

6 A School Refuses To Half Publication

PORTLAND (UPI) — The David Douglas High School board refused Monday night to halt publication of its newsletter, "Young Schools."

The publication came under fire from some residents of the district because its October issue came out before the Oct. 15 tax election and contained an article on the referendum election by State Rep. Richard Eymann, D-Marcola. Eymann was the sponsor of the tax program. Opponents questioned the legality of the school board publication and were upset over what they said was a one-sided presentation of the issue.

"We think it is a good way to inform the people," said Supt. Floyd Light. He said the publication will continue unless someone proves it is against the law.
