Memory Expert Opens Knife-Fork Club Season

ASHLAND — Siskiyou Knife and Fork club held the opening dinner meeting Thursday evening when George Bailey entertained approximately a hundred members with an "off beat" program of memory, magic and music.

In the absence of the president, Dr. P. Malcolm Hammond, a former president, Dr. Earl L. Lawson, Medford, took over the master of ceremonies duties, introducing a number of new members and guests before presenting the speaker.

For an evening of escapism from world problems George Bailey can be recommended. His humor has a wholesomeness seldom heard from modern lecture platforms and although it contains a certain amount of "corn" and old time hokum, there is an underlying philosophical note. In physical appearance and facial expression the entertainer resembles Red Skelton.

Minister, And Wife Honored

SOME in the audience remembered Mr. Bailey from a previous appearance before the Knife and Fork club six years ago and were as baffled by his tricks as they had been the first time. There was no lack of hilarity when a well-known Ashlander literally lost his shirt, nor could anyone offer solutions to the card tricks, handkerchief burning or necktie cutting that
