ICC Lifts Ban on Rail Shipments of Grain to Region

PORTLAND (UPI) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Thursday lifted a 19-day embargo on railroad shipments of grain into the Pacific Northwest.

The ICC said most of the congestion around Northwest ports that led to the embargo Oct. 13 has been cleared away.

An unusually heavy shipment of grain had resulted in an estimated 8,000 cars accumulating on Oregon and Washington sidings. The normal buildup is about 3,500 cars, and the ICC reported 3,236 remained Wednesday. The others have been unloaded into ships and elevators.

Permit Loading

Paul Grider, supervisor of the ICC's section car service, said removal of the ban will allow traders to consign shipments to Columbia river and Puget Sound ports and will permit free loading.

When the embargo was announced, there was speculation that the buildup had been stimulated by the pending wheat sale to Russia. This proved untrue, but the Soviet deal apparently contributed indirectly by hiking wheat prices.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported that prices of most classes of wheat are above loan rates and that wheat in storage was down to 1,947 bushels as of Oct. 1. That is the smallest holding since 1957, the USDA said.

Chairmen Named For Heart Drive

Mrs. Earl B. Bigalow, chairman of the Jackson County Heart Campaign, has appointed community representatives and the publicity chairman for the drive, which will be held in February.

They are Ashland, Mrs. Roy C. Hartley; Butte Falls, Mrs. Truman C. Puchbauer; Central Point, Mrs. Jimmie Anders; Gold Hill, Mrs. Donald E. Meister; Jacksonville, Mrs. A. E. Reinking; Medford, James Wariner; Phoenix, Mrs. Everett Barlow; Prospect, Roscoe Larson; Shady Cove, Dr. Howard Ferguson; and Talent, Al Grabber.

Tom Ginn of Medford has been appointed publicity chairman for the 1964 campaign, slogan for which is "More will live the more you give."

HEW Okays Plans For KF Hospital

KLAMATH FALLS (UPI) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved the plans and specification for the new Presbyterian Intercommunity Hospital here, hospital officials were informed Thursday.

The action by the federal agency clears the way for allocation of $1,333,000 in Accelerated Public Works and Hill-Burton Act funds for construction of the hospital.

Ground-breaking ceremonies are scheduled Saturday with Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., in attendance. Todd Construction Co., Roseburg, was the low bidder on the project at $2,090,000.

More than $1 million has been pledged locally.

PROBE EXPLOSION—Firemen and volunteers probe giant hole in floor of drugstore in Marietta, Ga., after mystery explosion ripped crowded building Thursday. Indications were that the blast, which killed at least seven, occurred at this point near front of the building (UPI)

Gas Explosion Shatters Drug Store; Seven Die

MARIETTA, Ga. (UPI) — An explosion shattered a neighborhood drug store Thursday night at the height of a Halloween costume judging contest killing seven persons and injuring scores of others.

Rescue workers pulled the seventh victim from the rubble of Albertson's Drug Store early today. He was identified as Terry Carter, 7. He had last been seen entering the store with his father.

"They were holding hands when they walked in," said the youngster's uncle, John Carter. "They were going to buy Terry a mask."

The boy's 33-year-old father also was killed by the blast.

The explosion, believed caused by gas leaking from a heater located in a shallow basement near the front of the store, sent splintered glass, chunks of concrete and other debris hurtling across the street toward the square.

People standing on the sidewalk watching the festivities were knocked over and the body of one victim was hurled into the street.

Twenty-seven persons were treated for injuries at Kennestone Hospital. Nine were hospitalized in serious condition.

The blast happened at 6:25 p.m. Thursday during the after-

Possibility of Social Center for Youth Discussed

The possibilities of developing within the YMCA a social center of the type desired by teenagers, and within their abilities to operate, were discussed at the YMCA this week by 35 teenagers and 10 adults. No decision was reached but a planning session was scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 2.

Partridge presented the current program for teen-agers, and introduced Dennis B. A. Leeman, who has accepted the position of adult advisor in plans to reorganize a YMCA Youth Council.

Bob Jones, general secretary of the YMCA, explained the manner in which the YMCA's policies are determined and told the youths that they could formulate and run their own program under the board's policies.

Jones also explained that Youth projects usually cost more money than the students can provide and have to be subsidized. The United Crusade subsidizes the Youth work of the YMCA beyond the funds provided by the members, Jones emphasized.

Bateman extended an invitation to the students to assist in the formation of a Youth Social Activities Council within the YMCA.

The group, headed by Terry Bowles, withdrew its decision.

A place to call their own with the opportunity to drop in after school, after the ball game, and after a show, for dancing and food, was the desire expressed by the students who have been connected with the move for establishment of a center.

Foreman Slapped Down for Calling Colleague 'Pinko'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There's no quicker way to make a congressman see red than to call him "pinko."

Rep. Ed F. Foreman, R-Tex., at 29 the youngest member of the House, discovered that Thursday night when he was reprimanded and ordered to take his seat by House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., for terming a colleague a "pinko."

Foreman, who describes himself as a "concerned Conservative American," had attempted to "clarify" his reported charge that about 20 of his colleagues are "pinkos." A similar charge led to an altercation of sorts earlier this week with a fellow member of the Texas delegation, Democrat Henry B. Gonzalez.

leagues rose to the attack. Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., assailed "sanctioning groups" and "certain members" of the House who have been traveling around charging that other members have been voting against the Constitution. He said he hoped somebody labeled Pinko would sue.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, said Foreman himself was using Communist tactics.

Foreman later attempted to continue his explanation. "The fact of the matter is," he said in a prepared speech, "I have only referred to one member of this body as a pinko. On Friday, Oct. 18, during a speech in San Jose, Calif., I referred to the gentleman from California as Don "Pinko" Edwards." He referred to Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., who threatened to sue Foreman if he did not retract his charge.

In the speech he didn't get to give, Foreman said that after his San Jose address a reporter asked him why he called Edwards a Pinko. "Because of his down-the-line, ultra-liberal, left-wing voting record," he said he replied. Then the reporter asked if Foreman thought there were other members in the same category. Foreman said yes, and identified them as 20 members who voted against appropriations for the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

CONSERVES WATER SUPPLY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Armand D'Angelo, city commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity, has taken another step in the campaign to conserve New York's dwindling water supply.

D'Angelo said Thursday that he was having his official limousine washed with a bucket of water rather than a hose.
