Only 3 of Top 10 Escape Unscathed

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

The topsy-turvy world of college football plays no favorites and its "darling" of last week may prove the prize package next Saturday.

Texas played a prime role in as upsetting a week as the collegians have ever experienced by knocking off Oklahoma, the top-ranked team in the country, 28-7. But the football very possibly can bounce the other way when the second-ranked Longhorns face always-rugged Arkansas Saturday night.

Only three members of the top 10 escaped unscathed from the weekend blitz, and this includes fourth-ranked Pittsburgh, which did not play. In addition to Texas, the only other winner among the elite was fifth-ranked Wisconsin, which routed Purdue, 38-20.

OSU Held to Tie
Ohio State, the No. 7 team, got away with only its pride injured after being held to a 20-20 tie by Illinois.

Third-ranked Alabama lost to Florida, 10-6, eighth-ranked Penn State fell before Army, 10-7, Southern California, the defending national champion and rated ninth this week, was topped by Notre Dame, 17-14, and 10th-ranked Nebraska lost to the Air Force Academy, 17-13.

Navy, the No. 6 team, was a 22-28 victim to Southern Methodist on Friday night.

Arkansas itself fell before the upset jinx, losing to Baylor, 14-10, but the Razorbacks were considered strong contenders for the Southwest Conference title in the pre-season analysis and they still are capable of creating an upset of their own.

Should Bounce Back
Oklahoma should recuperate next week when it opens defense of its Big Eight championship against Kansas at home.

Relief also appears in sight for Alabama, Navy and Nebraska, all of whom met comparatively weak foes next Saturday. Alabama takes on Tennessee (1-3), Navy plays Virginia Military Institute (1-2-1) and Nebraska is at Kansas State (1-3), Pittsburgh, which has fared

John Hadl Leads Chargers To Triumph Over NY's Jets

By United Press International
The San Diego Chargers have mixed age with youth to brew a team that looks potent enough to win them the Western Division title of the American Football League.

Salmon Leads Hitters in PCL
SEATTLE (UPI) — Ruthford Salmon of Denver led Pacific Coast league hitters during the past season with a .325 mark according to final, official figures released last week.

Billy Cowan, Salt Lake City slugger, finished with the most total bases, 318, led in runs batted in with 120 and also fanned the most times, 148.

Jesus Alou of Tacoma recorded the most times at bat, 648, and collected the most hits, 210. Cesar Tovar, Dallas-Fort Worth, led in doubles with 41, George Williams of Oklahoma City in triples with 12 and Derrin Johnson of San Diego was the home run leader with 33. Tovar also scored the most runs, 115.

Alou led in sacrifice hits with 13 and grounded into the most double plays, 21. Carlos Bernier of Hawaii drew the most walks, 98, and Phil Roof, Denver, was hit the most times by a pitcher, 10.

John Hadl Leads Chargers To Triumph Over NY's Jets

Tobin Rote, 35, supplies the age and John Hadl, 23, supplies the youth. And more than a short sort of either is enough to kavo most any rival.

Rote's heroics were mainly responsible for carrying the Chargers to three victories in their first four games. The veteran had his troubles Sunday and so the sophomore quarterback from the University of Kansas came off the bench to lead the Chargers to their 24-20 victory over the New York Jets.

The win enabled the Chargers to take a 1 1/2-game lead in the West while the loss left the Jets only a half game ahead of Boston and Houston in the East.

Jackie Kemp ran for one touchdown and passed for two others to lead the Buffalo Bills to a 25-26 upset of the Kansas City Chiefs and George Blanda three three touchdown passes as the Houston Oilers defeated the Denver Broncos, 33-24, in Sunday's other AFL games. Boston beat Oakland, 20-14, Friday night.

Jack Kemp scored on a one-yard plunge and passed 63 and 89 yards for touchdowns to give the Bills their victory over the Chiefs. It was a wide-open throwing duel with Kemp connecting on 12 of 24 for 300 yards and Kansas City's Len Dawson on 23 of 46 for 210 yards. Cookie Gilchrist also scored two touchdowns for the Bills.

Blanda passed for three touchdowns, engineered a fourth, kicked a 38-yard field goal and converted on all Houston's touchdowns except one in a brilliant all-around performance. Rookie Bill Tobin scored two touchdowns for the Oilers while rookie Mickey Slaughter threw two touchdowns passes to flanker Bob Scarpitto.

Pioneers Hold First in NWC

By United Press International
Lewis and Clark's surprising Pioneers held first place in the Northwest Conference football standings with a 2-0 record today.

The Pioneers — with quarterback Bill Henselman throwing two touchdowns passes — upset defending champion Linfield at Portland Saturday afternoon.

The Wildcats suffered their first regular season loss in 25 games and their first defeat in 14 conference contests.

The decision left Lewis and Clark with a 4-0 record and Linfield with a 3-1 mark for the season.

College of Idaho shut out Whitman 13-0 at Caldwell in the only other conference games.

Pacific defeated Oregon College of Education 27-0 at Forest Grove and Willamette dropped a 19-0 decision to British Columbia at Vancouver in nonconference games.

Defending champion Southern Oregon rolled over Eastern Oregon 48-18 at La Grande and Portland State won over Oregon Tech 26-7 at Klamath Falls in Oregon Collegiate Conference games. The wins gave them 2-0 records and a tie for first place in the conference standings.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Lord Tarleton or Floyd Patterson, or somebody, had the word for the Ryder Cup matches.

"It's better to fight and run away and live to fight another day," said Tarleton, or Floyd somebody, while trying to keep from being caught by somebody they were chasing.

Thus the British Ryder Cup team, after a bruising 23 to 9 defeat at the hands of the brassie Bluecoats, was able to hie itself off to Las Vegas.

Where it probably will lose whatever it was it had left after the retreat from Atlanta.

The price was seven to one against the British when these fairway festivities got under way and it had to be the largest underlay of the year. The Redcoats received their greatest shock in colonies since some farmer feller took a pot shot at them from behind a bridge post at Lexington.

Faster Finish
Paul Revere would have sold his horse and bought a golf cart to have seen this one. For the Yanks made a faster finish than the yodeling silversmiths as they won seven of the final matches and halved the other.

Champaigne Tony Lema was the victim of that halve but captain Arnold Palmer let him off the hook. After all, Arnie and his army had been routed by the same British gentleman, one Peter Alliss, in the morning.

Palmer tried to appear as modest as General Washington looking back on the battle of Trenton, where father George caught the Hessians with their shanks down. Arnie admitted that he hadn't had to sit up nights plotting strategy.

Actually, all he had to do was close his eyes and name any eight of his 10 horses. Once out of the barrier it was like cutting loose Man O-War against Pollyanna's pony. But he was at times a Simon Legree on Labor Day.

"We work harder at it than they do," Arnie said bluntly. "But these matches definitely should be continued because of the international friendship they produce."

His words were almost drowned out by the sound of fingernails being bitten in the British lockerroom.

Barrel of Fun
What Arnie really meant was that his guys had a barrel of fun, like more than monkeys, in chopping the opposition. The most closely guarded secret was the name of the scissors-grinder who honed the Yankee wedges and, being utterly frank, Lema admitted it was "wonderful!" having guys like Palmer and Boros on his side for a change instead of having them take divots out of his wallet.

"Our cooperation and coordination was wonderful," enthused Palmer, like a landlady who just let somebody bail out their trunk for double the back rent. "Johnny Pott, as example, wanted to play but he came to me and told me to leave him out of the final round because he wasn't playing well."

The truth is, Johnny hates the sight of blood.

And Palmer applied the coup de grace by observing that had the matches been held in the spring when the Yanks were fresh, "we'd probably have done better."

It was the unkindest cut of all, barring the first British teeshot that began to blacken the whites of their eyes.

Pendleton Cowboy First PI Winner

PORTLAND (UPI) — Neil Beamer of Pendleton captured the first calf-roping ground in the Pacific International Livestock Exposition rodeo Sunday night with a time of 11.5 seconds.

Beamer's time made him an easy winner over L. W. DeWitt, Lebanon, timed in 13.7, and Harry Charters, Boise, Idaho, who was timed in 14.1. DeWitt, the national leader in that event, missed his calf and had no time.

Malcolm Jones, Lethbridge, Alta., turned in the best bareback bronc riding effort of the rodeo Sunday night with a 181-point ride. National leader Paul Mayo, Grinnell, Iowa, was second with 178 points.
