Crater High's Comets have taken time to "patch up" after Friday's furious varsity football encounter at Medford. But, the Black Tornado has had to buckle right down to the task of preparing for another Southern Oregon conference rival.

"Now, all we have to do is patch kids up," remarked Crater Coach Keith Johnson after his Fireballs had held the Whirlwind to a single touchdown for the second straight year.

GET DAY OFF
The Comets have a non-league fracas at Yreka, Calif., this week. With no conference honors at stake, Johnson gave his Comets yesterday off. And, they were to go without pads in this afternoon's workout.

Medford, in the wake of its 6-0 win over Crater, is preparing for a Friday journey to Klamath Falls.

TOUGH TO GET UP
Johnson conceded that it will be tough for the "big effort" after their "big effort" against the Tornado. He indicated same concern over the Oct. 25 conference date at Grants Pass, for the Comets generally don't get up for the Cavemen like they do for Medford.

"We always seem to make a better ball club," said Johnson about his aggregation's play against the Tornado.

The Crater coach remarked further of the Friday skirmish, "We used about 20 kids and we made them stay with their two units. We did not have enough throwing to offset the running part."

Said one fan of the Crater-Medford gridiron rivalry, "It seems like a ball game you want to go see every year now."

IT'S THERE FOR KF
"Klamath Falls is pretty tough—much tougher than the 19-0 count (Grants Pass won last Friday) indicated," is the report from Grants Pass on the Pelican football crew.

Coach Al Keesel, Klamath Union's head basketball coach, was scouting Medford last Friday night. He did not write down his exact words but he said something like this about the Pelican griders:

"It's there if you can just put it together. If they can get together, they'll be tough. I'm not saying they'll win but they'll be tough."

That was before the ball game. We didn't have a chance to talk to him afterward.

THREE COMMON FOES
Medford and Klamath get together after contending against three common non-league foes. The Tornado beat North Salem 32-13, Corvallis 21-0 and South Salem 19-7. Klamath lost to South 53-0, to Corvallis 33-12 and to North 19-2. A Salem paper quoted South's Coach Marv Heater as saying that the Klamath game was one in which everything seemed to go right for the Saxons and everything wrong for the Pelicans.

PLAYS ALMA MATER
This week end will see Johnny Gray, Ashland football coach, in the role of head coach against his alma mater. His Grizzlies entertain Grants Pass on Friday night.

NOTHING'S HAPPENED
Somebody has suggested that "third down Enyart to go" would be an appropriate slogan for the Medford Black Tornado. The fact that "Big Bill" collected just 21 yards against South Salem evidently caused some query of the Medford coaches and Head Coach Fred Spiegelberg was quick to halt it.

"Nothing's happened to Enyart," said the mentor to the Linebackers last week end. He pointed out that 215-pound junior Enyart had picked up 35 pounds in the past year and has just turned 16. Spiegelberg has told us that the big fullback was under the weather for the South Salem game in which he saw both offensive and defensive duty.

North Salem the week before had concentrated on stopping Enyart and backs Jim Cox and Greg Gandee inflicted damage. Bill collected 60 rushing yards.

REMARKS MIXED
In our post game phone chat with Phoenix High school Football Coach Jack Woodward he said, "We didn't look like we should and the reason was St. Mary's." And he reprised it, "When you don't look like you should there is usually a reason." We sort of mixed the two remarks in our game story and the result was a bit weird, imagine — "When you don't look like you should." Oh, those long week ends.

TOUR OFFERED
A letter from Bill Bowerman, head track coach at University of Oregon, recently was received. It concerns an Olympic Games tour to Japan in 1964 to be led by a number of track mentors, including the ex-Medford athlete and coach, Gruening Tours, Indianapolis, Ind. Offered are the basic tour to the games and various extension tours of varying costs.

For anyone interested we have the details on file. The company says the room situation in Tokyo is critical and advises early decision by those interested in the trips.

Sugar Ray Wins Unpopular Decision
PARIS (UPI) — Former welterweight and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson considered possible retirement today because of his difficulties here in winning an unpopular decision over inept Armand Vanucci of Corsica.

The referee and three judges gave "old man" Robinson the 10-round decision but did not disclose their voting before 5,000 boating fans Monday night at Palais des Sports.

Portland Winner In Billiard Meet Of Elks Lodge Here

Portland won the team championship and Andy Leavitt and Al Norstad individual honors over the week end in the Medford Elks Lodge three-cushion billiards tourney.

The Portland team tied with San Jose with 18 wins and six losses each and won the playoff 3-0.

Leavitt, San Mateo, Calif., took the high run prize with a run of eight.

Norstad defeated fellow San Jose, Calif., player, Dr. John Erickson, 30-28 for the team championship.

Black Tornado Jayvees Win From Crater 33-0

CENTRAL POINT — Bruce Bertrand completed eight of eight passes, four for touchdowns here last night as Medford's Black Tornado Jayvees won from Crater 33-0.

The Tornado marched off the opening kickoff 82 yards to the goal with Schwinler cracking the last 16 yards. But a penalty nullified a score. And, after an incomplete pass by Collins, Crater took over the ball on downs.

Schwinler Runs 29
First Medford touchdown was on its third series with the ball. A 56-yard surge took four plays. Schwinler ran for 29 yards to the Comet 27-yard line. Dick Howsley and Bruce Stewart each made two yards. Then Bertrand hit Dames with the payoff pitch.

The Tornado scored two plays after the kickoff. A Comet fumble was recovered on the Crater 20 and on the first play of the second quarter, Bertrand hurried to Farthing for the marker.

A 34-yard punt return by Sal Equivalent to the Comet 29 set up the third TD for the Tornado. Schwinler ran for nine yards. Bertrand threw to Dames, who spun neatly to evade defenders and ran on the goal. Schwinler's conversion followed.

Goes For 62
Medford took over in the late third quarter and moved 62 yards to the goal, tabulating in the fourth. Two 15-yard penalties failed to halt the Tornado. Actually the Whirlwind started on its 49-yard line. One play led to the 46 and another gained to the Comet 47. But, a clipping infraction put them back on the 28. The Bertrand to Collins pass scored from there.

On the bonus try Collins threw to Dames but the toss was ruled illegal and Medford penalized 15 yards to the 17. Collins then kicked from his 25-yard line and the ball sailed between the uprights 35 yards away.

Comets on 14
Pruitt scored in the final moments of the game. Crater ran two plays after the kickoff before the final gun.

The Comets had the ball on the Medford 14 just before the half. An interception and 40-yard unback by Pruitt ended the threat.

Some good running by Sig Milkowski was a feature for the Crater team. He had one run of 16 yards and a couple for 13.

The Comets' Norm Henny saw one of his punts deflected and bounce back for a yard loss. But another got good pounce and set back the Tornado 64 yard after taking over on the Comet 35. Two plays gained to the 16 but two successive losses followed and totaled nine yards.

Closed Circuit TV For Oregon Scrap With Washington
EUGENE (UPI) — The Oregon-Washington football game in Portland Oct. 25, a sellout, will be carried on closed circuit television there, Oregon Athletic Director Leo Harris said Monday.

The game will be carried to the Memorial Coliseum which seats 10,000 persons. Harris said the seating would be on a reserved seat basis with tickets priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children for the telecast.

It will be the first football telecast of its kind in the Northwest. Harris said the collegiate television committee approved the plan because Multnomah Stadium, which seats some 35,000, is a reserved seat sellout.

Rodriguez Will Take On McClure

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two prominent fighters on the comeback trail will display their prowess — or lack of it — this week.

They are former welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez, and former top heavyweight contender Zora Folley.

Rodriguez, of Cuba, who won the welter crown from Emile Griffith last March 21 and lost it back to Griffith on June 8, will square off against unbeaten Wilbert (Skeeter) McClure, youth middleweight contender, at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The Rodriguez-McClure fight will be televised nationally. It will be the first fight at the Garden in eight weeks and the first Friday night bout to be televised from the Garden in three years, during which the television bouts were staged on Saturday night.

Rodriguez, 26, is favored at 9-5 over 23-year-old McClure of Toledo, Ohio, who recently came out of the Army. He is unbeaten in 14 professional bouts. He scored six kayoes. Skeeter is ranked seventh among middleweight contenders.

Rodriguez has 22 kayoes in his 51-3-0 record.

Heavyweight Zora Folley, on the comeback road after his knockout last December by Doug Jones, fights heavyweight contender Billy Daniels of New York at Montreal Thursday.

Folley of Chandler, Ariz., is now ranked ninth among contenders; Daniels fifth.

Tuesday: New York (Sunnyside)—Johnny Persol vs. Johnny AKLFORD.

Wednesday: Washington—Bob Foster vs. Sixto Rodriguez. Miami Beach—Tony Alonzi vs. Al Gonzalez.

Thursday: Montreal — Zora Folley vs. Billy Daniels.

Friday: New York (Garden)—Luis Rodriguez vs. Wilbert (Skeeter) McClure (TV). Rome —Gaspari Ortega vs. Nino Venenutti. Detroit—Von Clay vs. SKANNY Banks.

Saturday: Nothing scheduled.

FIGHTING EXHIBITS
WALNUT GROVE, Calif. (UPI) — The prosecution has been having trouble keeping its star exhibits from killing each other.

The witnesses are fighting cocks, seized in a raid last month near Iselet, Calif. Possession of the birds is illegal, and the prosecutor wants to use them as evidence against George Maghoney, who is charged as their owner.

SOC To Face Tough Opponents in Five Games Remaining

The SOC Raiders, with almost half of their gridiron battles over, are now faced with the five remaining contests that could easily result in defeat for either foe.

The Raiders will encounter OTI on Oct. 19 at 8 p.m.; Portland State on Oct. 26 in Portland; Chico State in Ashland Nov. 2, 1:30 p.m.; College of Idaho the following week and the final game of the season with University of Santa Clara, Nov. 16 at Santa Clara.

The Raiders under the leadership of Quarterback Bill Bailey have rolled to an average of 400 yards per game thus far in the season. To give a rundown on SOC and its opponents, SOC has carried the ball rushing 163 times compared to the opponents, 186 times. SOC has netted 844 yards rushing compared to the opponents' 744 yards.

In the passing field SOC has outstripped the opponents. SOC has completed 53 passes out of 86 to the opponents' 34 passes out of 62. SOC's net yards passing is 757 to 379 of the foes. Total yardage gained shows SOC with 1,601 to the opponents' 1123 for four contests.

Al Akins is pleased with the well balanced Raider team. He hasn't a superstar, but he has a well balanced group of men who are all threats when they are in the lineup.

For example Dave Nord, who subs for halfback Doug Olsen, has scored five TD's to put him in second place behind Olsen, who has scored 32 points this season. Olsen also kicks the extra points.

Outstanding Student Trophies Awarded at Judo Group Dinner

"Outstanding Students of the Year" trophies were presented to Leonard Wood and Martha Humphrey at the second annual banquet of the Medford Judo Academy Saturday evening, Oct. 12.

Larry Nolte, school head, was the master of ceremonies for the event at North's Chuck Wagon. Fifty-three members and guests attended.

Guest of honor was Tom Ball who, with his wife, was here from Chico, Calif. Ball, who holds the rank of master black belt, was founder of the local academy. A brief reading on the art of judo was given by Jack Wheeler, black belt rank and one of the instructors of the school. This was followed by two films on the history of the Kodokan system of judo and karate.

The evening concluded with promotions presented by Nolte. Second degree blue belt rank went to Gary Van Laningham and Brian Christofferson. First degree blue belt was given to Charles Morrison, Dennis Peeler and Jim Fulwiler. Green belts went to Earl Rohlf and Bill Davis. Ron Jennings was promoted to third degree brown belt and second degree brown belts, went to Leonard Wood, Darwin Moore, Martha Humphrey and Tom Kennedy. The unique tread pattern (patents pending) of the Commando XT has four separate rows of continuous, offset blocks. The voids in between these are wedge shaped. As the tire revolves, the continuous "wedging" action of these voids packs snow and mud into solid rows of cog-like blocks.
