SMASH—and the pins crumbled as local bowlers racked up some big scores last week. According to our information, they went as follows:

AT ROXY ANN — Ed Bingham led the pack with a 202-201-266 for a 669 series. Then came Roy Wilkes 233-182-208 - 623; Marsh Ramsey 221-210-186 - 617; Bill Blunt 228-199-183 - 610; Dick McKenzie 233-196-190 - 607; Don Cain 214-240-150 - 604; Roy Gazaway 155-212-235 - 602; Roger Weiss 229-193-179 - 601; Earl Brenton 137-181-219 - 537; Nadine Peck 189-156-192 - 537.

On Saturday the Junior Leaguers had John Tungate as top Senior bowler with a 547; Junior division say Dan Peyton with 494 and in the Bantams it was Rick Wikins with 311.

AT MEDFORD LANES — the only statistics available were: Milt Sanderson with a 593; Gordon Shulz with a 593, and Ray Wise with a 243 game. For the women it was Mary Offenbacher with 599; Betty Reinholtz 578; Betty Norum 540 and Joyce Krouse with a 236 game. In the Junior League Jeff Travis was high with a 275 series for the Bantams and Janise Mason with 466 for the Junior girls.

TOO LATE — other action that came in too late for last week's column was a triplicate of 85 rolled by Rara Rucker in her first try in league bowling Jo Aston and Julia Smith both had all spare games. Connie Applegate toppled a 3-6-7-8-10 split and Arla Shreeve conquered the 3-6-7-8 split.

Next week we will try to bring you a more complete coverage of the top ten male and female bowlers at Medford and Roxy Ann Lanes, plus other bowling sidelights. In the mean time, if you are bowling at Roxy Ann you might try for a Gold Shield award. For the men a 300 game is worth $1000, 299 $100, 298 $50, 290 $25, 275 $15, and for the women a 299 is worth $100, 275 $50 and a 260 $25.

IT' A FACT — According to the ABC, the most fowls in a league series came in 1946 when one man committed 37.

REMEMBER — Bowling is partly a game of luck. Don't let a little bad luck drive you into the gutter.

Clear Lake Refuge Open First Time to Hunting; Other Areas Enlarged

TULELAKE, CALIF. — The bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife has announced the opening of Clear Lake national wildlife refuge to public hunting for the first time, and the enlargement of public hunting areas on Tule Lake and Upper Klamath national wildlife refuges.

With the opening of Clear Lake refuge, which has been closed to waterfowl hunting since established by executive order in 1911, and the additional acreages provided for hunting on Tule Lake and Upper Klamath Refuges, a total of 34,200 acres of field and marsh on the five basin refuges will be available to hunters. The improved hatch on the Klamath Basin Refuges and the northern breeding ground and the greater fall waterfowl flight anticipated, which is now building up rapidly in the basin, has made possible this liberalization in refuge hunting areas.

The Tule Lake public hunting area has been enlarged by the addition of a one-fourth mile wide strip along the east side of the Frog Pond area. This will provide additional shooting ground and help disperse hunters over a larger area. It will alleviate a retrieving problem which existed when hunters formerly concentrated along the railroad track bordering the east refuge boundary and dropped birds within the refuge where it was difficult to retrieve them.

Parking Confined

Because of the limited width of the Frog Pond hunting strip, vehicle parking will be confined to designated parking areas along the east side of the strip. This will minimize the disturbance to hunters in the field and to bureau of reclamation farm lessees who are harvesting their crops on refuge lease land.

Hunting will be permitted on approximately 32 per cent of Clear Lake refuge; that portion west of a north-south line between Carr butte and Double Head mountain. The open-closed area line is marked with florescent orange colored buoys at one-half mile intervals. It is expected that most of the hunting will be for geese along the shore line and in back coves and bays.

Hunter access is provided to the south end of the hunting area from State Highway 139 and to the west and north sides from the old Malin-Alturas highway. Hunting area maps and additional information may be obtained at Tule Lake refuge headquarters.

Opening of Hook

The Upper Klamath Refuge public hunting areas will be increased by the opening of the "Hook," a projecting point of marsh land jutting out into the west side of Agency lake. This is a good pass shooting area for ducks and will privde increased hunting opportunities on the refuge. Hunting area maps are available at Tule Lake headquarters.

Waterfowl on basin regues now exceed two million, slightly more than last year's total for the same census period. More migrants arrive daily. Pintails, our bread and butter duck, total 1,096,000; widgeon 337,000; mallard 64,600; shovellers 134,600; ruddys 48,200, and the remainder are a scattering of other species. White-fronted geese make up the bulk of the goose population with about 190,000 present. Geese customarily peak in late October and early November, considerably later than the duck population.

An innovation to help familiarize hunters with waterfowl and pheasant hunting areas is a colored hunting map of Tule Lake and Lower Klamath refuges. Areas open to waterfowl and pheasant hunting during regular seasons are shown on the map in green, other areas open to pheasant hunting only for the firts two days of the California state pheasant season are shown in yellow, while areas closed to all hunting are indicated on the map in red.

Routes In Blue

Hunter access routes are designated in blue on the map and interior retrieving zones, in which hunters may enter without loaded firearms to pick up dead and crippled waterfowl knocked down, in black.

New colored hunting signs will be used this year to simplify posting and to help acquaint hunters with hunting areas, closed areas, retrieving zones and hunter travel routes. Colored signs conform to colors used on the Tule Lake-Lower Klamath hunting area map.

Green signs are used to designate areas open to hunting for waterfowl and/or pheasant hunting during regular established seasons, yellow signs to designate areas open to pheasant hunting only for the first two days of the California state pheasant season, red signs indicate areas closed to all hunting, blue signs designate hunter access routes, and black signs indicate retrieving zones. Red "no hunting" signs are used only in problem areas such as along the open-colsed hunting line within the refuge where "blue goose" boundary signs are not applicable.

Following near cessation of botulism losses the recent warning trend has again aggravated the problem. Moderate losses are occurring and pick up of birds and hospitalization of sick continues. It is expected that losses will cease with the advent of cooler weather.

November 1 Last Date For Reserved Pin Tourney Entries

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — One of the most important dates for the 1964 American Bowling congress tournament, to be held in Oakland, Calif., it in 1963. In fact, it's less than a month away.

Nov. 1 is the deadline for reserved entries for the tournament which will run from Feb. 2 through April 26 in the Oakland auditorium.

To assure that entries are reserved, fees must be paid by that date. Team captains who have made reservations, but neglect to pay the fees, lose their reserved date. After Nov. 1 all entries are on a first come, first served basis.

A total of 4096 teams can be accommodated with the Feb. 22-April 26 dates. Although reservations are mounting in the Oakland office, many good dates still are available throughout the tournament.

49er Coach Plans At Least One Change

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Coach Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco Forty Niners said today that there will be "at least one change" in the offensive backfield Sunday when the winless Prospectors call on Baltimore.

Oklaoma, Texas Are 1-2 In Poll; OSU 16th, Oregon 19th

By GEORGE LANGFORD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oklahoma maintained its grip on first place and Texas vaulted past Alabama into second spot among the nation's major collegiate football powers today in the weekly ratings of the United Press International board of coaches.

The Longhorns' advance suddenly made their meeting with the Sooners this Saturday at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas a clash between the two top rated college teams in the nation.

Penn State was the only newcomer to the first 10 in the major college list, jumping from 13th to eighth with a 28-7 victory over Rice.

Pittsburgh, Navy and Ohio State also moved up inside the top 10 while upset victims Northwestern and Georgia Tech tumbled to the second ten. The Panthers jumped from eighth to fourth, Navy from sixth to fifth and Ohio State from a 10th place tie to seventh.

Wisconsin Held Position

Wisconsin, idle last week, held its No. 5 position, Southern California remained No. 9 and Nebraska, tied with the Buckeyes for 10th last week, took over sole possession to complete the 10 elite.

The Sooners, idle last week after their upset of defending national champion Southern California two weeks ago, will be healthy and rested for college football's biggest game of the young season Saturday. They received 21 of the 35 first place voters and totaled 322 points.

Texas trounced Oklahoma State 34-7 to gain the nod over Alabama by the 35-man board of coaches, although the Crimson Tide received seven first place votes to only two for the Longhorns. 'Bama defeated outclassed Vanderbilt, 21-6, but was unimpressive.

Staubach Led Navy

Amazing Roger Staubach navigated Navy up a notch with a 26-13 win over Michigan and received one first place vote. Pitt garnered two first place ballots and Ohio State the other.

Texas was a distant second in the 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 point distribution for votes from first to 10th places, totalling 257. Alabama had 251 points, Pitt 165 and Wisconsin 151.

Illinois, Arkansas, Oregon and Kansas broke into the top 20 for the first time this season.

Mississippi headed the second 10 for the second week followed by the Illini, upset winners over Northwestern, Duke, Georgia, Tech, Northwestern, Oregon State, Arkansas and Missouri. Oregon and Kansas tied for 19th.

Ohio State, No. 7, meets 12th ranked Illinois this weekend in the only other pairing of top 20 teams.

Mantle May Undergo Surgery Next Week

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mickey Mantle, who has had more than a nodding acquaintance with doctors in the past, is expected to undergo surgery for removal of cartliage in his left knee next week.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the New York Yankees' club physician, plans to confer with Mantle later this week and set a date for the operation in a New York hospital.

GRIFFITH WINS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith is back in New York with louder demands for a shot at the middleweight crown because of Saturday night's victory in Puerto Rico over middleweight contender Jose Gonzalez. Griffith's speed and his hooking attack to body and head weakened rugged Gonzalez so that he reportedly slowed down to a walk in the closing three rounds. There were no knockdowns or cuts.

RECEPTIVE!

Readers Welcome Newspaper Advertising ...It's Not an Intrusion!

People really want newspaper advertising and have said so. Surveys usually show well over 80% in favor of newspaper advertising; less than 70% for magazines; and under 40% in favor of advertising on radio and TV.

Your advertising's first job is to win a friendly feeling for your product. It stands to reason you will win more friends by running your advertising where most people want it.

If you want to sell more people you have to reach them when they are receptive. Newspapers reach more of the most receptive people.
