

BACK ON WATERFRONT—James J. Braddock, 58, once heavy-weight champion boxer, gets into the cab of a crane at Jersey City, N. J. Braddock, once called the "Cinderella Man" because, after working as a longshoreman, he won the heavyweight title and earned almost a million dollars until his retirement in 1933, is back on the waterfront. He is one of 140 men employed by American Bridge Co. to work on steel components that will float by barge across the harbor to form the upper and lower decks of the Verrazano Narrows bridge. His current salary is $170 per week. (UPI)

Alcoholic Center At Troutdale Urged

PORTLAND (UPI) — A proposal that Portland and Multnomah county acquire the Troutdale Convalescent Hospital for an alcoholic treatment center has been made. The suggestion was delivered at a meeting of the City-County Coordinating Committee here by its subcommittee on rehabilitation. County Commission Chairman Mel Gordon is chairman of the subcommittee. Gordon said that the hospital, which is scheduled to soon be vacated, would be used as a medical treatment center for alcoholic offenders and would be operated in conjunction with the correctional institution at the county farm. It would be used jointly by Portland and Multnomah county. The paper industry utilizes 10 per cent of the U. S. chemical industry's output.

Per Capita Tax Payments Said Less in Oregon

SALEM (UPI) —Oregon state and local tax payment in relation to personal incomes are less than in adjoining states, the State Tax Commission said Tuesday, "and would continue to be favorable" if the tax measure is upheld at the Oct. 15 special election. The commission cited the bureau of the census' special study, "state and local government revenue in 1953," and made comparisons with reports issued for 1961 and fiscal 1963. The commission noted: "While state and local taxes are taking a larger share of personal income in Oregon, the rate of increase has been slower than in many other states. Oregon has relied on property taxpayers for a larger share of the increase in state and local taxes than have other states. Will Ease Pressure —Approval of the income tax bill will, at least temporarily, ease the pressure on the property tax. A comparison of state and local taxes per $1,000 of personal income for fiscal 1953 and fiscal 1961 shows these increases: California $87.55 to $107.24, Idaho $95.15 to $104.77, Washington $82.90 to $100.66, Oregon $87.22 to $97.43, national average $77.06 to $93.86. A list of per capita western state tax collections for fiscal 1963 shows Oregon in 11th position: Nevada $196.11, Hawaii $92.13, Washington $182.86, Alaska $159.07, California $150.81, New Mexico $146.06, Arizona $147.86, Utah $126.28, Wyoming $123.33, Colorado $121.62, Oregon $120.96, national average $119.43, Idaho $109.00, and Montana $104.18.

INTOXICATING RIDE CARLOTTA, Calif. —(UPI)—Jack Leroy Irwin, 65, was cited for drunken driving Tuesday when a highway patrolman spotted a horse zipping along a highway with Irwin lurching in the saddle. Under the portion of the citation which reads "type of vehicle," Patrolman L. H. Snead wrote: "1961 black gelding."

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a physician, three clergymen, three editors and a woman's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counselors and social workers. Edited by Mrs. Alma Denny. (Copyright by General Features Corp.)

Mr. T. U.—I'm miserable and want to move back to the city. Mrs. T. U.—We can't. We said our goodbyes and must stay here.

Mr. T. U.—Last year I sold my business and my wife and I moved to Washington to be near our children and grandchildren. I envisioned a wonderful life, getting to know the young folks better. I wanted to make up for the years when I was too busy to relax with them. But now I miss the old life, our old neighborhood and close friends. The children belong to clubs and groups leaving them no time for me. I see them less than before. Mrs. T. U.—Now that the novelty of the change has worn off, my husband is restless. He isn't even trying to make new friends. Whenever he can't be with a member of the family, he talks of moving back to the Bronx. I'm sure we can find other retired couples like ourselves here and enjoy this city. It isn't all up to the children. Besides, how will it look to return now? People will think we had a big fight and couldn't get along with our sons' families.

The Council: In Pennsylvania Dutch this simple commentary sounds sage: "Ve get old zo quick and shmart zo slow." Mr. U's error lay in assuming that his family could replace, for him, a whole neighborhood, a slew of business associates, a lifetime reservoir of friends. No family can, or should, fill all of a man's social and emotional needs. Some people find it easy to strike up new bonds wherever they move. For others, great effort is required. Mr. U. seems to be one of the latter. If adjustment to the strange milieu comes too hard to him, he should move back. Bosh, say we, to Mrs. U.'s fear of appearances. Tell the home folks that moving k i t - a n d - c a b o o i l e without a trial period was a hasty decision. Coming back, in

De Gaulle Inspects Two Nuclear Plants ORANGE, France (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle arrived in this ancient Roman city under tight security guard Tuesday for a top secret trip to see France's growing nuclear force. It was the first stage of the President's personal appearance campaign to drum up support for his government's save-the-franc austerity program. Defying calls by the outlawed Secret Army Organization for a boycott of his tour, De Gaulle took off for Orange in Southern France by presidential Caravelle jet transport from Orly Airport. He was spending the first day on a top secret visit to the atomic installations at nearby Pierrelatte and Cadarache.

Lincoln Telephone Exclusive Granted

SALEM (UPI)—An order naming Depoe Bay Telephone Co., Aurora, as the exclusive telephone utility in a large portion of Lincoln county was signed Tuesday by Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill. The order ended a dispute between Depoe Bay Telephone and Lincoln-Tillamook Telephone Co., over who should be allowed to serve the Salinas development on the south end of Siletz Bay. Hill granted the area to Depoe Bay telephone, but was critical of the company for extending its lines into the Siletz spit area which previously was considered a part of Lincoln-Tillamook's service area. Depoe Bay provides dial phone service to 313 subscribers in its coast area. It has about 31 miles of line, including service drops.

Public Meetings Slated To Discuss North Cascades

Officials of the Bureau of Outdoor recreation and the Forest service have announced that public meetings will be conducted to discuss the future management of national forest lands in the North Cascade Mountain area of northern Washington. Individuals and representatives of associations or organizations interested in the use, management, and administration of the resources of the north Cascades are invited to present their viewpoints orally or in writing. The north Cascades has for many years been the subject of conflicting proposals for management and development. Almost all the area lies within the Snoqualmie, Mt. Baker, Wenatchee, and Okanogan national forests. The region includes the Glacier Peak Wilderness area and the North Cascade Primitive area. Earlier this year a five-man Study Team was appointed by the Secretaries of Agriculture and Interior. This group is studying the area and will submit to Secretaries Orville Freeman and Stewart Udall recommendations for use and management. The secretaries will present their joint recommendation to President Kennedy. The study team is headed by Dr. Edward C. Crafts, director of the Bureau of Outdoor recreation. Serving with him are two representatives each from the Departments of Agriculture and Interior. The public meetings will be conducted by the study group Oct. 7 at the Cascadian hotel, Wenatchee. On Oct. 8, 9, and 10 meetings will be held in Seattle at the New Washington hotel. Individuals who wish to make either an oral or a written statement should write to Fred J. Overly, Field director, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Box 2255, Seattle.

FLIGHT DECK OF THE 1964 THUNDERBIRD

*The Thunderbird for 1964 is coming Friday!
So different...so beautifully different.*

Here is a completely new Thunderbird. New styling sets the Thunderbird mood for 1964. A look inside reveals how Thunderbird maintains it. You are surrounded by advances that make even Thunderbird veterans sigh. The new contoured "shell" front seats cradle you luxuriously. The rear seats are joined with one sweeping line — "coiled" for Thunderbird comfort. Instruments are conveniently positioned and softly lighted for night deck clarity. Even the speedometer numerals are individually lighted. There is a unique Silent Flo ventilation system. It pulls air through the entire car, even with the windows closed. Of course, it is exclusive with Thunderbird. Other thoughtful details that add to your enjoyment of this new Thunderbird include direction light indicators on the tips of the front fenders . . . a padded hub for the standard Swing Away steering wheel . . . a warning light that reminds you to fasten the retractable seat belts . . . an optional reclining passenger seat. When you are ready to drive you will discover the new refinements in Thunderbird smoothness, Thunderbird silence, the new perfection in the authority of that 300-horsepower V-8. Absolute control is at your command as Thunderbird unwinds and softens every road. Now you have a hint that this Thunderbird is more Thunderbird than ever, more dedicated to the unique pleasures of Thunderbird travel. Everyone should discover that for himself. Your Ford Dealer has a 1964 Thunderbird waiting for you.
