Queen's Passes Aid OSU In 30-6 Win Over Washington St.

CORVALLIS (UPI) — Oregon State capitalized on the deadly passing combination of quarterback Gordon Queen to end Vern Burke and Washington State mistakes for a 30-6 homecoming football victory Saturday.

Queen connected for three touchdowns, two of them to the rangy Burke, who last season set an NCAA pass catching record.

The junior quarterback also had a 16-yard scoring pass to little halfback Danny Espalin. Fullback Bruce Williams got the other Oregon State touchdown on a 1-yard plunge and Steve Clark added the rest of the points on a 33-yard field goal and three conversions.

It was the fourth victory in five starts for the Beavers, who rebounded from a 34-7 beating by Washington State week.

Washington State actually had command in the early going. The Cougars moved 80 yards to a touchdown with sophomore fullback Larry Elmes scoring it from a yard out.

Elmes carried the ball nine times in the drive. LeRoy Whittle's 41-yard kickoff return and an exchange of fumbles gave Oregon State the ball in Cougar territory and Burke hauled in an 8-yard pass to tie it 6-6.

Washington State then moved to the Beavers' 5 but was held. For all intents and purposes, the Cougars were dead right there.

Tim Oamer's fumble recovery set up interception by Marv Cowerton on the Washington State 39 led to a Queen-to-Burke touchdown just before halftime.

This one covered 21 yards and Burke caught the ball while falling down after it had been deflected.

Burke caught six passes for 77 yards. He has only 19 for the season but six of them have been for touchdowns. Last year Burke McLoughlin Ties Savage A see-saw game, played mostly in the middle of the field, ended in a 0-0 knot Friday. The adversaries were McLoughlin and Lincoln Savage ninth grade football teams.

Both clubs got into the vicinity of the rival 20-yard line a number of times in the hard fought scrap. Fumbles hurt both clubs.

Mark Dippel headed the Mac defense. Phil Taylor ran hard but the Bulldogs couldn't muster the punch to make his running pay off.

Rodriguez Scores Impressive Victory By JACK CUDDY UPI Sports Writer NEW YORK (UPI) — Former welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez of Cuba probably will get another shot at the 147-pound crown in February because of his impressive victory over previously unbeaten Wilbert (Skeeter) McClure, middleweight contender.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner, of Madison Square Garden, where Rodriguez unanimously beat McClure in their nationally televised fight Friday night, said Saturday:

"I'm pretty sure I can match Luis and champion Emile Griffith for a third title fight in February."

Rodriguez, who won and lost in two title fights with Griffith this year, fought 24-year-old McClure of Toledo, Ohio once and gave him a close-quarter battering before about 4,500 in the Garden's first Friday night television fight in three years.

Hedrick 9th Victor Over Ashlanders

Hedrick Junior High School ninth grade Hornets kept their football record perfect Friday by defeating the Ashland Cubs 27-7.

It was the fifth win for the unmarried Hornets. Ashland saw its first setback. Its record is now 4-1.

Phil Hackworth was the running power for the Hedrick club and had a hand in 25 of the 27 points. The Hornets also had the passing of Bill Atwood, the receiving of Tom Jackson and hard running of Doug Johnson.

Russ Ferguson and Mark Wiegand led defense. An Atwood to Jackson pass, good for 40 yards, set up the first touchdown. This put the Hornets on the five-yard line.

Three plays later Hackworth plunged through for the tally. John Tomlin's conversion run was good.

The Cubs roared back in the second quarter to tie the game. A 36-yard run by Tex Willis to the Hornet two-yard line set up the touchdown. Willis scored on the next play and added the conversion kick.

The game wasn't a stalemate very long. Taking advantage of a fumble by the Cubs, Tom Titus pounced on the ball, giving Hedrick possession on the Ashland 38 yard line. A Hackworth to Atwood pass brought the ball to the nine yard line.

Hackworth then fired to Phil Jahn for six points. Tomlin ran the conversion over.

Starting the second half, the Hornets were able to spring Hackworth loose on the third play, for a spectacular 58 yard touchdown run. Hackworth then ran the extra point.

The Hornets scored once more in the ball game. This was an Atwood to Hackworth pass good for 35 yards.

Atwood completed nine of 10 passing tries for 134 yards. Jackson caught five passes and Hackworth carried the ball 10 times for 89 yards.

The defensive line did good work for Hedrick with guard Ferguson making 11 tackles and Wiegand strong at end. Johnson, Bob Kagy and Titus also were stalwarts.

Willis, John Mitchell and Kent Carter headed the Ashland effort. Ashland Coach Pierre Roberts alternated his quarterbacks, Joe Williamson and Scott Weaver, on every other play.

There were only two penalties on each club. Hedrick piled up 264 yards from scrimmage with 11 first downs. Ashland netted 108 yards and six first downs.

TOUCHDOWN CLOVER — Bill (Hoss) Enyart (41), Medford high's powerful junior fullback, leaped out of the field "corral" and into "payola pasture" to score the Black Tornado's first touchdown against the Klamath Union High School Pelicans Friday night. Medford's initial counter climaxed a 66-yard drive off the opening kickoff. Aiding and abetting the "Hoss" on his final, frisky two-yarder are fellow Tornado-men Jeff Hardrath (73) and Steve Toews (89), plus the unidentified fist-clenching figure in the foreground. White-jerseyed Pelicans, turned would-be "brone busters," are Terry Christian-son (60), Terry Eccles (41), and Steve Campbell (68). Played on Modoc field in Klamath Falls, the second Southern Oregon Conference football outing for both teams, was won handily by Medford, 34-0.

Naef Gains Gold Trunk PE Ranking

Gary Naef, 13, eighth grader at McLoughlin Junior High school, will be honored at a school assembly Tuesday as the first boy to achieve star ranking in the Medford Public Schools physical education program.

He will receive gold trunks and a trophy at the 10 a.m. assembly. Naef earned the trunks by equalling or bettering star standards for eighth grade boys in 10 tests of physical prowess.

education supervisor, William Esselstyn, described the 151-pound youth as "outstanding" for his strength. Naef is a B student.

In his physical education program now in its second year, boys earn the right to wear red, black and gold trunks by meeting certain physical standards which vary according to a youth's class in school. PE class members start in gray trunks. Red trunks represent the first level of standards, black the next and gold the highest.

Performances Listed The standards for eighth grade boys and Gary's performances were: Pullups — 12, Gary 15; bar dips — 21, Gary 22; situps in one minute — 53, Gary 58; rope climb (20 feet) — 6.5 seconds, Gary 6.4; standing broad jump, 7 feet 2 inches, Gary 7.2; 600-yard run — 1:40, Gary 1:38; 50-yard dash — 6.3, Gary 6.2; potato race — 32 seconds, Gary 31.2; softball throw — 200 feet, Gary 220; carry man equal own Gary 220; carry man equal own Gary 220 yards—done by Gary, weight 800 yards—done by Gary.

Esselstyn declared that the standards are tough. He pointed to the standards as a means of illustrating a lesson in life: "You have to work yourself up in anything you want to do." The standards provide a little competition in PE, he said.

Lee Ragsdale, supervisor of physical education for the Medford schools, who will participate in the award presentation, also emphasized the toughness of the standards. "We never expected it to happen," Ragsdale said of the gold trunk achievement. It was not anticipated that any boy would meet all the standards.

The high performances in each event over a two year period here were set up as the standards. The marks reached
