

Events Scheduled For Rousselot in Medford Monday

John H. Rousselot, former congressman and now western states district governor of the John Birch Society, will speak in Medford at the Hoover Elementary school on Siskiyou blvd. Monday night.

His lecture, on the subject "Disarmament — Blueprint for Surrender," will start at 8 p.m. There will be an admission charge.

Rousselot will arrive earlier in the day, in time for a press conference at 3 p.m. in unit 45 of Cedar lodge, 518 North Riverside ave.

This will be followed by a television appearance at 5 p.m. on KMED-TV, during which he will be interviewed by Dr. Edwin R. Durno of Medford, who served in congress the same two years that Rousselot held office.

No Host Dinner
At 6 p.m., a no host dinner will be held at North's Chuck Wagon, 1016 North Riverside ave. J. Verne Shangle, coordinator of arrangements for Rousselot's visit, invited businessmen and civic and political leaders to attend.

At the 8 p.m. lecture, Rousselot will explain the disarmament plans of both the United States and the Soviet Union and elucidate on his belief that implementation of either, both of which call for the creation of a "United Nations peace force and an end to national armies, would lead to the loss of the United States' national sovereignty."

Rousselot charges that the UN has become "an effective instrument of Soviet foreign policy and hence cannot be counted on to protect us against communist military aggression."

"It would be suicidal for our nation to surrender its armed forces to the UN," he contends. "Unless we retain full control over our military establishment, we cannot hope to win the life or death struggle with international communism in which we are now engaged."
