

Republicans Accuse Kennedy of Ducking Issue on Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican leaders today accused President Kennedy of ducking the issue of heavy federal spending and pressed toward a major House showdown on harnessing his proposed $11 billion tax cut.

Kennedy told the American people Wednesday night that "this nation needs a tax cut now," and pleaded for "your help, your voice" against partisan attempts to weaken or delay the bill.

Republicans promptly complained that these assurances were not specific enough. They vowed an all-out battle on the House floor next week to sidetrack the entire tax cut unless government spending is held to strict levels during the next two years.

At the same time, he pledged an ever-tighter rein on federal spending and asserted that "no wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary government activity will be tolerated on the grounds that it helps employment."

With that and a tax cut, he said, "prosperity will balance our budget."

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said the President "was uttering good Republican gospel" on economic goals Wednesday night but differed essentially from the traditional GOP approach that "spending should be geared to the revenues."

Everyone wants a tax cut, said Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.), a member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. "But you have to earn it by cutting expenditures and he (Kennedy) didn't really even discuss that."

Flu Vaccinations Urged Immediately

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Public Health Service today advised all persons in "high risk groups" to get vaccinated against influenza immediately.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said no widespread outbreaks of influenza, such as those of the last two years, were expected and urged inoculation for all persons who might suffer severe illness or death if they contract the disease.

Influenza is particularly dangerous to persons suffering from chronic ailments such as cardiovascular, pulmonary, renal, and metabolic disorders and to pregnant women. Persons over 45, particularly those over 65, also should be immunized, Dr. Terry said.
