bargain-priced poultry continues. Plenty of coast-caught fish, fresh, frozen, canned.

Fruit - Vegetables. Bins are piled high with practically every known seasonal, regional fruit and vegetable. Confer with produce buyers on supplies for canning, freezing.

SHARES PODIUM — Seiji Ozawa, 27, brilliant conductor from Japan who was appointed musical director and conductor of the Revinia Festival recently, is shown in Chicago where he started a four-week tour with the New York Philharmonic orchestra. In Chicago he shared the podium at two concerts with Leonard Bernstein. (UPI)

$107,832 Grand Made to University for Program

EUGENE—The graduate program in vocational rehabilitation counseling at the University of Oregon has received a $107,832 grant from the U.S. Vocational Rehabilitation Administration, representing a one-third increase over last year's grant.

The increased funds will allow the university for the first time to offer traineeship stipends to doctoral students interested in specializing in rehabilitation, according to Dr. Martin H. Acker, assistant professor of education and program director, and at the same time continue the master's degree program.

The funds also will allow for the appointment of a full-time faculty member to be in charge of campus instruction, a position that has been handled on a part-time basis previously. The new faculty member will be named in the near future.

The 1963-64 grant represents the eighth consecutive year of federal support of the traineeship program, one of only 30 in the nation. Last year's grant was $72,311. Total grants from the VRA, formerly called the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, since the university's program began in 1955-57 amount to more than $400,000.

During the coming year, the program will enroll an estimated 22 students at the master's degree level and four doctoral candidates, all of whom will receive tuition and traineeship stipends.

The course of study, which is a joint counseling-department of psychology program, is designed to train students as counselors in state and private agencies dealing with the problems of physically and mentally disabled persons.
