People do interesting things for a hobby. William "Ben" Welch, who lives up at Indian Lake, just got an idea one day about two years ago, and as a result he and Bill Edmondson of Butte Falls built a replica of an early steam engine automobile. Welch built the chassis and body, Edmondson the power plant.

The car is not an exact replica of any particular model, just a copy of early automobiles done from photos in a book about old time steam cars.

"It's a two-inch bore, two-inch stroke, two-inch cylinder engine acting steam engine, operating on steam pressure of 400 pounds per square inch," Welch said. The car runs on white gasoline and will do 30 miles per hour, although it takes 10 minutes to get up fourth from a cold start.

The car, a three-fourths size replica (weighs 600 pounds), will hold three gallons of gasoline and 15 gallons of water. Welch hasn't checked the mileage he gets, but the original steam engine cars used to require a gallon of water a mile, he said. The car will travel 15 to 20 miles on a gallon of gasoline, however.

Welch fashioned most of the parts for the car from raw materials. He did make use of a few old Model T parts, but he had to alter them somewhat. "This car has something the originals didn't," he noted, "two forward speeds and two backward."

Since the completion of the car last spring, Welch has gotten into the swing of old-time car festivals. He doesn't drive the car to them, however. He carts it in a trailer.

Ashland Chamber Told About SOC Dining Program

ASHLAND—"It's important in our operation to build student confidence," said Carson Vehrs, director of dormitories at Southern Oregon college, in a talk for the Ashland Chamber of Commerce.

Vehrs is in charge of the housing and feeding of students who live off campus at SOC— who amount to about a third of the whole student body.

"College students are at a very volatile age," he commented. "They usually either like something or they don't."

Wine Enthusiasm Vehrs went on to say that he thought the college's dining hall had won the confidence and enthusiasm of most of the students and explained what he thought were the essential ingredients for a successful program.

"We're the only school in the state system which offers seconds on everything, and we're also the only school that offers a choice of entree, salad and dessert," Vehrs said, listing one such ingredient.

He said he considered it important to offer a choice so that the student does not feel he is being dictated to.

Maintaining standardized recipes that the students have indicated they like and which also fit the budget was another factor in the program, Vehrs thought.

Over 100 Employees The dormitory and dining hall operation is handled by 13 cooks, 86 student employees and 23 civil service employees. Payroll costs run in excess of $100,000 a year.

There are 760 students living in the dormitories this year, Vehrs said, 376 women and 384 men. Sixty per cent of them are freshmen.

This year it costs each student $664 a year for food and lodging. Only two colleges in the West provide these services for less, Vehrs said, while some charge over $1,000 a year.

Also present were Mrs. Keith Severns, as representative of the Yreka High school for the Montague and surrounding area; Dr. Tom Preece, Yreka High school superintendent; and Dom Favero, who spoke to the group on the coming school bond election, citing enrollment figures to stress the need for more classrooms to accommodate the growing influx of students for now and the future.

Goes on Record The Montague PTA went on record as endorsing the bond issue.

The next executive board meeting of the group will be held Oct. 8, in the library of the school with the regular unit session to follow on Oct. 17 in the multi-purpose room.

The kindergarten class won the room prize at the September meeting, for having the most parents in attendance. Refreshments were served by the kindergarten room mothers.

These films are being offered on a trial basis to students and the general public. If the program proves successful, the Associated Students will sponsor a series of such films.

A book of tickets for the entire series will then be placed on sale. The price of admission is not certain at this time, but it is expected to be approximately 75c per program.

INVESTIGATION PRESSED WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Alabama congressman is pressing an investigation into who gave Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) the veteran's disability record of George C.

California Official to Inspect Proposed Recreation Projects in Siskiyou County

YREKA — Hugo Fisher, administrator of the California Resources Agency, will spend three days in Siskiyou county this month inspecting proposed state recreation projects. Fisher was invited by Senator Randolph Collier of Yreka and has been working closely with Collier on Siskiyou and Del Norte county problems concerning the resources agency.

"We are extremely honored and happy that Mr. Fisher is taking time from his busy schedule to see what we have to offer in Siskiyou," Collier said. "He is the top man in the state resources field in California. I hope that his visit here will show him the tremendous potential which exists in Siskiyou county for recreation development and at the same time the lack of development by the state."

Show Assets "Hugo and I have been close friends since he first served in the Senate," Collier said, "and I was very pleased to see him appointed to this agency which can have so much influence on our area. I hope that he will be able to bring us up to date on the prospects for state park development in Siskiyou county. But, even more, I want to show him what we have to offer to the rest of the state. Box Canyon, the lakes west of Etna, the Scott and Klamath river, are great assets with great potential. But we can't develop them alone."

Collier said Fisher will meet with the Mt. Shasta, Weed, and Dunsmuir Chambers of Commerce regarding Box Canyon at a dinner meeting in Dunsmuir on Wednesday, Oct. 16. Visit Lakes

The next day he will tour the Scott Valley Chamber of Commerce for lunch. That evening Fisher will be the guest of the Yreka Chamber of Commerce. Fisher is also planning a week end pack trip into the Salmon Mountains area to visit some of the high mountain lakes of Siskiyou county.

Fisher was appointed administrator of the resources agency by Governor Edmund G. Brown to direct and coordinate the activities of the departments of conservation, fish and game, water resources, and parks and recreation and boards dealing with state water pollution control, regional water pollution control, and reclamation and state water rights.

Talent Rural Fire Hall Site Approved TALENT — The Talent Rural Fire Protection district was granted permission by the Board of Adjustment of the Jackson County Planning commission last week to locate its fire station at the corner of Highway 99 and Valley View rd.

About 15 residents of the area appeared at the hearing in favor of the location. No one appeared in opposition. The site was formerly occupied by manufacturers of Alpine logs.

MORSE ASKS ACTION WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) has urged the United States to take all action short of intervention to oust the "fascist" oriented military junta in the Dominican Republic.
