Final Boeing Approval Only Boardman Hitch

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) The three-year, $1.5 million project to create the 99,455-acre Boardman space age industrial park was finalized Tuesday — almost.

Boeing Co., Seattle, has 10 days in which to review the state's title to the land, and if no flaws are found, the project will officially be declared an accomplished fact.

Agreement Signed

The State Land Board Tuesday signed an agreement with the Navy to purchase 48,000 acres in the west half of the Navy's bombing range for $500,000. The state will pay off the purchase over the next 10 years.

The state already has leased the property to Boeing. The lease covers 80 years, and will produce $4.8 million in rental fees. The land is located near the Columbia river in north-central Oregon.

Before Boeing starts paying annual rental fees of $60,000, however, their attorneys must review all the documents to satisfy themselves the state holds clear title to the land.

No Flaws Expected

Samuel H. Malliboaf, head of the state's Planning and Development department, said he does not expect Boeing to discover any flaws.

Boeing is expected to use the area for testing of rockets and other space - age equipment, although the company has not announced specific plans.

Monday, the state paid the Army Engineers $17,500 for title to waterfront land along the Columbia river.

Earlier agreement with the engineers set aside part of the waterfront area for recreational use, and part for industrial use.

Arrests Made on Game Violations

State police reported a number of arrests were made Sunday on hunting violation charges.

Two 18-year-old boys, David Stephen Crocker, 3356 Jacksonville highway, Medford, and Steaven James Wyatt, 408 South Fourth st., Jacksonville, were arrested on charges of hunting with a prohibited method. They were accused of shooting a deer with aid from their car lights.

David Raymond Baker, 43, of 634 Ferry rd., Grants Pass, was charged with failure to tag a deer properly.

Ilene Rose Clark, 39, of 4904 Redwood ave., Grants Pass, was charged with illegal posession of deer.

Sylvanus Jess Clark, 45, of 4804 Redwood ave., Grants Pass also was charged with illegal possession of a deer.

Orville Eugene Hoglen, 36, of 832 Garfield st., Medford, was charged with failure to tag a deer properly.

Duane Ellsworth McDougal, 23, of 1716½ North Riverside ave., Medford, was charged with illegal posession of a deer.

Fred Wallace Smith, 34, of 4804 Redwood ave., Grants Pass, was charged with illegal possession of a game animal.

Dr. Shasky Elected To Association Post

Dr. Florian J. Shasky, Medford urologist, was elected alternate delegate to the American Medical association during the 89th annual session of the Oregon Medical association in Portland recently.

At the same meeting, Dr. James H. Seacat, a Salem general surgeon, was elected president of the association, succeeding Dr. Daniel K. Billmeyer, Oregon City.

Dr. Murdock E. McIntyre, Eugene was elected vice president, and Dr. Ernest T. Livingstone, Portland, secretary-treasurer.

Area Students Are Being Enrolled in Junior Red Cross

Enrollment in the Junior Red Cross and Youth in Red Cross program is being carried on in schools throughout the county during October, according to Mrs. T. C. Groomes, chairman of the program.

"Through membership in Junior Red Cross, students can take part in a variety of activities in the Rogue valley and at the same time promote goodwill among other young people both in this country and overseas," Mrs. Groomes noted.

She added that the youth program is essentially intra-curricular and most of the projects carried on are done as part of the regular school activities.

Special RC Fund

Having an impact around the world is a special American Red Cross fund built by young people and spent only to help young people. The program is identified as the American Red Cross Children's Fund, and its purpose is to help meet the needs of young people in distress from war, internal strife and disaster.

In the past three years it has carried U. S. youth's practical-minded goodwill and understanding to such places as Chile, Tunisia, Japan, the Congo and India.

"The help is a token of friendship from the grade and high school students of this country to their contemporaries the world over," Mrs. Groomes said.

Its budget does not deal in millions or billions but rather to six digit figures. The fund however, gets a lot of mileage out of each dollar spent, she said.

Provides Medicines

It has provided medicines for cholera outbreaks in India, warm clothing for flood victims in Turkey, health, school and recreational equipment to Korean children and helped rebuild schools in earthquake-wracked Chile. The aid goes to children who are victims of disaster in this country as well. Several years ago funds were offered to the school at Empire, Ore., to help rebuild their library following a fire.

The money contributed by Junior Red Cross members in grade schools and members of High School Red Cross make up the fund. With other contributions from throughout the U.S., each young person's contribution can be applied with far greater effectiveness than any individual could do.

"The Children's Fund is just one phase of the Junior Red Cross program offered locally. Through its community and school activities, Red Cross is helping to provide our youth with a sense of responsibility to our society and a feeling of empathy for others," Mrs. Groomes said.
