

Footlighter Melodrama Will Open October 31

"Aha! Me proud beauty!" and similar phrases will ring out this week end and the next at the Footlighters Little theater at the Fairgrounds next to the Armory as the drama group presents their version of the melodrama, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

A pianist will accompany the action and between-act entertainment with slides of oldtime theater type will complete the old-fashioned fun. Coffee will be served in the lounge.

The fair d a m s e l heroine, played by Audrey Reiss, will be tied to the railroad track. The staunch and fearless hero, Adam Oakheart will be done by Robert Bryant, and taking the part of the dastardly villain, Monroe Murgatroyd, is Robert Shelby.

"The fallen woman," Ida Rhinegold will be played by Mrs. Charlene Tarvin, and Mookie McGuggins, the country dimwit with an honest heart will be performed by Ken Fontaine.

The cast also includes Florence Minshall, Vivian Shelby, Mary Bea Jenkins and her daughter, Stacey and Dana Bryant.

The audience will be expected to boo the villain and cheer the hero as well as weep for the heroine.

Curtain time is at 8:30 p.m., and play dates are Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2, 7, 8 and 9. Tickets will be available at the box office.

Phoenix Group Plans Meeting
PHOENIX—A luncheon meeting is planned for Phoenix Thimble Club members Friday, November 1 in the home of Mrs. Chester Parker.

"Dirty Work at the Crossroads," a Footlighters Little Theater production, will open Thursday, Oct. 31, at 8:30 p.m., in the group's theater at the Fairgrounds next to the Armory. Pictured above is a scene from the typical oldtime melodrama. Nellie Lovelace, the heroine, will be played by Audrey Reiss, shown here as she is being threatened by the villain, Monroe Murgatroyd, played by Robert Shelby.

Communities Reminded Of UNICEF Collection

Last minute reminders regarding participation in the observance of UNICEF collecting on Halloween were issued today by the members of the committee in Jackson County under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. Reese Braley. Funds collected will be used to buy food and medicine for children in underdeveloped countries.

Grand Officers Pay Visit To Reames Chapter

At a recent meeting of Reames Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, grand officers were present and two candidates were initiated.

The new members are Mrs. Sarah Rawls and Mrs. Patricia Childers. After the ceremony was completed, a gift was presented to Mrs. Rawls by her daughter Mrs. Druscilla Mowrey, Klamath Falls, and a gift was presented to Mrs. Childers from her father, by Stewart Pennington, worthy patron.

Mrs. Robert Breckenridge member of the Estral committee of the Oregon Grand Chapter from Kerby, gave a lecture on the functions of this committee. Other honored guests present were Kenneth Blair, Oregon worthy grand patron; Mrs. Blair grand Ruth; Mrs. Hal McNair and Miss Carlotta K. Wiseman, past grand matrons and Morris Boughner, past grand patron and member of the Estral scholarship awards committee of the Grand Chapter of Oregon.

Also present was Mrs. Donald Shores, member of the scholarship endowment committee of the grand chapter, and Mrs. Katherine Sweetland, grand representative of Pennsylvania in Oregon. Several visiting worthy matrons and patrons were present.

The next meeting of Reames chapter will be held November 14 and a potluck dinner will precede the meeting. Mrs. Merle Lamar, associate grand matron of the grand chapter, will pay an official visit for school of instruction.

Society Meets At Hilton Home
O'BRIEN—Mrs. Victor Hilton was hostess for a meeting of the O'Brien missionary society at her home Thursday. This group works with missionaries of the Conservative Baptist Church.

Youngsters who wish to attend the Halloween party at the YMCA may pick up a carton after school Thursday at the "Y". The carton, filled with funds gathered for UNICEF, will serve as admission to the party, which begins at 8 p. m. at the YMCA. Children are encouraged to come in costume, if possible. If they are between the ages of 8 and 13. However, it is stressed that lack of a costume should not keep anyone away. All who wish to attend will be welcome.

There will be a costume parade, with judging to determine the best-costumed, and prizes to be awarded. Parents may pick up their young people at 9:30 p. m.

Accompany Children
The committee urged that parents who have young children taking part in the UNICEF collection to accompany their children. "It can be fun to watch the hobgoblins creeping about, and it will serve as a protection to younger children who might be subject to intimidation by older youngsters," the committee said.

Mothers in various neighborhoods have been supplied with the orange-covered milk cartons which are the mark of a UNICEF participant, and if any child desires to obtain one, and doesn't know the name of a mother nearby, the information may be gained by calling Mrs. John Dellenback, dial 772-6855, or Mrs. C. B. Collins, 772-6084.

In other communities in the county, there are chairmen who may be contacted. Sidney Ainsworth is the chairman in Ashland, Mrs. Everett Fisher in Central Point, Miss Phyllis Floyd, Talent, and Mrs. Ogden Kellogg, Gold Hill.

The committee ended preparations for this annual event with wishes "for a safe and happy Halloween for all youngsters in the county, and especially one which would result in money available to help with the improving of health and food supplies for children in depressed nations around the world."

WORK SMARTER — NOT HARDER

By BERNICE STRAWN Oregon State University

Tools were invented by man down through the ages to release body energy and avoid mental fatigue. Mind plus body plus tool equals work done. It's obviously easier to change the tool than the other parts of this formula.

Why not take a second look at your tools. A long handled dust pan will save stooping. Do you cut out your sewing on the floor? Work on a table and save your back.

Is it true what they say about teen-agers? Do they take less responsibility at home nowadays?

Teen-agers are not as free from chores as some people believe. As more mothers work outside the home, more youngsters take on housework, meal preparation and planning. Even in homes where mother isn't working, today's teen-agers are active helpers.

"A survey conducted in part of the state of Washington showed that over a fourth of the boys helped with housework, meal preparation, and washing dishes."

"The percentage of girls helping was much higher, with only 10 per cent escaping housework. Eighty-four per cent helped with meal preparation and washing dishes. Teen-agers home activities are not limited to cooking, housework and dishes, but this is the major activity."

Yreka Club Honors Past Presidents

YREKA — Past presidents of the Soroptomist Club of Yreka were honored at a recent luncheon in Colony House, Mrs. Albert Wedin presided.

In observance of Founders Day the history of the club was given. The first Soroptomist Club was formed in Oakland, Calif., 42 years ago and since has become an international group.

As the history was read, each president was presented a corsage. Miss Ruth Barklow was the first president of the local group which was chartered in August, 1921. That year a dinner dance was given to raise funds and since then has been an annual event.

Beginning in June, 1960 the club has awarded a scholarship to the College of the Siskiyous to a senior in Yreka High School. The first winner Janice Truelove. Successive winners have been Miss Vivian Standley, 1961; Miss Ann Carter, 1962 and Miss Terri Ann McKinnis, 1963.

Group Growing
Mrs. John Cawley was the second president and the club continued to grow. She was appointed to the regional education committee and still is serving with this group.

During the term of the third president, Miss Lillian Pettee, a long range project was selected, a Senior Citizens Home. The fund started with $100 and by the end of the year amounted to $500. All previous service projects were continued and $100 was donated to a local hospital fund. The club participated in a nationwide citizenship award started by the Soroptomist Foundation. Miss Sharon Bray, Yreka, was a winner.

Miss Doris Young was the fourth president and during her year the Senior Citizens Home fund grew to $1,400. A contribution was made to the American Field Service and Miss Patty Stewart was the high school senior who won the citizenship award.

A Mothers Day and Christmas luncheon were given to which each member invited a senior citizen as her guest.

The Medic Alert program is being sponsored by the club under leadership of Miss Elsie DeAvilla.

Miss Frances Wacker is the present president and under her leadership the club continues to contribute to all of the services started during the years.

Water spots on windows after lawn spraying are often hard to get off. The chemicals in the water vary in different localities, so what works in one place may be a failure in another.

Some women tell us they use a commercial rust remover, others report success with a copper cleaner or soap filled scouring pads that you use on pots and pans. In several instances, where the spots are due to hard water minerals, water softener does the trick.

Women Meet To Organize Scout Troops

Mrs. David Bergstrom, St. Mary's School Girl Scout Neighborhood chairman, and mothers of Girl Scouts from the school met recently in the Girl Scout Center to organize new troops of second and third grade Brownies.

Mrs. J. A. Carrara, organizer, explained the need and support of mothers to work in the program. Tina Carrara and Joan Littlefield, Cadette Girls of Troop 76, assisted.

Mrs. Don Grosch, leader of Troop 201, and Mrs. H. H. Littlefield, of Troop 176, fifth and sixth grade Junior Girl Scouts.

Refreshments were served in the Halloween theme. Members of Troops 176 and 201 made the favors. Demonstrations of songs and games used by Brownies and Girl Scouts were a part of the program.

Hoedowners Plan Events

DERBY — Derby Hoedowners have planned two events this week. Wednesday night the first lesson of a series in beginning square dancing will be held, and Friday a club dance is planned. Both will be at Derby Community hall.

Wednesday's lesson will begin at 8 p.m. and Edwin Cavin will be instructor. Mr. Cavin states that the lessons will continue each Wednesday, and that the first two will be free. Anyone interested in learning to square dance may call him at 664-2558 for further information.

The dance Friday is planned for 8:30 p.m. with Mr. Cavin calling. All square dancers are invited; refreshments will be potluck style.
