

Cardinals Can Change NL Picture Tonight

St. Louis One Game Back of LA

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

The odds makers still like the Dodgers, but not by much because those incredible Cardinals can change the entire National League pennant picture tonight.

A victory by the Cardinals in the opener of a three-game set between the two clubs at St. Louis tonight not only would boost them into a virtual first place tie but also would automatically make them the new pennant favorites.

Momentum is entirely on their side. By bowing over the Braves twice Sunday, 3-2 and 6-0, the Cardinals ran their winning streak to 10 games and now have won 19 of their last 20.

The Dodgers show a 13-7 log during that same stretch and while that record isn't anything to be ashamed of it is responsible for cutting their lead from a once comfortable 7 1/2 games.

"The Dodgers still are slight favorites," said one national odds maker. "They won't be any longer, though, if they loose tonight."

Champs And Chumps
The Cards looked like champs in their two victories over Milwaukee Sunday while the bedraggled Dodgers looked like chumps losing to Philadelphia, 6-1.

Low Burdette pitched St. Louis to victory in the opener when he held his former teammates to six hits, including Hank Aaron's 42nd homer. Aaron's blow, however, was negated by Bill White's 27th homer with one on in the second inning and Ken Boyer's 23rd off loser Bob Hendley in the fourth.

Ray Sadecki blanked the Braves on five hits in the nightcap for his 10th victory and the fifth shutout by a Cardinal pitcher in their last eight games. Tim McCarver and Julian Javier each singled home a run off loser Denny Lemaster in the second inning and that was really all Sadecki needed.

Broglie vs. Podres
Cardinal manager Johnny Keane nominated Ernie Broglie (16-8) for tonight's game and Dodger manager Walt Alton

Alton said he was "glad yesterday's game is out of our system."

The Dodger manager didn't blame anyone for the defeat even though catcher Johnny Roseboro committed three passed balls that led to as many runs, shortstop Maury Wills and third baseman Ken McMullen each made an error and Don Drysdale suffered his first loss in Philadelphia in four years.

Dallas Green won his sixth game for the Phils with a five-hitter, giving up the Dodgers' only run on Tommy Davis' 15th homer in the fourth. The loss was Drysdale's 17th against the same number of wins.
