

President Proclaims Employ Physically Handicapped Week

By JACK STEWART
President Kennedy by proclamation has called upon the people of the nation to observe the week beginning Oct. 6 as "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week."

The Jackson County Committee for the Employment of the Handicapped, composed of members from Federal, State, and private organizations, supports the President's proclamation to promote the employment of the physically handicapped.

Let's look at this philosophy in a broad sense. Any day—in any week—is a good time to hire the handicapped. Experience has proved it is good business for a handicap need not be a job handicap when the worker is matched to a job he is able to do. If we don't use today what a human can offer—his skill or strength—we've wasted an opportunity that can never be regained, tomorrow or any other day.

Time For Concentration
National Employ the Handicapped Week is the time for concentration on the right of many thousands of skilled Americans who have been trained to overcome handicaps and are ready, willing and able to show how their motivation and training can help employers, but who too often, don't get the chance to do so.

Records of handicapped workers reflect that they match, and often exceed, the record of the non-handicapped, in safety, productivity and attendance. A physical handicap, it has been proved, need not be a job handicap, not when the worker is matched to a job he is able to do.

Private industry has found this to be so, and the Veterans Administration, a leader in the field of rehabilitation, has helped thousands of veterans become productive citizens. Many are heads of families and contribute importantly to the civic life of
