ATHLETIC CLASS

Spiegelberg's Linebacker appearance was highlighted by his chalk talk on the Medford system. He mentioned that there is an athletic class the last period of the day. It has been restored after not having it for a number of years. It allows junior and senior athletes to gather for movies, chalk talks and other instruction before going on the practice field.

Eagles Drill For GP JV

EAGLE POINT—Coach Vern Steward saw the Eagle Point high football team's main problem as defense as the Eagles returned to the practice field this week after falling before Brookings 39 to 0.

The mentor declared that his boys would "really have to go to work" as they prepared for a game with the Grants Pass junior varsity here on Saturday. "I'm looking for blockers and tacklers," he reported.

Steward reported two Eagle drivers stopped by fumbles and miscues. He indicated the feel that once EP gets its attack ironed out, it should be pretty good.

Backfield play of Bill Ayres and Mike House provided the bright spots for the Eagles Saturday.

The Bruins scored twice in the first quarter, three times in the third and once in the fourth.

The Eagle junior varsity game with the Crater Rockets planned for this evening has been postponed until Sept. 25. The EP jayvee will have a controlled scrimmage with Hedrick of Medford ninth grade at 7 p.m. instead. Date of another Eagle Point JV-Crater Rocket tilt has been moved from Sept. 30 to Oct. 1.

By DICK JEWETT
Medford Sports Editor

Presentation of a Medford high student body card and traveling jacket to Dr. Enrico DeMaria, visitor from Alba, Italy, Medford's sister city, highlighted halftime activities on Friday night at the Medford-Corvallis football game. The presentation was made by Steve Blackhurst, Medford student body president. Dr. DeMaria witnessed his first American football game.

The halftime entertainment included also introduction of the band majorettes and drum major and yell staff of Medford high. Music included "Finculi, Fincula," "The Gillett March," "On Corvallis," "Five-Foot Two" and "Hey, Look Me Over."

STAYED IN THERE

From Sports Editor Jack Rickard's story in the Corvallis Gazette Times:

"The scoreboard outside the dressing room read, 'Medford 21, Visitors 9,' but the Corvallis Spartans didn't look like a football team that had been beaten by three touchdowns.

"We played a helluva game," Coach Lee Gustafson felt. "Our kids—even with their inexperience—stayed in there and hit right with them."

"And if it hadn't been for a couple of mistakes—one had one by the officials—it might have been even closer."

Corvallis backers, naturally, felt that an incomplete forward pass should have been ruled—rather than a fumble when quarterback Rick Olsson's arm was hit by Terry Winetroun as he was trying to pass and Tom Wootton fell on the ball for Medford. The Tornado scored on the next play.

FINEST FIELD

Russ Achesson, assistant Medford school superintendent, speaking to the Linebackers here on Friday, described the Medford high turf as "the finest field I've ever walked on."

Of the rebuilt and returned gridiron he also said, "It's too bad we have to play football on it."

A bit later Black Tornado Head Coach Fred Spiegelberg came up with a different idea. "It's there to play football on," he said.

Members of the school maintenance force on Saturday and high school footballers on Sunday formed details to replace divots on the field. However, pock marks with grass pushed aside could prove more a problem than hunks of turf dislodged.

INCENTIVE

While telling the Linebackers that "everyone is too doggone optimistic" about his Black Tornado, Spiegelberg pointed out that he expects his charges to be battling while they are on the field:

"They are going to be hitting and cutting and slashing and they're going to come out. There are four guys behind them."

TV NUMBERS

Medford jerseys (new ones) finally have TV numbers—those numbers on the sleeves introduced to football by the pros. And, they are helpful to the fans.

MAKING OF CLUB

Coach Bill McKibbin of St. Mary's high told Linebackers that his football squad is young but that he is not discouraged. Describing his players as "quite enthusiastic," he said, "They're real eager. This is the making of a ball club."

McKibbin named Illinois Valley and Phoenix as the teams to beat in the Rogue league football chase.

CRATER ATHLETES PLANS

Ken Durkee did some checking for us recently on the plans of several Crater high athletes who finished their Comet careers last spring.

Paul Branson, Harold Allen, Jim Askiwith, Joe McCalvy, Neil Rivenburg and Pat Pepper were listed as Southern Oregon college bound with Mike Glines, Gary Wald and John Harris slated for Oregon Tech. Howard Tomlinson reportedly has nicked Pacific university and Louis Alvarez has chosen Fresno State.

Larry Mansson plans to enter the Air Force and Willie Jones the Marines.

Branson is out for football at SOC and has track plans (on. He'll major in education. He, Mansson and Harris, have worked this summer for Mt. Pitt Lumber company. Allen also will be an education major. He has been employed at Big Y Shopping center. Secondary education will be the major of Askiwith who has worked for Cheney Forest products.

McCalvy, with football aims, plans a liberal arts course. He has worked at the Fluhrer building. Rivenburg, who has been working for White City Plywood, will take social science and physical education courses.

PLANS CHANGED

Glines, who earlier planned to enter Linfield, is now listed on the OTI grid roster. He played for State in the big school Shrine All-star football game. His late summer job was with Chuck's Body Shop. Wald and Harris have scholarships at OTI for football and track. Harris contemplates a business administration major while Wald will take an accounting course.

Tomlinson has a scholarship in basketball and baseball. He'll major in liberal arts. Like Allen, he has worked at the Big Y. Education is the major planned by Alvarez. Jones has worked for the state forestry department.

Giants Take Step In Battle For 3rd Place

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Last year at this time the San Francisco Giants were in the thick of the pennant fight but today they are battling to cling to third place in the National league.

The Giants Monday night improved their position considerably by downing the Braves 4-3 with Juan Marichal chalking up his 23rd victory of the season.

For the Braves it was their seventh straight loss and pushed them 2½ games behind the Giants.

Marichal, in pitching the Giants to their third straight win, became the third major league hurler to reach the 25-game winning mark this year.

Sandy Koufax and Whitey Ford are the others, so Juan is in fast company.

The winning margin came when Orlando Cepeda hit his 31st home run of the year in the fifth with nobody on base. The Giants had single runs in the first, third and fourth innings on two walks and five hits, including Chuck Hiller's triple.

Texas, Arkansas Rated As Powers of Southwest Conference Play Again

Editor's note: This is the fourth of eight dispatches sizing up college football prospects in various sections of the country.

THE SOUTHWEST

DALLAD (UPI) — Two weeks ago when fall practice started, champion Texas and runnerup Arkansas, whose combined losses last year consisted only of Texas' 7-3 defeat of the Razorbacks, were solid choices to lead the Southwest conference parade again.

There is a growing feeling that Texas Christian and Rice may be developing strength enough to end the domination which Darrell Royal of Texas and Frank Proyles of Arkansas have held over their rivals since 1959.

One or the other, or both, have figured in four straight titles.

Baylor and Texas A&M may have muscles enough to argue strongly with any of the other "big four" in face-to-face meetings.

That leaves only Southern Methodist and Texas Tech to be "written off" as at least potential pretenders until it is recalled that a smaller, less-experienced SMU team last year beat two league teams and lost to the other five by a combined total of only 22 points.

Among the area's independents, only Houston plays a major schedule. The Cougars' assignments of Auburn, Baylor, Mississippi, Texas A&M, Mississippi State and Alabama the first six Saturdays of the season appear enough to dampen any hopes of national prominence.

Favored To Repeat

Both Texas and Arkansas, on paper, shape up as repeat performers in the conference chase, but injuries have been cropping up in workouts at both camps and Broyles has lamented that his Arkansas players reported in the worst physical condition since he's been at the helm.

Texas retains 23 lettermen, including six starters, from a team that ranked No. 4 nationally, and — again on paper — does not have a serious problem, including depth, at any position.

Veteran Duke Carlisle looks adequate at quarterback and Tommy Ford and Ernie Roy promise solid running potential in the backfield behind a big, mobile line anchored on All-America candidate Scott Appleton at tackle.

Losses Offensive Strength

Broyles at Arkansas lost three-fourths of his backfield and says "our defense is going to have to pick up the offensive slack we lost."

Arkansas also retains six starters, five of them up front where Broyles has his best, fast talent to burn like center Ronnie Caveness, guard Tommy Brasher, tackle Dave Adams and ends Jim John and Jerry Lamb.

The lack of proven runners, aside from returnee George Walker, will force Broyles to plan a more active overhead game built around junior passer Bill Gray and Lamb, a receiver without a peer in the Southwest.

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Harry Sinden has been signed as player-coach of the new Minneapolis Bruins hockey team in the International League. Sinden was formerly player-coach with the Kingston, Ont., team of the defunct Eastern Professional Hockey League.

Fight In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A legal method existed today for Milwaukee to keep the Braves, if it comes to a court fight, but a group of business and civic leaders were also at work to restore the "golden days" of the 1950s for the team's new owners in a spirit of brotherly love.

The recent rumors that the Chicago syndicate which purchased the Braves last fall might move the club because of sagging attendance here and the assurance of a better radio-television market elsewhere caused deep concern in the city which first pumped out its pride due to major league pride when the franchise came here from Boston in 1953.

It has even caused Gov. John Reynolds to threaten a congressional investigation.

Chairman Eugene Grobschmidt of the Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors Publicly reviewed the contract the new owners have for the use of County Stadium which obligates the team to play all of its home games there at least through the 1965 season.

This year the Braves appear certain to draw over 800,000.

Area Prep Football Teams Will Travel

Southern Oregon's Class A-1 and A-2 prep football aggregations play another round of non-league games this week end and there'll be road trips for most of them.

Medford travels the farthest with a Friday night date against Boise High school in Idaho. Among the other A-1s, Crater journeys to Sweet Home, Ashland to Lebanon and Klamath Falls to South Salem, while Grants Pass entertains

North Salem, all on Friday. Among the A-2s St. Mary's will go to Glendale, Phoenix to Coquille, Rogue River to Illinois Valley and Henley to Mt. Shasta, Calif., all on Friday. Klamath Falls junior varsity will oppose Sacred Heart. On Saturday Grants Pass JV will be at Eagle Point and Lakeview at Trinity.

8-Man Versus 11-Man

Rogue River and Illinois Valley, both members of the Rogue league, have a non-counter. They play on Nov. 8 in their league game.

On the Class B front Prospect will play Jayvees of A-1 Crater at Central Point on Thursday night while Butte Falls will open its season at home against Days Creek on Friday afternoon.

In the Prospect-Crater game, the teams will play eight-man ball when Prospect is on offense and 11-man when Crater is attacking.

A Crater Rockets-Eagle Point jayvee contest previously set for this evening has been moved to Wednesday, Sept. 25.
