Eagle Point Primes For Phoenix Pirates

EAGLE POINT—"We know we're going to have to play outstanding ball or we're going to be in trouble." In the words of Coach Vern Steward, that's the way the Eagle Point high Eagles look at their Rogue league football game this week. They play No. 1 rated Phoenix. The game will be at Phoenix.

The Eagles spent Monday on defense and Tuesday on offense with Wednesday's drill divided about 50-50. Today's workout was to be one of review.

Possible Starters Steward listed as possible starting backfield was Dale Chamberlain or Bob Corliss at right halfback, Bob Colpitts at quarterback, Dan Colcleaser at fullback and Mike House at left halfback. Corliss was at quarterback last week at Lakeview and Chamberlain did not play.

House could be at fullback some of the time with Colcleaser at end. Probable offensive line is Morgan Miller, center; Vic Eccleston and Merle Ford, guards; Bill Ayres and Dale Herrman or Jerry Moore, tackles and Blair and Dennis Murphy or Colcleaser, ends.

A defensive crew could be Blair and House, ends; Ayres and Miller, tackles; Dan Loper and Eccleston, guards; Chamberlain and Corliss, linebackers, and Colcleaser, Colpitts and Gary Young, deep backs.

Outstanding Steward remarked further, "We feel Phoenix is definitely an outstanding team and its going to be hard to contend with their T and single wing." With Phoenix single wing and the Eagle T formation with split ends and slot backs it will be a good game for contrasts, reported Steward. He indicated that the Eagles will throw the ball a lot with Dave Blair and Dan Colcleaser as receivers.

Eagle Point will seek its first victory over Phoenix since 1958. The two schools fought last year to a scoreless tie.

Qualifying Play Led By Smith

Karen Smith, Medford, bowling at Klamath Falls last week end, led this area's qualifying for the Bowling Proprietors association's women's state all-star tourney.

She'll lead a seven-woman delegation for southern Oregon to Kellogg Bowl, Milwaukie. Four of the seven are from Medford.

Mrs. Smith rolled 2973 and LaRayne Harris, Medford, was second with 2905.

Mrs. Samples Third Third was Vita Samples, Klamath Falls, with 2895 and Elvina Greenwood, Klamath, took fourth with 2885.

Fifth place taker was Betty Reinholdt, Medford, with 2870. Sixth went to Jeri Hutton, Medford, for 2817. Marion Linville, Klamath Falls, took seventh with 2811.

The state tourney is this Saturday and Sunday with the top player gaining a trip to Dallas, Texas, for the national.

Women contending at Lucky Lanes at Klamath Falls rolled eight games Saturday and eight on Sunday.

Henselman Chosen NWC's Back of Week

PORTLAND (UPI) — Lewis and Clark's 21-7 upset of defending champion Linfield produced both the back and line-man of the week in the Northwest Conference this week.

Conference coaches today named Pioneer quarterback Bill Henselman the back of the week. He completed 9 of 14 passes of 150 yards and two touchdowns.

Defensive tackle Pete denigens of Linfield won the line award.

Arnold, Jack Golf Favorites

By HAL WOOD UPI Sports Writer LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, who between them have monopolized professional golf for the past couple of years, were installed as 3-1 co-favorites today to win the $70,000 Sahara Invitational.

The tournament got under way with 124 men teeing off on the Paradise Valley Country Club course — deep in the desert outside Las Vegas and seven miles away from the big gambling casinos.

The powerful field includes just about every top-notch golfer from the United States — with the exception of National Open Champion Julius Boros; plus most of the British Ryder Cup team.

Ashlanders Bill Grants Pass Club

ASHLAND — Ashland High teams for its Southern Oregon Conference football opener this week with Coach Johnny Gray facing the problem of "getting kids back in shape." The Grizzlies, sporting a 2-2 season record, entertain Grants Pass on Friday evening with kickoff set for 8 p.m. It will be the second league game for the GP Camemen who have a record of four wins, no losses and one tie.

Ashland goes into the league fray on a winning note with its victories having come in the last two games. Grants Pass, among the state's rated A-1 schools, nevertheless, will be favored on the strength of its record up to date. The schools have so far met no common foes.

There is an indirect comparison, however. Lebanon downed Ashland 13-7 and holds wins of 31-7 and 19-0 over Albany.

Pioneers Third In College Poll

Knox Weighed Less Than 178

Baltimore, Md. (UPI)—A doctor from the Baltimore medical examiner's office said today that the body of deceased boxer Ernie Knox weighed only 153 pounds—considerably less than the 178 pounds announced at the weighing for his fatal bout.

Dr. Charles S. Petty said Knox' body was weighed three times to make sure that observation was correct.

Knox, 26-year-old Baltimore hood-carrier and part-time boxer, died Wednesday morning from brain injuries after being knocked out Monday night by heavyweight Wayne Bethea of New York.

The weights for that bout between Bethea and 178 for Knox. Upon learning of the latest disclosures, the Baltimore states attorney said that a state boxing commission records of the fight between Knox and Bethea would be presented to a special session of the city grand jury today.

Portland Bowlers Association Tournament of Champions

PORTLAND (UPI)—A stumbling block has appeared in Portland's plans to host the Professional Bowlers Association Tournament of Champions during the Rose Festival next June. Local sponsors said the hitch had developed in obtaining bowling equipment at a "reasonable price." The city's original bid was predicated on holding the tournament at the Pacific International Livestock arena, which seats 5,000 but has no regular equipment.

Celts Trim Baltimore Injured Pole Vault Star Can Now Sit Up in Chair

By United Press International Bob Cousy's left the Boston Celtics — but, oh, those guys he left behind! Guys like Bill Russell, Sam Jones, and John Havlicek. They were all present and accounted for when the Celtics opened the National Basketball Association at Baltimore Wednesday night and defeated the Bullets, 109-95.

Cousy retired at the end of the 1962-63 season to become coach at Boston College but the Celtics left no doubt they're still the team to beat in the NBA.

Russell controlled the backboards, S. Jones engineered the fast break in addition to scoring 20 points and Havlicek popped in 24 points from the corners to make it look easy. The Bullets led, 23-23, at the end of the first period but the Celtics out-scored them, 64-36, in the middle two periods to make it a cakewalk.

The Bullets' Walt Bellamy, hobbled by three early fouls, scored only five points in the first half but wound up the losers' high scorer with a gametotal of 32.

The Philadelphia 76ers scored a 117-115 victory over the Detroit Pistons and the Cincinnati Royals downed the St. Louis Hawks, 112-93, in other Wednesday night openers.

Eaton Reports For Hoop Drill

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY, Corvallis — Another Oregon State basketball season got underway Tuesday, when Coach Slaty Gill greets six returning lettermen, some promising sophomores and a pair of junior college transfers.

Heading the lettermen delegation is all-America Mel Counts. Other monogram wearers on hand include Jim Jarvis, Frank Peters, Jim Kraus, Rex Benner and Lynn Baxter. Hold-over reserves include Randy Rothman, Maury Stevens, Bob Vogelsang and Wiley Smith.

Up from the freshman squad are Rick Whelan, Dave Fox, Scott Eaton and Jerry Enos. The two transfers are Terry Dreisewerd, a 6-5, 225-pound rebounding expert from Mt. San Antonio J C (Calif.) and John Chambers, a 6-2 sharpshooter from Antelope Valley J C (Calif.)

By ELDON BARRETT United Press International SEATTLE (UPI)—Three and a half months ago Brian Sternberg was literally on top of the world. He held the pole vaulting record of 16 feet, 8 inches and his future looked bright. The sky was his limit.

Today, the accomplishment of which he is most proud, is that he can sit up, although only for short periods and in a wheel chair. In many ways, that is more of an achievement than his setting a world vaulting mark.

This brave new world of Brian Sternberg began on the night of July 2 when he came down on his neck while doing acrobatic tricks on a trampoline, a device on which he was most proficient.

Spinal Injury The accident caused a spinal injury that left him paralyzed from the neck down. He was taken to the University Hospital here and there he has been since.

From the beginning, doctors have told the 20-year-old University of Washington student the exact truth of his situation. Spinal cord damage is not easily repaired. Chances are he is grounded for life.

But Sternberg refuses to resign. He started self-therapy by trying to move a finger. His persistence paid off. What would be considered minimal achievements to the average person become feats of strength to Brian.

He not only can move his fingers now, but his arms as well. His next goal is to turn the pages of a book, and soon, perhaps, with the help of a special mechanical device he may be able to feed himself.

His doctors refused to predict how far Brian will progress but they agree that so far his progress has been satisfactory within the limits of his nervous system.

Brian, himself, is looking forward with faith to the day he can crawl out of his hospital bed and walk out the door for good.

And in preparation for that time he now spends his days fully dressed, just like the students on the campus.

RESPONSE! Newspaper Advertising Brings Reader Response...through Buying Action! More buying action results from newspaper advertising because of the atmosphere of believability. You've heard people say, "I know it's true, it's in the papers." The printed word has always been accepted as more honest and binding. Newspapers report facts; other media offer entertainment. Your advertising in an atmosphere of believability is bound to induce more "want-to-buy" action than that framed in fiction or entertainment. Newspapers offer another vital element—an atmosphere of timeliness and urgency. This sense of immediacy fosters "here-and-now" sales action that no other print medium can match. If it's a question of consumer response—newspapers are the answer!
