

Russians Welcome Erhard as More Flexible Leader for Germany

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International
Moscow (UPI) — A sigh of relief will come out of the Kremlin next month when Konrad Adenauer steps down as West German chancellor to be replaced by Dr. Ludwig Erhard whom the Russians consider relatively more realistic and flexible.

Since the organization of the Federal German Republic, Adenauer has been looked upon as Moscow's "Public Enemy No. 1" on the international scene — a place he sometimes yielded in Soviet pronouncements only to the late U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and occasionally to former West German War Minister Josef Strauss.

The Soviet vilification of Adenauer reached such extremes as branding him "another Hitler"

Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko brief and questioning his sanity.

It has been long felt and said here that prospects of improvement in Soviet-German relations and East-West relations generally were virtually nil during Adenauer's tenure of office.

By contrast, Soviet officials had with regard to Chancellor-designate Erhard. The Russians are following their customary practice of "watchful waiting" until the new leader takes office and they can assess his policies and intentions.

No official expression of opinion on Erhard may be expected until sometime after he has assumed his new responsibilities.

Meantime the Kremlin has practiced a measure of "quiet diplomacy," and tried to reach Erhard's ear indirectly. Only a day after his return from Yugoslavia this month Premier Nikita Khrushchev quickly arranged to receive Thomas Dehler, visiting German vice president of the Free Democratic party and vice chairman of the Bundestag.

Obviously aware that Dehler would report to Erhard and Foreign

Tuttle To Speak At Club Meeting

Shelby Tuttle of the Fruit Growers League of Jackson county will speak at the noon meeting of the Southern Oregon Advertising club Oct. 7 at Kim's restaurant.

Tuttle is executive secretary of the league, and will speak on the economic contributions of the pear industry to the county and on the labor problems facing the growers each year at harvest time.

The Ad club meetings have been changed from Wednesday to Monday and will be held regularly at noon on the first three Mondays of each month at Kim's. The last meeting of the month will continue to be a dinner meeting Thursday nights.

Anyone interested in the field of advertising either as an advertising agent or as a business man is cordially invited to attend the meetings.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a physician, three clergymen, three editors and a women's editor. Each article is a summary of a family disagreement presented to the Council. The Council deals with problems, major and minor, encountered by guidance counselors and social workers. Edited by Mrs. Aima Denny. (Copyright by General Features Corp.)

Neil V.—I want him to treat my sister better.

Edwin M.—She's trying to come between me and my family.

Neil V.—I was shocked to see my sister after a year and a half of marriage to Ed. She's only 20, but she's chain-smoking, twitchey and nervous, and looks middle-aged already. I'd seen her last as a pink and blooming teen-ager, happy-go-lucky and healthy. She tells me Ed makes her entertain hordes of his relatives, including dozens of kids who mess up their home. She's running a free hotel.

Edwin M.—If Neil doesn't like the way June looks, let him tell her to eat and sleep right and stop smoking. She looks bad from the fool diets she tries, not from housework. We have a small easy home, and when there's company I help her, whether it's her folks or mine. It just happens I'm the youngest of a family of eight and we're

Crews Trying to Finish Power Line

ASHLAND—Power line construction crews of Pacific Power and Light company are rushing to completion the building of a $117,000 distribution line to serve the Mt. Ashland Ski resort.

The crews are scheduled to complete the line within the next 60 days, according to Frank Benesh, Medford district manager, who said early snow could upset the schedule.

The new line will be supplied from Pacific Power's lower Siskiyou distribution circuit, which passes over the Siskiyou summit along Highway 66 south of Ashland. The line will extend northwesterly from the summit to the Mt. Ashland resort area, a distance of six miles.

"The last one and one-half miles of the new distribution circuit will be installed underground to reduce hazards to skiers in the resort area," Benesh said.

"Going underground also will help prevent trouble with lines and pole crossarms exposed to the damaging effects of the heavy winter wind, ice and snowfall experienced at the high elevation," he added.

If June didn't want all that company, Ed must respect her wishes. The folks get prorated and wait for invitations. June's no yo-yo. And if Ed's ego gets a big lift surrounded by kin, June won't be stingy with those invitations. That's love.

Crews Trying to Finish Power Line

ASHLAND—Power line construction crews of Pacific Power and Light company are rushing to completion the building of a $117,000 distribution line to serve the Mt. Ashland Ski resort.

The crews are scheduled to complete the line within the next 60 days, according to Frank Benesh, Medford district manager, who said early snow could upset the schedule.

The new line will be supplied from Pacific Power's lower Siskiyou distribution circuit, which passes over the Siskiyou summit along Highway 66 south of Ashland. The line will extend northwesterly from the summit to the Mt. Ashland resort area, a distance of six miles.

"The last one and one-half miles of the new distribution circuit will be installed underground to reduce hazards to skiers in the resort area," Benesh said.

"Going underground also will help prevent trouble with lines and pole crossarms exposed to the damaging effects of the heavy winter wind, ice and snowfall experienced at the high elevation," he added.

If June didn't want all that company, Ed must respect her wishes. The folks get prorated and wait for invitations. June's no yo-yo. And if Ed's ego gets a big lift surrounded by kin, June won't be stingy with those invitations. That's love.

Crews Trying to Finish Power Line

ASHLAND—Power line construction crews of Pacific Power and Light company are rushing to completion the building of a $117,000 distribution line to serve the Mt. Ashland Ski resort.

The crews are scheduled to complete the line within the next 60 days, according to Frank Benesh, Medford district manager, who said early snow could upset the schedule.

The new line will be supplied from Pacific Power's lower Siskiyou distribution circuit, which passes over the Siskiyou summit along Highway 66 south of Ashland. The line will extend northwesterly from the summit to the Mt. Ashland resort area, a distance of six miles.

"The last one and one-half miles of the new distribution circuit will be installed underground to reduce hazards to skiers in the resort area," Benesh said.

"Going underground also will help prevent trouble with lines and pole crossarms exposed to the damaging effects of the heavy winter wind, ice and snowfall experienced at the high elevation," he added.

If June didn't want all that company, Ed must respect her wishes. The folks get prorated and wait for invitations. June's no yo-yo. And if Ed's ego gets a big lift surrounded by kin, June won't be stingy with those invitations. That's love.

Crews Trying to Finish Power Line

ASHLAND—Power line construction crews of Pacific Power and Light company are rushing to completion the building of a $117,000 distribution line to serve the Mt. Ashland Ski resort.

The crews are scheduled to complete the line within the next 60 days, according to Frank Benesh, Medford district manager, who said early snow could upset the schedule.

The new line will be supplied from Pacific Power's lower Siskiyou distribution circuit, which passes over the Siskiyou summit along Highway 66 south of Ashland. The line will extend northwesterly from the summit to the Mt. Ashland resort area, a distance of six miles.

"The last one and one-half miles of the new distribution circuit will be installed underground to reduce hazards to skiers in the resort area," Benesh said.

"Going underground also will help prevent trouble with lines and pole crossarms exposed to the damaging effects of the heavy winter wind, ice and snowfall experienced at the high elevation," he added.

If June didn't want all that company, Ed must respect her wishes. The folks get prorated and wait for invitations. June's no yo-yo. And if Ed's ego gets a big lift surrounded by kin, June won't be stingy with those invitations. That's love.

Crews Trying to Finish Power Line

ASHLAND—Power line construction crews of Pacific Power and Light company are rushing to completion the building of a $117,000 distribution line to serve the Mt. Ashland Ski resort.

The crews are scheduled to complete the line within the next 60 days, according to Frank Benesh, Medford district manager, who said early snow could upset the schedule.

The new line will be supplied from Pacific Power's lower Siskiyou distribution circuit, which passes over the Siskiyou summit along Highway 66 south of Ashland. The line will extend northwesterly from the summit to the Mt. Ashland resort area, a distance of six miles.

"The last one and one-half miles of the new distribution circuit will be installed underground to reduce hazards to skiers in the resort area," Benesh said.

"Going underground also will help prevent trouble with lines and pole crossarms exposed to the damaging effects of the heavy winter wind, ice and snowfall experienced at the high elevation," he added.

If June didn't want all that company, Ed must respect her wishes. The folks get prorated and wait for invitations. June's no yo-yo. And if Ed's ego gets a big lift surrounded by kin, June won't be stingy with those invitations. That's love.

GERMAN SUCCESSOR—When Konrad Adenauer (left) steps down as West German chancellor he will be replaced by Dr. Ludwig Erhard whom the Russians consider to be relatively more realistic and flexible, according to Henry Shapiro, Adenauer and Erhard are shown here as they posed for a photo early this year. (UPI) there's only one

SKIPPY
TOPS IN QUALITY!

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS
LOOK FOR THE HAPPY LITTLE DOG

LOW IN PRICE

White Satin Sugar 25th Anniversary Sweet Offer!

2 PAIR
FINEST QUALITY
DUPONT
NYLON
FLAT KNIT
SEAMLESS HOSIERY

SWEET SAVINGS

$1.00 Plus the "Quality Tested" Seal from any White Satin Sugar Package or Bag.
Regular $2.50 value

MAIL TO: HOSIERY • 522 PITTOCK BLOCK
PORTLAND 5, OREGON

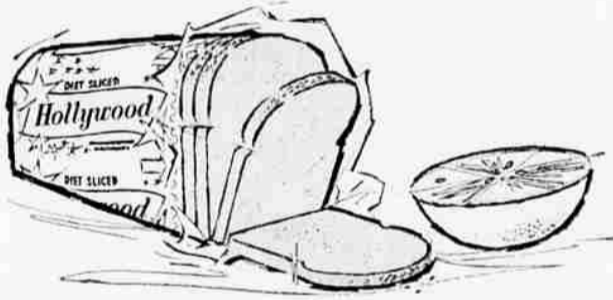

White Satin...grown and refined in Oregon for 25 naturally sweet years

White Satin Sugar SWEET OFFER
2 PAIR Finest Quality Dupont Nylon Seamless Hosiery (Regular $2.50 value)
MAIL $1.00 plus "Quality Tested" Seal from any White Satin Sugar Package or Bag to:
HOSIERY • 522 Pittock Block • Portland 5, Oregon
Sizes 8 • 9 • 10 • 11 • 12 Color Taupe • Sunfast □
(Circle the size desired • Offer expires Dec. 31, 1963)

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ ZONE _____ STATE _____

Hollywood® DIET BREAD

...even less calories per diet slice than half a grapefruit

Praise be! Diet-Sliced Hollywood Bread, tender-textured and satisfying, tastes so good!

Good things go into it, that's why. Sesame seed and golden wheat. And nine fresh, vitamin-packed vegetable flours—lettuce, carrot, celery, parsley, to name a few. And still, even less calories than half an average grapefruit!

Good idea?... Good bread!
... 46 1/2 ole calories per Diet-Slice

FREE!
HOLLYWOOD BREAD DIET PLAN
"What Have You Got To Lose?"
by Eleanor Day

Ask your grocer for brand-new free diet plan booklet. Or fill out coupon and mail to Hollywood Bread.

Hollywood DIET BREAD
P.O. BOX 715 HOLLYWOOD, FLORIDA

Please RUSH Eleanor Day's diet plan booklet, "What Have You Got To Lose?"

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ Zone _____ State _____