Larger Troop Move Planned To Far East

FRANKFURT, Germany, (UPI) — The biggest and fastest transoceanic military airlift ever undertaken was declared a complete success today. Military leaders began planning for larger one to the far east next spring.

Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert called special attention to the 100 per cent success record in Big Lift, the movement of more than 15,000 troops carried out to show how rapidly the United States could build up its forces in Europe in a crisis.

Sense of Urgency

In a tribute to the Military Air Transport Service's (MATS) accident-free delivery of the 2nd Armored Division from Texas to Western Europe, Zuckert said operations over the 5,600-mile aerial bridge were performed "with a real sense of urgency but entirely consistent with airline safety standards."

The transoceanic phase of Exercise "Big Lift" ended at 10:05 p.m. (5:05 p.m. EDT) Thursday when a big C130 turboprop troop transport set down under glaring floodlights at Sembach Air Base, 35 miles southwest of here.

The honor of delivering the last 58 battle-clad soldiers of the "Hell on Wheels" division went to Lt. Cmdr. Lawrence S. Wright, skipper in a Navy squadron based at Moffett Field, Calif., and assigned to MATS. His flight from Connally Air Force Base, Tex., had taken 24 hours.

Arrival of the Navy plane came 63 hours and 5 minutes after the first Air Force C130 jet transport had taken off from Bergstrom Air Force Base, Tex., on a 10 1/2 hour flight with 62 soldiers.

Eugene Man Injured In Traffic Mishap

Justin T. Saunty Jr., 50, of Eugene, was reported in critical condition this morning at Sacred Heart Hospital after his car struck the rear of truck and trailer last night on Interstate 5. He is being treated for cuts about his head and face and several fractured ribs, hospital attendants said.

The Saunty car struck the rear of a truck and trailer registered to Reichhold Chemicals Inc., White City, driven by Jerry Blanton Beams, 24, of route 1, Central Point. Both vehicles were headed south on Blackwell hill at the time, state police said.

Council of Churches Attorneys Ask Halt in Arrest of Worshipping Negroes

By United Press International
 Attorneys for the National Council of Churches were to appear in federal court today to ask that officials in Jackson, Miss., be halted from arresting Negroes attempting to worship at "white-only" churches.

U.S. District Court Judge Harold Cox was ordered by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Thursday to take charge of the case, which stems from the arrest Sunday of a bi-racial group which tried to attend services at a white church.

The 12-member group included four ministers from Chicago. Three of the 12 were convicted of trespassing and a Jackson court and fined $1,000 each. Cox has been asked to overturn these convictions.

Another group of civil rights crusaders also appealed Thursday to the federal courts to take jurisdiction in their case. Eleven "freedom riders," including Yale University Chaplain William Sloan Coffin Jr., asked the U.S. Supreme Court to overturn their conviction for breach of the peace.

The group of Negroes and whites was convicted last year while attempting to eat together in a bus terminal at Montgomery, Ala.

In Louisiana, there also is a dispute brewing over whether state or federal authorities should have jurisdiction in a civil rights case.

Louisiana District Judge John R. Rarick Thursday added another 10 days to his order banning the Congress of Racial Equality from demonstrating in Clinton, La., despite a federal Appeals Court decision ordering him to halt all proceedings against the organization.

The Appeals Court said the proceedings should be halted until it had time to determine whether the case should be under federal jurisdiction.

But Rarick said the Appeals Court order "is without warrant in law" and extended his injunction against the integrationist organization.

Other racial developments: Tallahassee: Records show that Florida Negroes, apparently spurred by civil rights drives, have increased their voting registration by 11.1 per cent in the past year. Thirty-two Negroes were convicted Thursday of trespassing charges stemming from a racial demonstration last month.

Memphis: The Memphis Press-Scimitar Thursday endorsed Dr. Hollis F. Price, a prominent Negro educator, as a candidate for the Memphis Board of Education. It was the first time the Scripps-Howard newspaper had ever endorsed a Negro for political office.

Gastonia, N.C.: Negroes resumed picketing at two segregated theaters here Thursday night. A white group, supporting the segregation policies, bought tickets for all white customers who wanted to enter.

Tuskegee, Ala.: A "conference on disadvantaged Americans" got underway today at Tuskegee Institute, the 82-year-old Negro college founded by Booker T. Washington. Main speaker will be Lucius D. Battle, assistant secretary of state for cultural affairs.

Drought-Stricken Farmers Offered Emergency Aid

By United Press International
 A persistent, parching drought clung to the East today. The Agriculture Department offered emergency aid to drought-stricken farmers in 29 states.

Light rains swept the western fringe of the drought area during the night but did little to ease the threat of fire to forest and prairie.

In the East, from the banks of the Wabash to tinder-dry timberland high in New England, water supplies continued to shrivel.

The Susquehanna River was reported "dry" at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for the first time in memory.

Record-breaking heat seared the East Thursday, topping temperature marks which have stood since the turn of the century.

Record at Milwaukee
 A year ago, Wisconsin recorded its first snowfall and the temperature dropped into the 20s. Thursday, Milwaukee set a record with 80 degrees. Madison topped a 64-year mark with 79 degrees and La Crosse had a record 79.

Columbus, Ohio, had a record 82, Indianapolis, Ind., had 78, Pittsburgh, Pa., 81 and Buffalo, N.Y., set a record for the third time this week with a 76 reading.

Other records for the day or for so late in the season were set at Marquette, Mich., Albany, N.Y., Portland, Maine, Huntington, W.Va., Toledo, Ohio and Chicago.

Two radio stations at Nashville, Tenn., started playing Indian rain dance music in hope that rain would finally come.

The Agriculture Department said Thursday the forest service has beefed-up its firefighting crews to meet fire threats in the East.

Shortages Develop
 The department said shortages of feed and water for cattle are developing and the drought is delaying establishment of the winter wheat crop.

The department also said it was now offering emergency aid and other credit, including cut-price sales of animal feed, to farmers in parts of 29 drought-stricken states.

The weather bureau said the prolonged drought was caused by a persistent high pressure area located over the northeast and extending to heights exceeding 30,000 feet. The flow of air around the high pressure area has prevented the flow of moisture from the Gulf of Mexico normally needed for rain-fall.

Police Investigate Homosexual Activity

PORTLAND (UPI)—Spread of a police investigation into alleged homosexual activities was reported today.

Two men have been arrested here on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in connection with movies described as "obscene" by police.

Leonard Schurr, an investigator for the Portland school district, said "We haven't been able to track down everyone yet so we cannot give positive answers, but we do know this case will stretch to Klamath Falls and Eugene."

Mayor Terry Schunk released a statement criticizing sex magazines and obscene literature.

He said police reported to him that "aside from the use of obscene still photographs and a motion picture hundreds of magazines of the homosexual type, including so-called sex magazines, were found."

The Oregon Journal said today as many as 18 persons eventually may be involved in the investigation.
