

Obituaries

KATHERINE M. GRIFFIN
Katherine M. Griffin, 71, of 4079 South Pacific highway, died in a local hospital Sunday.

ALBERT N. SOLISS
Albert N. Soliss, who died at Compton, Calif., on Sept. 25, was formerly a resident of southern Oregon.

He moved with his parents when quite young to Jacksonville where they lived for some time, later moving to a farm his parents, D. B. Soliss and Margaret S. Soliss, purchased in what was known as the Griffin Creek area.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Bertha Rose Soliss; a son, Albert R. Soliss, a government engineer in Alaska; and one sister, Mrs. Evelyn Cooper, San Jose.

Interment will be in the Angeles Abby mausoleum, Compton.

WILL M. DODGE
ASHLAND - Will Marshall Dodge, 80, of 600 Siskiyou blvd., last surviving member of J. P. Dodge and Sons, early Ashland business firm, died Saturday night following a long illness.

Mr. Dodge was born Feb. 19, 1883, in Greenville, Iowa, and came to Ashland with his parents as an infant. The family for many years owned and operated J. P. Dodge and Sons Furniture and Funeral parlors.

Mr. Dodge was married in 1909 to Ina Hunt, who died in 1934. In 1935, in Portland, he married Jessie Margaret Seese, who survives.

He was a member of the Elks lodge and of the Masonic lodge, AF and AM, both Ashland, the First Methodist church and Rotary, in which he was a charter member.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1, at Litwiller's Mt. View chapel officiating with the Rev. B. J. Holland of the First Presbyterian church. Interment will be in the Ashland cemetery.

MRS. OLIVIA EVANS
Funeral services for Mrs. Olivia Evans, Portland, a former resident of Medford, who died Friday in McMinnville, will be conducted Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Chapel in the Trees mortuary, within Siskiyou Memorial park. The Rev. Gordon Dalton of the Glenhaven Baptist church, Portland, will officiate.

Interment will follow in Siskiyou Memorial park.

Funeral arrangements are entrusted to Siskiyou Funeral service directors of Chapel in the Trees mortuary.

Over-the-Counter Western Stocks
By United Press International

Table with columns: Stock Name, Bid, Asked. Includes Bank America, Bank of California, etc.

Investment Funds
Noon quotations on selected stocks

THE NOTORIOUS LANDLADY
3ND HIT! 10 A.M.
THE CAPTAINS Table

Local and Personal

Articles Stolen - James Hugh Bayne, route 1, box 300E, Central Point, complained to sheriff's deputies Sunday that some articles were taken from his vehicle. They included false teeth, cigarettes and a radio.

Hospital Patients - Convalescing at Sacred Heart hospital following surgery is Ralph D. Mason, Star route box 473, Shady Cove. A medical patient there is Frank J. Finchum, Pipp route, box 7, Butte Falls.

Kill Rattler - Barry and Bruce Holt, 615 Franquette ave., killed a 46 inch rattlesnake Saturday afternoon on Roxy Ann, it was reported today. The snake had nine rattles and a button, they said.

Driver Arrested - Cecil Ralph Welburn, 42, of 2550 Griffin Creek rd., was arrested by Medford city police Saturday on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating beverages. He was lodged in Jackson county jail.

Permit Issued - The Medford building department has issued a permit to Lee Garrett to remodel a residence at 106 Cottage st. at an estimated cost of $1,900.

Brush Burns - Patrolmen of the state department of forestry battled a six-acre grass and brush fire on land adjacent to Logtown cemetery in the Applegate area on Saturday afternoon. Patrolmen said that the blaze began along the road, but that the exact cause had not been determined.

Jackson Named to Advisory Council
SALEM (UPI) - A 25-member advisory council to the Legislative Interim Committee on Technical Employment has been named by Sen. Don S. Willner (D-Portland), chairman.

Thirteen of the advisory members are from Portland: Donald G. Balmor, George Brown, Thomas C. Donaca, Bishop A. Raymond Grant, John S. Griffith, E. Shelton Hill, Donald V. McCallum, William S. McLennan, John Parks, Leonard A. Runkle, Mrs. S. N. Stanley, Montagiero Thomas J. Tobin, and Allen P. Wheeler.

Members from other communities include Paul G. Ackerman Canby; Philip N. Bladine, McMinnville; George Dewey, Salem; Howard E. Hunt, North Bend; Glenn L. Jackson, Medford; Freeman Schultz, Bend; Charles E. Smith, Springfield; Fred Sohn, Roseburg; R. L. Sundstrom, St. Helens; Howard Vollum, Beaverton; and Dr. Donald A. Watson and Joe L. Williams, Eugene.

Willner said the advisory council is composed of leaders from all parts of Oregon's economic life, including industry, labor, agriculture, education and the general public.

Three Teen-Agers Arrested for Thefts
Three teen-age Medford boys were taken into custody by city police Saturday afternoon on a charge of larceny from an auto.

The youngsters, two aged 15 and one aged 14, were lodged in Jackson county jail on the advice of juvenile authorities because of inadequate space at the detention home.

MAYORS ON TOUR
PORTLAND (UPI) - A group of 15 Japanese mayors arrived here Sunday to continue a tour in which they are studying various types of city governments.

GAS TAX
NEW YORK (UPI) - The combined average of state and federal gasoline taxes is more than 10 cents a gallon. The federal tax was increased three times in the 1960s, according to Oil Facts.

Potatoes Half Shell Made With Cheese
Potatoes on the half shell like the best chefs prepare them easily can be prepared at home.

Switch Overheats - City firemen were sent to Rogue Valley hospital about 12:30 a.m. Sunday when an overheated switch was reported. They said there was no damage.

Grass Fire - Ashland firemen were called out at 7:35 p.m. Sunday to control a grass fire near the old Taylor mill site between the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. Cause of the fire was not determined. It burned an area about 100 feet square.

Returns from Meeting - Dave M. Franklin, president, Franklin's Transfer and Storage, Medford, has returned from Seattle, Wash., where he attended the annual Northwestern District meeting of the Mayflower Warehousemen's association. Franklin, as district vice president of the Mayflower association, presided at the meeting.

Deaths
GRANGER - To Mr. and Mrs. Calvin, 240 North Holly st., Medford, Sept. 28, 1963, a girl, 8 1/2 pounds, at Rogue Valley hospital.

IMHAUSEN - To Mr. and Mrs. I. H., 1490 Thomas rd., Medford, Sept. 29, 1963, a girl, 5 pounds, at Rogue Valley hospital.

McVAY - To Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C., 714 Dakota st., Medford, Sept. 29, 1963, a boy, 8 1/4 pounds, at Rogue Valley hospital.

PHILLIPS - To Mr. and Mrs. James, route 2, box 72C, Central Point, Sept. 29, 1963, a boy, 7 1/2 pounds, at Rogue Valley hospital.

LENKER - To Mr. and Mrs. John, Red Blanket rd., post office box 158, Prospect, Sept. 29, 1963, a girl, 7 1/2 pounds, at Rogue Valley hospital.

LASCRUAIN - To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur, 2870 Springbrook rd., Medford, Sept. 29, 1963, a boy, 5 1/4 pounds, at Rogue Valley hospital.

MILNER - To Mr. and Mrs. Ted, Kerby, Ore., Sept. 19, 1963, a girl, 5 1/4 pounds, at Cave Junction Medical Center.

Man Arraigned for Theft of Timber
Bill Gallentine, 38, of 1603 Jasmine ave., was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Frank J. Van Dyke Saturday afternoon on a charge of stealing government property.

According to the federal complaint, Gallentine is charged with taking 302 trees containing 276,000 board feet from the bureau of land management while logging in the Howard Prairie area. The stumpage value was reported to be $3,518.55.

Gallentine, who was arrested by federal agents Saturday, is being held in Jackson county jail with bail set at $1,500.

'Full Disclosure' Law In Effect on Tuesday
SALEM (UPI) - Oregon's retail installment financing act - the "full disclosure" law - goes into effect Tuesday, Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton reminded today.

The measure is similar to the law regulating motor vehicle retail installment contracts.

Thornton said "the full disclosure law prohibits hidden charges and requires listing of the terms and conditions in an understandable manner."

Portland Livestock
PORTLAND (UPI) - USDA - Cattle 1900. Mixed high good-choice steers 25; good 24; standard 23; high good-choice heifers near 800 lb 24; standard, good 18-20; utility cows 16-50; standard 15-20; cutter utility 14-15; canner-cutter 10-14; cutter-utility 12-50-18; good, few choice feeder steers 21-23; good choice steers 24-27; those at 27 near 300 lb.

'Cloak and Dagger' Network Is Routine in West Germany

The Bavarian capital has political intrigue in its blood. Adolf Hitler made his famed beerhall putsch there. Recently, French foes of President Charles de Gaulle tried to use Munich as a base of operations. Since 1948 it's been Gehlen's home.

Germany, the hornet's nest is Berlin. In the U. S. sector of West Berlin, behind a long, high red brick wall, is the center of the nest.

Like the twin "U. S. Mission" in Stuttgart, the building in West Berlin's "Little America" or "Golden Ghetto" has a steady stream of visitors with the crew - cut look of the CIA. The men in appearance all could have played left half at Ohio State.

Referring to CIA work, President Kennedy told retiring Allen Dulles after the Cuban "Bay of Pigs" incident, "Your successes are unheralded, your failures trumpeted." The men behind the red brick wall in West Berlin can point to at least one trumpeted success.

Joke on Reds
In 1955, U. S. agents dug a 500-yard tunnel under the East Berlin border. At the Communist end of the tunnel they tapped the telephone and telegraph lines servicing Soviet Army headquarters in Germany. They tapped lines poured out a flood of secret data. Almost a year later the Red Army stumbled onto the tunnel. West Berliners still laugh at the Communists about it - and some "Spook's" little joke.

When the amazed and enraged Soviets crept into the tunnel, they found a sign at the point where it passed under the East - West border. The sign told the Russians they were now entering West Berlin.

The Berlin Wall presents no difficulties that the Communists cannot overcome for a nickel - 20 pennings - to use the Communist-operated elevated railway running over the wall. At the Eastern side stations are jackboots and armed East German guards and overly-polite functionaries who, detectors testify, can easily photograph a Western tourist's passport during the "routine" inspection. There is no barrier to Communist spies at the Western stations.

It is only at the airline, autobahn and train exits to West Germany that Communist agents must trouble to show a forged passport. Allied agents in West Germany are said to have had a bad week when they fail to turn up a few dozen East

Germany agents. More than 2,000 Germans have been convicted of spying in West Germany since the war. But almost 20,000 spy recruits have been less trouble - they turned themselves in to West German authorities.

Since four of five West Germans have relatives in East Germany, the Communists have felt free to force westerners or refugees from the East into spying. Spying is the price the victim pays for no harm coming to kin in the East. This has helped make West Germans regard spying as almost as routine as bending an elbow at the neighborhood beer hall.

In Frankfurt, members of the United Press International staff about twice weekly see the same black sedan pull up at 3 p.m. in the square below the UPI office windows. One of the two men always in the car gets out, drops a small packet into a wastebasket standing at the nearby bus stop. The pair wait in the car. Soon another car arrives and the driver steps out, plucks out the packet and drives off. The black sedan then leaves.

Told of this, West German police made a casual inspection.

U. S. Central Intelligence Agency local headquarters are said to be in the "Little Pentagon" - the giant pre-war I. G. Farben company office building which Allied bombers spared for post war use as U.S. Army headquarters here.

The CIA governs most Allied intelligence in West Germany and it reaches out in many directions.

Within a lion's roar of Frankfurt's famed zoo is a drab brick turn-of-century building whose occupants specialize in sneaking into the Soviet Union. The building houses the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, a nervous but spirited band of ex-Soviet citizens, including Red Army deserters. It also includes at least one former assassin of the Soviet KGB espionage organization who came to kill the NTS chief but defected instead.

From the iron-fenced building at 24 Merianstrasse pour millions of propaganda leaflets which are stuffed into Soviet hands whenever a Russian ship docks at a non-Communist port or wherever a Moscow delegation arrives in the West. The leaflets are credited with inspiring 300 Red Army defections during the 1953 East German workers' revolt.

But the CIA is most interested in the NTS' success in penetrating Soviet territory. A favorite method is said to be putting agents ashore on East Germany's Baltic coast and farther north into Soviet-occupied Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, whose populations reportedly do not frown on anti-Communist activity.

Six miles outside Frankfurt, in the green foothills of the Taunus mountains, is another cloak and dagger center, the U.S. Army's Camp King.

The military intelligence post serves as the center for interrogating defectors from Communism. A recent guest in the well-guarded base was Maj. Ryszard Obacz, the Polish air force officer who flew with his wife and two sons in a Polish trainer to West Berlin.

Nestled in the post-war glass and steel office buildings of Cologne, Hamburg and Duesseldorf are the unmarked offices of Gehlen's phantom corps of 5,000 agents whose network shoots out to the Soviet, Ural Mountains and to Communist China.

But the nerve center is in Munich.

Marriage Rate Continues Climb
NEW YORK (UPI) - The number of marriages in the United States went up 1.9 per cent in 1962, the fourth consecutive year to record a rise.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company said there were about 1,579,000 marriages in the country last year, compared with 1,550,000 in 1961 and 1,525,000 in 1960.

Last night I dreamed he took me to Dinner in the CANDLE ROOM.

unchallenged respect in the West German parliament. Now parliament's three parties are demanding an FIA shakeup.

The West German government estimates there are 16,000 Communist spies in the country. This, added to the number of Western agents and counterespies here, indicates that about one person in every 2,000 in the country is an intelligence agent.

Western agents are fairly easy to locate. A spook's tour - "spook" is cloak and dagger lingo for agent - of West Germany could start here in Frankfurt.

U. S. Central Intelligence Agency local headquarters are said to be in the "Little Pentagon" - the giant pre-war I. G. Farben company office building which Allied bombers spared for post war use as U.S. Army headquarters here.

The CIA governs most Allied intelligence in West Germany and it reaches out in many directions.

Within a lion's roar of Frankfurt's famed zoo is a drab brick turn-of-century building whose occupants specialize in sneaking into the Soviet Union. The building houses the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, a nervous but spirited band of ex-Soviet citizens, including Red Army deserters. It also includes at least one former assassin of the Soviet KGB espionage organization who came to kill the NTS chief but defected instead.

From the iron-fenced building at 24 Merianstrasse pour millions of propaganda leaflets which are stuffed into Soviet hands whenever a Russian ship docks at a non-Communist port or wherever a Moscow delegation arrives in the West. The leaflets are credited with inspiring 300 Red Army defections during the 1953 East German workers' revolt.

But the CIA is most interested in the NTS' success in penetrating Soviet territory. A favorite method is said to be putting agents ashore on East Germany's Baltic coast and farther north into Soviet-occupied Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, whose populations reportedly do not frown on anti-Communist activity.

Six miles outside Frankfurt, in the green foothills of the Taunus mountains, is another cloak and dagger center, the U.S. Army's Camp King.

The military intelligence post serves as the center for interrogating defectors from Communism. A recent guest in the well-guarded base was Maj. Ryszard Obacz, the Polish air force officer who flew with his wife and two sons in a Polish trainer to West Berlin.

Nestled in the post-war glass and steel office buildings of Cologne, Hamburg and Duesseldorf are the unmarked offices of Gehlen's phantom corps of 5,000 agents whose network shoots out to the Soviet, Ural Mountains and to Communist China.

But the nerve center is in Munich.

Germany, the hornet's nest is Berlin. In the U. S. sector of West Berlin, behind a long, high red brick wall, is the center of the nest.

Like the twin "U. S. Mission" in Stuttgart, the building in West Berlin's "Little America" or "Golden Ghetto" has a steady stream of visitors with the crew - cut look of the CIA. The men in appearance all could have played left half at Ohio State.

Referring to CIA work, President Kennedy told retiring Allen Dulles after the Cuban "Bay of Pigs" incident, "Your successes are unheralded, your failures trumpeted." The men behind the red brick wall in West Berlin can point to at least one trumpeted success.

Joke on Reds
In 1955, U. S. agents dug a 500-yard tunnel under the East Berlin border. At the Communist end of the tunnel they tapped the telephone and telegraph lines servicing Soviet Army headquarters in Germany. They tapped lines poured out a flood of secret data. Almost a year later the Red Army stumbled onto the tunnel. West Berliners still laugh at the Communists about it - and some "Spook's" little joke.

When the amazed and enraged Soviets crept into the tunnel, they found a sign at the point where it passed under the East - West border. The sign told the Russians they were now entering West Berlin.

The Berlin Wall presents no difficulties that the Communists cannot overcome for a nickel - 20 pennings - to use the Communist-operated elevated railway running over the wall. At the Eastern side stations are jackboots and armed East German guards and overly-polite functionaries who, detectors testify, can easily photograph a Western tourist's passport during the "routine" inspection. There is no barrier to Communist spies at the Western stations.

It is only at the airline, autobahn and train exits to West Germany that Communist agents must trouble to show a forged passport. Allied agents in West Germany are said to have had a bad week when they fail to turn up a few dozen East

Germany agents. More than 2,000 Germans have been convicted of spying in West Germany since the war. But almost 20,000 spy recruits have been less trouble - they turned themselves in to West German authorities.

Since four of five West Germans have relatives in East Germany, the Communists have felt free to force westerners or refugees from the East into spying. Spying is the price the victim pays for no harm coming to kin in the East. This has helped make West Germans regard spying as almost as routine as bending an elbow at the neighborhood beer hall.

In Frankfurt, members of the United Press International staff about twice weekly see the same black sedan pull up at 3 p.m. in the square below the UPI office windows. One of the two men always in the car gets out, drops a small packet into a wastebasket standing at the nearby bus stop. The pair wait in the car. Soon another car arrives and the driver steps out, plucks out the packet and drives off. The black sedan then leaves.

Told of this, West German police made a casual inspection.

U. S. Central Intelligence Agency local headquarters are said to be in the "Little Pentagon" - the giant pre-war I. G. Farben company office building which Allied bombers spared for post war use as U.S. Army headquarters here.

The CIA governs most Allied intelligence in West Germany and it reaches out in many directions.

Within a lion's roar of Frankfurt's famed zoo is a drab brick turn-of-century building whose occupants specialize in sneaking into the Soviet Union. The building houses the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, a nervous but spirited band of ex-Soviet citizens, including Red Army deserters. It also includes at least one former assassin of the Soviet KGB espionage organization who came to kill the NTS chief but defected instead.

From the iron-fenced building at 24 Merianstrasse pour millions of propaganda leaflets which are stuffed into Soviet hands whenever a Russian ship docks at a non-Communist port or wherever a Moscow delegation arrives in the West. The leaflets are credited with inspiring 300 Red Army defections during the 1953 East German workers' revolt.

But the CIA is most interested in the NTS' success in penetrating Soviet territory. A favorite method is said to be putting agents ashore on East Germany's Baltic coast and farther north into Soviet-occupied Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, whose populations reportedly do not frown on anti-Communist activity.

Six miles outside Frankfurt, in the green foothills of the Taunus mountains, is another cloak and dagger center, the U.S. Army's Camp King.

The military intelligence post serves as the center for interrogating defectors from Communism. A recent guest in the well-guarded base was Maj. Ryszard Obacz, the Polish air force officer who flew with his wife and two sons in a Polish trainer to West Berlin.

Nestled in the post-war glass and steel office buildings of Cologne, Hamburg and Duesseldorf are the unmarked offices of Gehlen's phantom corps of 5,000 agents whose network shoots out to the Soviet, Ural Mountains and to Communist China.

Germany agents. More than 2,000 Germans have been convicted of spying in West Germany since the war. But almost 20,000 spy recruits have been less trouble - they turned themselves in to West German authorities.

Since four of five West Germans have relatives in East Germany, the Communists have felt free to force westerners or refugees from the East into spying. Spying is the price the victim pays for no harm coming to kin in the East. This has helped make West Germans regard spying as almost as routine as bending an elbow at the neighborhood beer hall.

In Frankfurt, members of the United Press International staff about twice weekly see the same black sedan pull up at 3 p.m. in the square below the UPI office windows. One of the two men always in the car gets out, drops a small packet into a wastebasket standing at the nearby bus stop. The pair wait in the car. Soon another car arrives and the driver steps out, plucks out the packet and drives off. The black sedan then leaves.

Told of this, West German police made a casual inspection.

U. S. Central Intelligence Agency local headquarters are said to be in the "Little Pentagon" - the giant pre-war I. G. Farben company office building which Allied bombers spared for post war use as U.S. Army headquarters here.

The CIA governs most Allied intelligence in West Germany and it reaches out in many directions.

Within a lion's roar of Frankfurt's famed zoo is a drab brick turn-of-century building whose occupants specialize in sneaking into the Soviet Union. The building houses the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, a nervous but spirited band of ex-Soviet citizens, including Red Army deserters. It also includes at least one former assassin of the Soviet KGB espionage organization who came to kill the NTS chief but defected instead.

From the iron-fenced building at 24 Merianstrasse pour millions of propaganda leaflets which are stuffed into Soviet hands whenever a Russian ship docks at a non-Communist port or wherever a Moscow delegation arrives in the West. The leaflets are credited with inspiring 300 Red Army defections during the 1953 East German workers' revolt.

But the CIA is most interested in the NTS' success in penetrating Soviet territory. A favorite method is said to be putting agents ashore on East Germany's Baltic coast and farther north into Soviet-occupied Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, whose populations reportedly do not frown on anti-Communist activity.

Six miles outside Frankfurt, in the green foothills of the Taunus mountains, is another cloak and dagger center, the U.S. Army's Camp King.

The military intelligence post serves as the center for interrogating defectors from Communism. A recent guest in the well-guarded base was Maj. Ryszard Obacz, the Polish air force officer who flew with his wife and two sons in a Polish trainer to West Berlin.

Nestled in the post-war glass and steel office buildings of Cologne, Hamburg and Duesseldorf are the unmarked offices of Gehlen's phantom corps of 5,000 agents whose network shoots out to the Soviet, Ural Mountains and to Communist China.

But the nerve center is in Munich.

One officer said: "Ach, it's just Americans." He shrugged and did nothing. As this is written the two cars still rendezvous.

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PRESENTS A MODERN LOVE STORY!

The V.I. Ps PANAVISION and METROCOLOR

LAST 3 DAYS

CRATERIAN

STARLITE PHONE 772-7710
Child Brides WAS SHE TOO OLD AT 15? ADULTS ONLY!
"SHOTGUN WEDDING" IN COLOR
IS HEADIN' YOUR WAY WEDNESDAY

$100. BONUS ALLOWANCE

MODERN WIRING CLEAN ELECTRIC HEAT to install

Modern electric appliances and clean electric heat make life easier and more pleasant for thousands of families in this area. But many homes -- even new ones -- are not properly wired to meet the demands of modern electric living.

Cal/Ore Electrical League heating and wiring contractors again can pay you -- for a limited time -- to install modern wiring and clean electric heat in your home, new or old! WE WILL PAY YOU A $100. BONUS ALLOWANCE if you install a 200-ampere service entrance panel and modern electric heat (6 kilowatts or more), plus circuits to provide for electric range, electric water heater and electric washer and dryer.

THIS ALLOWANCE MEANS THAT YOU CAN INSTALL A TRULY MODERN ELECTRIC SERVICE ENTRANCE IN YOUR HOME AT A GREAT SAVING.

HOW TO QUALIFY FOR THIS BONUS ALLOWANCE
Allowances will be made only on permanent installations (mobile types excluded); and this allowance will apply only to those who (1) are customers of COPCO Division, Pacific Power and Light Company, Klamath Falls, Lakeview, and Alturas Districts of Central Division, Pacific Power and Light Company; City of Ashland, and Surprise Valley Electrification Corporation.

SPECIAL WIRE-ON-TIME PLAN AVAILABLE: In addition to the big cash saving from this special bonus allowance, home-owners and home builders on PP&L lines can make use of the Company-sponsored special Wire-on-Time Plan. Includes both home wiring and electric heat installations. Maximum $1,000.00, no down payment, as little as $10.00 a month, 36 months to pay.

WIRE YOUR HOME PROPERLY... AND LIVE BETTER, ELECTRICALLY.

Table with columns: DEALERS, Company Name, Phone Number. Includes Brooks Electric & Plumbing Co., Beaver Electric & Plumbing Co., etc.

One Gift Works Many Wonders
GIVE THE UNITED WAY
Courtesy of The MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE