Kennedy's UN Address

Kennedy Declares No Agreements Will Be Made at Expense of Allies

Kennedy also said we must continue to seek agreements: —On measures to prevent war by accident or miscalculation. —On safeguards against surprise attack, including observation posts at key points. —On further measures to curb the nuclear arms race, by controlling the transfer of nuclear weapons, converting fissionable materials to peaceful purposes, and banning underground testing with adequate inspection and enforcement. —On a freer flow of information and people from East to West and West to East.

Kennedy emphasized, however, that although these and other new steps toward peaceful cooperation may be possible, most of them would require full consultation with this country's allies. "For their interests are as much involved as our own, and we will never make an agreement at their expense," He added that any such agreements would require long and careful negotiations and a new approach to the cold war — "a desire not to 'bury' one's adversary but to compete in a host of peaceful arenas, in ideas, in production, and in service to all humanity."

The President told the hushed assembly that for the first time in 17 years of effort, a specific step had been taken to limit the nuclear arms race. "I refer of course," Kennedy said, "to the treaty to ban nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water—concluded by the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and the United States — and already signed by nearly a hundred countries. It has been hailed by people the world over who are thankful to be free from the fears of nuclear fall-out, and I am confident that on next Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, it will receive the overwhelming endorsement of the Senate of the United States."

Kennedy warned, however, that despite the pause we may have reached in the cold war, "the long shadows of conflict and crisis envelop us still."

Basic Differences

He spelled out some of the basic differences between the United States and the Soviet Union which he said cannot be concealed.

A basic difference he said is the belief of the American people in self determination for all peoples.

"We believe that the people of Germany and Berlin must be free to reunite their capital and their country."

"We believe that the people of Cuba must be free to secure the fruits of the revolution that has been so falsely betrayed from within and expelled from without."

"In short, we believe that in all the world — in Eastern Europe as well as Western, in southern Africa as well as northern, in old nations as well as new — people must be free to choose their own future, without discrimination or dictation, and without coercion or subversion."

So long as these differences exist, Kennedy said, they set limits to agreements and "they forbid the relaxation of vigilance. Our defenses around the world will be maintained for the protection of freedom — and our determination to safeguard that freedom will measure up to any threat or challenge."

Attacks Discrimination

The President struck out at discrimination and persecution everywhere in the world and reminded the assembly members they were committed by the charter of the United Nations to promote and respect human rights.

"Those rights are not respected," he said, "when a Buddhist priest is driven from his pagoda, when a synagogue is shut down, when a Protestant church cannot open a mission, when a cardinal is forced into hiding, or when a crowded church service is bombed."

The President spoke frankly about the role of his administration in the realm of discrimination and persecution in an effort to "right the wrongs of our own nation."

Expressed Regret

"Through legislation and administrative action, through moral and legal commitment, this government has launched a determined effort to rid our nation of discrimination which has existed far too long—in education, in housing, in transportation, in employment, in civil service, in recreation and in places of public accommodation. And therefore, in this or in any other forum, we do not hesitate to condemn racial or religious injustice, whether committed or permitted by friends or by foes."

Kennedy expressed his regrets to those delegates who had experienced racial discrimination in the United States.

"I ask you to believe me," he said, "when I tell you that this is not the wish of most Americans—that we share your regret and resentment—and that we intend to end such practices for all time to come, not only for our visitors but for all our citizens as well."

Three Checks Are Received by Treasurer

The Jackson county treasurer has received three checks from the state for reimbursement of overpayments in three funds. From the state department of welfare was a check for $32,789.50, secretary of state, $5,701.41 from mental health, and $1,033.41 from the surplus food program. All the money will be added to the county's general fund, according to Treasurer Karl Janouch.
