

Faye-Classick Rites Announced by Mother

ROGUE RIVER—Mrs. Homer T. Classick has returned to Rogue River to live on Bergland avenue after living for several months in Denver, Colo. She was with her daughter, Miss Kathleen Classick, who recently was married in the Colorado city to Gary Faye.

The newly married couple live at 783 Lafayette street, Denver, where the bridegroom is employed at Sundstrand Aviation company. He also is attending the University of Colorado working toward completion of his bachelor's degree in engineering. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Faye, Indian Hills, Colo.

The wedding ceremony was performed June 14 in St. John's Catholic church. The bride wore a silk organza gown over tulle, trimmed with imported lace medallions. A crown of rhinestones and teardrop pearls held her net veil and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and pink rosebuds. Dennis W. Classick, Denver, a brother, gave her in marriage.

Among those in the wedding group were Margaret Engle, Rogue River, one of the junior bridesmaids, and Richard H. Classick, Arvada, Colo., a brother of the bride, who was an usher.

Everett-Chapin Rites Announced

ASHLAND — A wedding of interest to many persons in the valley took place August 26 at St. Johns Episcopal church, Colville, Wash., when Capt. Gaither Bruce Everett and Miss Judith Ann Chapin were married.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Everett, 199 Granite street. After graduating from Ashland high school he attended Southern Oregon college and received his dental degree from the University of Washington. He holds a captaincy in the U.S. Army and is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., where the couple will be at home in Columbus, Ga., following a Gulf coast trip to the south.

The new Mrs. Everett's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Chapin of Colville. She is a graduate of Colville High school and last year attended junior college. She expects to enroll at Auburn university this fall.

Orientation Class Set By Hospital Auxiliary

An orientation class for new members of Rogue Valley Hospital auxiliary has been scheduled for Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the board and staff room of the hospital, according to Mrs. Charles Barnes, second vice president of the group.

Anyone interested in the auxiliary is invited to attend, and those wishing more information may call Mrs. Barnes, 772-4962, or Mrs. Paul Selby, 772-2233.

Matherns Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mathern, 1070 Shafer lane, Medford, were honored recently at a surprise reception celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary.

Miss Karan Mathern, daughter of the couple, and Mrs. George W. Large were hostesses for the event held at 1000 Shafer lane at 4 p. m. on September 8. About 60 relatives and friends attended.

Mrs. Donald Bryan cut and served the cake. Mrs. Cassie Johnson, Gold Hill was in charge of the guest book and served coffee. Mrs. L. H. Johnson, Klamath Falls, served the punch, and Miss Cassie Large played the organ.

A money tree of silver dollars was presented to the couple plus other gifts of silver.

The couple's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mathern, Debbie and Danny, traveled from Portland for the event.

Other out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hanson, Grants Pass; Bill Mathern, San Francisco, and Mr. L. H. Johnson, Klamath Falls, and daughter, Pat.

The Matherns were married in Sioux Falls, S. D. and have lived in Medford for the past eleven years. Mr. Mathern is employed at International Harvester.

Son, Daughter Now At School

TALENT — A son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McAlaster, Talent, have returned to Oregon universities for the fall term.

Miss Rebecca McAlester, who was awarded a four-year Carpenter Foundation scholarship, will be a junior this year at the University of Oregon, Eugene, where she will major in secondary education.

David McAlaster, a 1963 graduate of Phoenix High school in the upper 10 per cent of his class, will enter Oregon State university at Corvallis where he will study agricultural engineering. He is the recipient of a General Foods scholarship.

Mr. and Mrs. McAlaster drove the students north.

Guest Day Set By Sojourners

Medford Sojourners' semi-annual guest day will be held Thursday, September 26, at noon at the Girls Community club.

Members, inactive members and prospective members may take guests. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Harold Burbach, 664-3116, or Mrs. Ray Norton, 779-1777, not later than Tuesday, September 24.

Prospective members are those women who have lived in Medford or vicinity for less than two years.

At the last meeting of the club Mrs. Lloyd Gallop was introduced as a prospective member and Mrs. Mace Freeland and Mrs. Donald C. Johnson became members.

Hostesses for the dessert were Mrs. Martha Leslie, Mrs. Don Stevens and Mrs. Don Spargo.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Franzwa and Mrs. E. J. Studebaker, bridge; Mrs. Gustav Martin and Mrs. Spargo, pinocle; Mrs. Nina Chandler and Mrs. Florence Carlton, canasta, and Mrs. Carl Johnson.

Reames Chapter To Hold Dinner

Reames chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a potluck dinner Thursday, September 26, at 6:30 p. m. at the Masonic temple. All members with last names from A to I will bring meat dishes, from J to R will bring salads and R to Z will bring dessert.

The evening will be dedicated to honoring master Masons, so the men are especially invited to attend. A stated meeting will follow the dinner at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Stewart Penington, worth matron and Stewart Pennington, worthy patron will be presiding. Chairman for the evening will be Mrs. V. A. Turpin and Mrs. Evelyn Hendricks.

Leaves

Mrs. Nina Chandler, who has spent the past several weeks in Medford visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Mongrain, Mrs. Mabel Conger and Mrs. Ora Davis, has returned to her home in Fortuna, Calif.

Volunteer workers are needed now in many service groups in the auxiliary, the officers report. Anyone willing to give a few hours of time each month may be placed in volunteer work suited to her interests and abilities, Mrs. Barnes adds. The variety of tasks performed by auxiliaries includes sewing; making surgical dressings, caring for patients' flowers, operating the gift shop and snack bar in the hospital lobby, and the coffee cart and gift cart which circulate through the building each day; as well as assisting hospital personnel at the reception desk, and in doing clerical work.

Orientation, which is required of all auxiliary members, is designed to acquaint volunteers with the organization's administrative structure, hospital rules and policies pertaining to volunteers, and a general outline of duties carried out by various service groups. Training of new members is done "on the job" by the chairman of each group, after the volunteer selects the work she wishes to do.

State-wide recognition has been given the Rogue Valley Memorial orientation procedure in recent years, with the local group presenting a program at the State Council of Hospital Auxiliaries convention two years ago. The class ends with a tour of the building for all who wish to inspect the entire plant.

Knife-Fork Dates Set

The 1963-64 season of the valley's two Knife and Fork clubs will open the first week in October.

On Tuesday, October 1, the Rogue River Valley club in Medford will hear Dr. Hubert Herring speak on Latin America at the Rogue Valley Country club.

On Thursday, October 3, George Bailey, known as "The man with the photographic memory," will speak at a dinner meeting of the Siskiyou club in Ashland at the Caesar room of the Mark Antony hotel.

Dinner reservations for both clubs must be made in advance with the club secretaries. In Medford the secretary is Mrs. Richard House, 15 Corn ing court, and in Ashland, Mrs. Ella Hendrixson, 360 Morton street. In Ashland prospective members and guests are invited to attend the opening meeting.

Art Exhibit Announced

ASHLAND — Robert E. Alston, new assistant professor of art at Southern Oregon college, will exhibit his paintings September 30 through October 25 in the college Britt Art gallery during regular class hours. The exhibit consists of many flower motifs which are semi-abstract in character and done in oils.

Mr. Alston's past exhibits include one at the Los Angeles Municipal Art Competition exhibit, 1961 and the Southern California Art Educational Association conference, 1961-62.

The teacher, who will instruct painting, drawing, and art appreciation, graduated from University of California and did graduate work at Claremont college. He also attended Otis Art institute in Los Angeles.

Townpeople are invited to see the exhibit at no charge.

Travel Theme For Auxiliary

EAGLE POINT — Travel will be the program theme for the Eagle Point Lions club auxiliary, officers announced this week. The topic was decided on during a meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. Hoyle Jordan when projects for the year also were discussed.

Mrs. Don Geren was elected to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Vern Steward as treasurer.

Birthday calendar orders also must be made by Wednesday, September 25, it was announced. Those wanting more information concerning them may contact Mrs. Charles Martin, treasurer.

Nile Daughters Plan Luncheon

A no-hostess luncheon and card party for members of Daughters of the Nile has been set for Monday, September 30 at 12:30 p. m., in the downstairs banquet room in the Medford hotel.

Reservations should be made by Thursday, September 26 by calling Mrs. Ernest B. Price, 772-2691 or Mrs. Ralph Krows, 772-4588, Medford, or Mrs. M. P. Dunn, 482-1828, Ashland. The event is for members from Ashland, Grants Pass and Medford.

Those who attend are to take cards, Contract bridge, pinocle and canasta will be played.

Janet Plumley, in the fourth grade at Wilson school, and big Sister Sue, a junior at Medford High school, modeled for the style show which Jean Hart gave for Beta Upsilon chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, last week at the Joe Hearin's home on East Main street. Janet's rain coat is orange-red and Sue modeled a classic plaid skirt and red sweater. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Plumley, Hillcrest road.

Newcomer Honored

PROSPECT — A shower was given recently honoring Mrs. James Kennedy in the home of Mrs. John Shallenberger. Hostesses were wives of Forest service personnel.

Mrs. Kennedy, a graduate of Pennsylvania State university, recently moved here with Mr. Kennedy from Clementon, N. J. The couple lives at the Prospect Ranger station where Mr. Kennedy is employed.

Season to Open For Travel Club

Travel Study club of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs will begin the fall season with a meeting Tuesday, September 24, at 1 p. m. in the Fireplace room of Girls Community club, 229 North Bartlett street.

Mrs. Almus Pruitt, Medford, will give a travelogue. Members of the executive board will be tea hostesses.

Pages for the appointment calendar which members of Medford Junior Women's club publish each fall as a fund-raising project were assembled last week and are in the hands of the printers. It is expected that the sales will begin by mid-week. Pictured during a work session last week are (left to right) Mrs. William E. Sweet, project chairman; Mrs. F. D. Nelson, chairman of inside pages and Mrs. Jack L. Lust, sales chairman. The meeting was held at the Lust home, 309 Havana avenue. The Junior Women's club supports a clothing pool which provides clothing for underprivileged children of the city, and last year donated $250 to other projects, including $100 to the E. H. Hedrick Memorial student loan fund at Medford High school.

Hootenanny Show Meets With Favor

"Hootenanny" was a word seldom heard in this area until recent years—now it is so familiar that it was chosen as the theme of a style show held last week by Beta Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Some remember the time when "hootenanny" was used to describe a thing or gadget when no better word could be brought to mind, and Webster's new dictionary says the origin is unknown.

Now a "hootenanny" means an informal gathering or party where there is folk singing and dancing. This transition in meaning came about no one seems to be quite sure. But under this definition, the Beta Upsilon party qualified—the event was informal, there was folk singing and a modern dance number, and the fashion show was staged in a relaxed manner.

Weather Uncooperative If only the weather had cooperated with the efficient sorority planners, the outdoor party would have been an unqualified success. A storm caused postponement from the original date and while the skies eventually cleared last Tuesday after a spotty late afternoon rain, the night was a bit chilly and some tables were unoccupied by those who had bought tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hearin, who were introduced, loaned the patio and garden of their home on East Main street for the party, the second annual summer benefit which the chapter is given. Lush greenery and blossoms provided a colorful setting.

Tables were covered with burlap and at each place napkins made to resemble bandana kerchiefs were tied to the table. Refreshments included hot spiced cider.

Models Listed Models were Mrs. Randy Huggahl, Mrs. Arvin Reynolds, Mrs. E. D. Davis, Mrs. E. A. Littrell, Mrs. Sheridan Scott, Mrs. C. Rease Braley and Mrs. R. M. Evans, and Brenda Carr, Jan and Sue Plumley and Pam Trowbridge.

Mrs. Arlon Skinner was commentator for the style show, staged by Mrs. Carl Wimberly Jr. for Jean Hart's store. Mrs. Skinner said that "the look" for fall and winter is one of new versions of familiar things, of clothing which has the sportive look but is still feminine, and above all, the new clothing is casual, comfortable, easy to live with and nice to look at. As the models paraded among the tables the guests learned that pleats are in favor, that shifts are still fashionable and some have sweaters to match, that the sportive look shows up in skirts and jackets, that navy blue, avocado green and cranberry red are favorite colors and that many sleeves are long and tight, or long and cuffed.

One coat was red on one side and white on the other, leather trim and piping sparks suits and ensembles, and elegant suits have removable fur collars. The high school and college set welcomes the news that jumpers are back in style and that they are designed to be worn alone or over blouses or shells.

Camel Returns One of the old favorites back in the fashion picture is camel both as a cloth and a color, and fur coats are staging a comeback, although in a modest version. One of the interesting fur combinations is smooth muskrat collared in mink.

The models had their hair styled at Rose Beauty center and it was noted that all had been done twice, since the first show had to be postponed. The hair stylists were introduced. Jewelry from Weisfields was worn or carried by some of the models; the furs were from Curtis Stewart.

The Coachmen and the Barrymore Singers entertained with folk songs, meeting with great favor, as did Sidney Yarnell of Colleen Hope's Dance school.

Ushers were Kathy and Linda Rentz, Jeannie and Sandy Wilson, Connie Vitarino, Robyn Davis and Cari Knoll.

Prizes were provided by Jean Hart, Rose Beauty center, Mary Lou's Gift shop and Weisfields; favors by the Reynolds Tobacco company, Jean Hart, the Fuller Brush company and the Avon Cosmetic company.

Proceeds will provide a scholarship for a woman student at Southern Oregon college, O.S.

Bridal Shower Prospect Event

PROSPECT — Miss Susan Betts, bride-elect of Fred Governor of Gold Hill, was honored at a bridal shower given recently by the Shallenberger home. Twenty-three guests attended. Yellow dahlias decorated the refreshment table.

The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Betts, Prospect. The wedding has been set for September 28 in Gold Hill Methodist church.
