

Many of Kennedy's Legislative Proposals Far From Law

Senator Goldwater Says Decision on Candidacy Must Be Made by January

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry F. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) believes he must decide by late January whether to seek the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater, now considered the front-runner for the nomination, said Sunday the announcement must be made by then because the filing dates for primaries in Illinois and New Hampshire come in that month.

"Certainly if I intend to be a candidate, I have to get into these early primaries and I'd have to make up my mind about it," he said.

Goldwater predicted that a conservative GOP candidate would increase growing Republican gains in the South, but forecast that a "liberal Republican" couldn't win there.

Not overly impressed with his own chances against President Kennedy, as indicated now by published polls, the Arizona conservative said he was not overly impressed because Kennedy leads him in popularity in the surveys.

"They were having similar polls... the year ahead of the election with Nixon and Kennedy," Goldwater said. "And as I recall it, the position that Kennedy holds over me was relatively the position that Nixon held over Kennedy."

In a related development, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) ascribed Goldwater's popularity with some Republicans because "he kind of satisfies a hankering for the five-cent beer and the five-cent cigar."

Javits said "it's good old-fashioned conservatism of another day but it doesn't belong today."

Not Man To Beat

Javits, a supporter of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and an opponent of Goldwater on many issues, acknowledged that Goldwater is the current front runner for the nomination but "I would not call him the man to beat."

Even if Goldwater were to defeat Rockefeller in the New Hampshire presidential primary — the first in the nation — Javits said the victory would not "necessarily rule Gov. Rockefeller out of the race."

As of now, Javits said, "I think Rockefeller has a good chance to win" in New Hampshire.

Burst of Activity Seen as Prospect In Final Quarter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress wound up the first nine months of 1963 today with many legislative proposals far from enactment.

Faced with prospects of their first year-round session since World War II, members of both Senate and House prepared for a burst of activity in the final quarter of the year.

The President's two priority requests — civil rights and a tax cut — still have not been enacted and some lawmakers predict that one or the other may not get through this year.

Despite its record of little activity on these and other Kennedy proposals, Congress has written into law a number of measures during the first three-quarters of 1963.

Some of the Measures

Among these are extension of the draft law, feed grains legislation, extension of corporate and excise tax rates, an increase in the national debt limit, emergency legislation to avert a railroad strike and aid to medical schools.

The Senate also gave the President a major victory by ratifying the nuclear test ban treaty and the House is expected to complete action this week on a military pay raise bill.

From the administration standpoint, however, these accomplishments are offset by lack of action on civil rights and a tax cut, a lag on the President's foreign aid program, and the apparent side-tracking of medicare for the aged and parts of the Kennedy education program.

In doubt are such items on the President's legislative list as continued aid to areas of chronic unemployment, cotton legislation and measures to deal with dairy surpluses.

Lag in Congress

There has been a serious lag in Congress in action on the appropriations bills needed to finance government operations. Only four have gone to the President. Six have passed both houses, but two of these are in conference committees. Eight others have cleared one House and four have yet to be approved by either branch of Congress.

No major civil rights bill has reached either the House or Senate floor. Leaders hope to get a one-year extension of the Civil Rights Commission through Congress this week, but it is a far cry from the broad Kennedy program.

The House has approved a $11 billion income tax cut requested by Kennedy, but the measure is awaiting action by the Senate Finance Committee. GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) predicted Sunday that the earliest the bill could get to the Senate floor would be Christmas.

TAKES BACK SEAT

LONDON (UPI) — Edward Bailey, 29, was sentenced to six months in jail Saturday for setting fire to a car owned by his former fiancée, Anne Serra, 18. He admitted he started the fire because he was jealous of the car.

"He became madly jealous," Miss Serra said later, "and accused me of thinking more of the car than of him. Then came the final row — when I told him I did."

Grange News

Pomona Grange

The Pomona Grange degree work will be held at the Central Point Grange all Saturday, Oct. 5, in preparation for the sixth degree Oct. 12, at Phoenix.

These sessions will prepare candidates for the seventh degree which will be conferred at the National Grange convention to be held in Portland in November.

Los Angeles To Get Relief

Tornado Takes Three Lives in South Carolina

By United Press International

Thunderstorms slapped the East today and Los Angeles residents hopefully awaited a break in their sweltering heat wave.

The Weather Bureau predicted a drop of more than 20 degrees today and Tuesday from the 100-plus readings in Los Angeles during the last five days.

Ocean breezes started the cooling effect Sunday. The record heat wave was caused by a high pressure condition over Idaho and Nevada that kept hot winds blowing into southern California.

Rains Continue

On the opposite side of the nation, rains and thundershowers stretched from Alabama and Florida through New England, a continuation of the heavy downpours throughout the region Sunday.

A tornado swooped into Dillon, S.C., killing three persons and injuring at least 24 others. The dead were Beila Graves, 51, Ariene McDuffie, 24, and Queen Esther Graves, 8, who lived in a small frame house which was demolished.

Tornadoes also struck in North Carolina, demolishing homes, tearing roofs from barns and knocking out power lines.

Rainfall included Windsor Locks, Conn., 2.46 inches; New York, 2.06; Washington, 1.88; Philadelphia, 1.87; Portland, Maine, 1.70; Boston, Mass., 1.46; Jacksonville, Fla., 1.31; Raleigh, N.C., 1.24; and Albany, N.Y., 1.05.

Residents Chased

A Gulf storm whipped up winds of 70 miles an hour and caused flooding and other damage along a 300-mile stretch. At Sarasota 20 persons were evacuated from their homes and some of them had to scamper onto the roofs of their houses to escape flooding waters.

Six feet of water flooded the main highway on Sanibel Island southwest of Fort Myers, Fla. Seas were four to eight feet above normal high tides.

GARDNER FOUND DEAD

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Trevor Gardner, chief of Air Force research and development under the Eisenhower administration, was found dead Saturday in his Georgetown home. Police said Gardner, 48, president of the Hycon Manufacturing Co., was found about 2 p.m., by his handyman.

MOSCOW — (UPI) — The Soviet Union has its own sea monster with a taste for hunting dogs, radio Moscow reported today. The "dragon like creature" lives in Siberia's lake Labynkyr and "has frequently been seen by local inhabitants."

"On one occasion the monster swallowed a hunter's dog," the broadcaster, a student of biology at Moscow State university, said.

He cited monster sightings in the west — including one off Brazil and in Lochness — and said an expedition had gone to Lake Labynkyr and will return next month. The lake is 220 miles north of the Port of Okhotsk, on the Sea of Okhotsk, east of Alaska.
