SALEM (UPI)—Discussion of a policy on providing birth control information to welfare recipients is scheduled for Friday's meeting of the State Public Welfare Commission here.

The state of New York collects more than $2 million revenue a week in state-imposed gasoline taxes.

Lace Lavishly Used In Foundation Items

Casual for day, elegant for evening—that's the story, in brief, of fall fashions. And the foundations designed to shape these new fashions can be summarized just as briefly: they're equal parts froth and fit!

Every season foundations become softer, lighter, more sheer. This season they've reached a peak of filmy yet persuasive control.

Lace is lavishly used: overlaying, with parfait effect, a solid fabric; banding the legs of a pantie girdle; in a clipped version, forming bra cups; as a stretch fabric, becoming a control panel.

Spandex appears in all types of shapemakers, from the merest pantie briefs for junior sizes to the most amply proportioned corselets.

Foundations Snug Bands of elastic, both woven and knitted, aid in keeping foundations snug to the figure and in controlling problem areas: they border three-quarter and long line brassieres, high-rising girdles, pantie girdles stretching near the knee.

Ribbons, too, serve both decorative and functional uses: pleat effects are achieved through the use of stitched tricot or marquisette. Garter grips are smaller, zippers thinner, buckles slimmer, hooks and eyes color-keyed.

Biggest news in brassieres is the stretch strap: knitted spandex straps that stretch and hold wherever they're placed, adjusting to different necklines and helping to insure smooth back-band fit.

Polyester Fiberfill Another development is the increasing use of polyester fiberfill to give shape to contour cups, making contour

LAYERED LOOK — Even the littlest fashionables like the layered look this fall. White smockette with deer applique goes over a demure puff-sleeved dress in pink, blue or yellow. Either the dress or the smockette can be worn alone.

Teen-Ager Will Look High, Low For Shoe Items

The teen-ager will be looking high and low for her shoe wardrobe this fall. From thigh-high boots to new low-heeled, shallow-cut skimmers, there's plenty of variety afoot.

Stripped down shells with little heels are blossoming out in bright leathers at every party and prom, while there's a leather boot to suit every occasion on the teen calendar.

Whittled to a new slimmness, raised to a high topline, boots are leaner, longer and leveler. One leotard-boot in soft, unlined leather actually covers the thigh; another ends above the knee. Lanky look is retained through use of zippers or elasticized gores.

Most popular version with teen fashionables is the calf-length leather boot, seen in a wide range of colors and textures, including smooth, suede, brushed, grained and patent. Many are shearing lined.

Half-sister to the boot is the almost-boot, cut just below the ankle and color-drenched in bright, dark or neutral shades.

The new low-heeled pumps feature varied leathers and leather combinations. Stripping, straps or cutaway side or back give a sophisticated "bare look" to some pumps.

Classic companion to sports-wear is the leather moccasin, either traditionally styled or updated with vamp openings or insets, stitched treatments or refined appliques. Mellow waxy leather finishes are a particular pot in the mocc.

Rounded shapes and crescents, slightly widened, tell the toe-line story in teen dress shoes. For mocs and casuals, it's smart to be square.

The largest demand for electric light bulbs is for those in the 60 and 100-watt sizes, used chiefly in households and business establishments.

ENGLISH STYLE — Styled in the English manner, this new fall hat has the "traditional" look so popular today. Raw edge brim, trimly tapered crown, smart back curl.
