Danish Cream Cones are considered a special addition to the Danish kaffeeklatsch or evening meal and what is popular in Denmark promises to be equally popular here. Each delicious cone is a rolled strip of baked pastry, filled with strawberry jam at one end and whipped cream in the other. Cream Cones will be a novelty to most of your friends and when you hear their delighted commentaries, you will be glad you took the little extra time and patience to make them.

Danish Cream Cones Make Kaffeeklatsch Highlight

It is fine to have certain dessert standbys. The only trouble is, sometimes we overdo our favorites. We are inclined to rely on a particular cake or pie almost every time we have friends in for coffee and dessert. Isn't it much more satisfying to serve a stunning dessert that is completely different from the usual ones? For instance, these Cream Cones will be a novelty to most of your friends. They come from far, far away—from that coffee-loving country of Denmark, to be exact. There, Danish Cream Cones are considered a special addition to the kaffeeklatsch or evening meal.

Use Your Strawberry Jam
What is popular in Denmark promises to be equally popular here. Each delicious cone is a rolled strip of baked pastry, filled with strawberry jam at one end and whipped cream at the other. For this occasion, you can bring out the strawberry jam you preserved, last spring.

UNICEF Drive Plans Formulated

Plans are being laid for the organization of the annual drive for funds to support the work of UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund). Traditionally, children of the valley, as in other communities all over the United States, have helped to collect monies which aid in providing milk and medical assistance to children in depressed areas of the world, by going out to "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" on Halloween night.

Mrs. C. Rease Braley, who is chairman of the organization for Jackson county announced the appointment of a number of volunteers who will assist her in publicizing the plans ahead of Halloween time, and in the actual dispersal and collection of the orange-colored paper milk cartons which are the trademark of the UNICEF trick-or-treater. The women appointed are Mrs. John Boyle, Mrs. James Cummins, Mrs. Keith Gordon, and Mrs. Wallace Robinson.

Assistants
Others assisting in the work for this year are Mrs. W. B. Hinkle, Mrs. Sheridan Scott, Mrs. John Dellenback, Mrs. Arthur J. Barber, Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. Neal Collins, and Mrs. Robert Cunningham. Mrs. Braley also announced that funds had been donated to purchase a color film dealing with the work done with the money collected in this annual drive, and with the children helped through the United Nations-sponsored organization. This film will be used in the various schools in the county to help in understanding what the pennies and nickels collected by the children can do.

Holiday Preview Includes Program

A skit and film were on the program for representatives of Avon products when the group met for their annual holiday preview and open house September 16 in the Girls Community club. The session opened at 1 p.m. and closed at 8 p.m. that day.

Taking part in the skit were Mrs. Eunice Jones, and Mrs. Mary Langston, Central Point; Mrs. Evelyn Barnum, Mrs. Myna Conley, Mrs. Shirley Miller and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, Grants Pass. Refreshments were served.

Shady Cove Garden Club Awards Listed

SHADY COVE — Sweepstakes winners of the Shady Cove Garden club's seventh annual flower show, themed to "Nature's Palette," were Mrs. Charles Cushman, Shady Cove and Mrs. Clifford Green, Central Point.

Mrs. Cushman won in the artistic arrangement classes with five first awards. Eighty-four arrangements were entered. Mrs. Green received the honor for her 12 first awards in horticulture, in which there were 146 entries.

Mrs. H. G. Bressler, club president, was runner-up in the arrangement competition with four first awards.

Mrs. Gaston Floux took best of show for her arrangement in the Smoky Haze class. A tall arrangement of blue and purple flowers, mainly of delphinium and dusty miller, it was held in a dark blue long stemmed vase.
