Six Candidates File for Council In Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE—Six persons filed for three vacancies on the Jacksonville city council before filing deadline Saturday.

Two council members whose terms will expire at the end of this year, Paul Goodward and Ruth Walker, were among those filing for office. Don Wendt did not file again.

Others who will seek election to the two-year council terms are E. W. (Dusty) Hannon, Richard Souza Jr., and Bob Costler and George McIne.

The council decided last week that this year's city election will be held Tuesday, Nov. 5.

A check on the petition of George McIne is being made by City Recorder Jean Hewlett to determine if he is a legal resident of Jacksonville.

The city council will pass on the candidates at its 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15, meeting.

Retarded Program In District 6 Discussed by Board

Problems of the mentally retarded program in district 6 were discussed when the board of directors met Tuesday night.

Board members felt that an industrial arts program for the group would not be feasible until supervisory and liability insurance problems are solved.

Board members also discussed the October 15 tax referral.

It was announced that the joint meeting of Oregon school boards and Oregon School Administrators Association would be held in Portland November 14 and 15.

Enrollment Up

C. A. Meyer, superintendent of district 6 schools, reported that the total enrollment in the district is 2,851, an increase of 8.2 per cent over last year.

He announced that there will be an adult welding class at Crater and if there is sufficient interest there will also be an adult agricultural bookkeeping class.

Meyer reported the outstanding bonds are now $1,166,000, with a remaining bonding capacity of $2,593,544.

Resignation

It was announced that Dalton Straus had resigned from the budget committee. Since two members of the board were absent no appointment will be made until all members of the board can be present.

Director C. W. Anhorn presided in the absence of chairman Wilton White. Director H. S. Duell was also unable to attend.

In other action the board excused two boys from compulsory attendance.

An average American motorist now pays about 80 cents in motor fuel taxes each time he has 10 gallons of gasoline put into his car.

Gold Hill Council Contemplates Ordinance To Regulate Bicycles

By MARY KELL
Mail Tribune Correspondent

GOLD HILL—Residents of Gold Hill are reminded by city officials that a bicycle ordinance is pending. A proposed ordinance to prohibit riding bicycles on public sidewalks in the city of Gold Hill was studied by Mayor Richard Straus and six council members at a regular meeting on Oct. 7.

Recommendations for omissions and additions to the proposed ordinance were made and the city recorder, Ferd Jones, was instructed to prepare a bicycle ordinance for consideration at the Nov. 4 council session. It was indicated that final action will be taken at that time.

According to council members and Chief of Police Bill Young the riding of bicycles on the city sidewalks has reached a point where it interferes with the normal pedestrian traffic.

Saunders Created

It was stated that health and safety hazards are created when bicycles are parked on the sidewalk at any time, in any place, and often blocking the sidewalk completely. Since some bicycle riders fail to respond effectively to suggestions for giving people who walk on the sidewalk a fair and safe chance more stern measures to assure the safety of pedestrians seem to be necessary, it was stated.

The recommended ordinance would prohibit any person from riding on any public sidewalk. It would be unlawful for anyone to park a bicycle on any public sidewalk in the city unless such a bicycle be parked parallel to and close to the building line and not be in front of any building entrance or doorway. No bicycle could be laid down on any sidewalk. The length of time a bicycle could be lawfully parked would not be more than 15 minutes.

Penalties to be specified in the proposed ordinance are: upon the first offense the bicycle involved would be impounded by the city for a period of seven days. Upon any person's second offense the bicycle involved would be impounded for a period of 30 days. Upon the third or later offenses the bicycle involved would be impounded for not more than 60 days, and offenders would be subject to a fine of up to $10 as well.

Program Planned

Police Chief Young said he will plan a program to help inform the youngsters of rules for bicycle riders so that they will better understand the problem.

Mayor Straus stressed that there will be no shooting of domestic animals within the city of Gold Hill just because they are reported as a possible nuisance by someone.

Straus pointed out that shooting in the first place is in violation of the firearms law and in the second place the cat or dog might be some family's household pet and not just a stray animal. He encouraged residents to use proper channels as provided by public societies if bothered by a stray cat or dog.

The mayor's order followed reports heard by the council of complaints about cats and dogs. Gold Hill has no dog ordinance but animals must be licensed in compliance with the Jackson county dog regulations.

Council members agreed with the mayor.

Representatives from Plummer Enterprises met with the council to present plans for a duplex to be built on lots 14 and 16 in block 26 on First Ave.

Council action granted them a variance for a set back from the street. Plans shown were drawn according to FHA specifications, the stated.

Recommended cleaning of ditches to be done by maintenance department and certain street work was discussed.

Consideration was given on the improvements under study for the sewage disposal plant. This matter was tabled until further investigation is made by the council.

Subdivision, Trailer Ordinances Eyed By Rogue River Council

By LAURINE LAWS
Mail Tribune Correspondent

ROGUE RIVER—At the regular council meeting Oct. 10 Councilman Orvis Reiter acted as mayor during Mayor John Leyen's absence. Leyen is in the Veteran's Hospital, at Vancouver, Wash.

Councilmen present at this meeting were Lauren DeWeese, Loyd Morrow, Foy James and Arty Laws. George Magerle was unable to attend.

The problem of trailer houses in the city of Rogue River was brought to the attention of the council. This problem has also been a topic of discussion in the past. However, at this time the council decided to adopt an ordinance pertaining to the matter.

This ordinance will not effect trailer houses now in Rogue River that meet the city's ordinance specifications, where the trailer owner owns property, has hookup to the city water and has adequate sewage disposal. But the new ordinance will not allow any trailers in the future to be parked in Rogue River, except at designated trailer parks.

Robert Dames, city attorney, presented a proposed subdivision ordinance at this meeting to give the council adequate time to study it. No action was taken, but a special meeting will be called in the near future after the council has time to meet with the Jackson County Planning commission, which will assist the council in planning a new 42 lot subdivision. This project is at the end of Main Street and at the junction of Wards Creek road and the old stage road, Gold Hill.

Councilman Lauren DeWeese brought to the attention of the council, the property known as the old city dump. He told the group he thought it too valuable a piece of property to just abandon. A committee was appointed to study possibilities.

Mr. Cook and Mr. Willard appeared before the council to obtain information of the city's building code, and pertaining to the new city streets built by the owners of the property which the city will maintain. They have purchased acreage on Pine st. and have started building one home and plan to build five more in the future.

Several letters have been sent to the Southern Pacific Railroad by the city in recent years concerning the "rough and bumpy" condition at the railroad crossing on Depot st., on entering the city of Rogue River. So far nothing has been done about it. One of the councilmen wondered if the letters the city have written are getting to the right channel. The council appointed Loyd Morrow to investigate.

Gene Higger, Rogue River maintenance man, was given permission to look at and check dump trucks for the future purchase by the city. A dump truck is much needed at this time of year for hauling surplus dirt and rubbish obtained from cleaning drain ditches.

An old ordinance pertaining to trial by jury will be revised. One of the principal changes will be to increase the juror's pay from one to five dollars per day.

Mekvold Addresses Evans Valley Group On Tax Bill

EVANS VALLEY—As part of its community service program, Enterprise group opened its hall to a public meeting last week to hear Alf Mekvold, Jackson county schools superintendent, discuss Tuesday's tax election.

Mekvold showed graphs and charts on a screen and explained the state budget, particularly with regard to education.

He voiced the opinion that a "no" vote on the tax bill would almost certainly lead to an increase in property taxes or the possibility of presenting another sales tax proposal to the voters.

He urged the voters to study the bill carefully and understand what a "yes" or "no" vote would mean. After the talk he answered a number of questions from the audience.

Mrs. Fern Badcock, grange master, explained that the grange is a non-political organization and that the views expressed were not necessarily those of the organization. She also urged everyone to exercise their voting rights.

Coffee and cookies were served by the grange ladies.

CP Firemen Seek Donations for Truck

CENTRAL POINT—Members of the Central Point Volunteer Fire department are soliciting donations to purchase a rescue truck. Don Milligan, assistant fire chief, explained today.

The rescue truck should not be confused with a new pumper which the city is buying, he said. The pumper will be purchased with tax funds, the rescue truck with donations collected by the firemen.

Milligan issued the explanation after some residents apparently became confused and thought the solicitors were merely persons posing as firemen.
