

MRS. FRANK TERRY Sent In Lucky Box Top

Rogue River's Mrs. Frank Terry Wins Cash, Car

ROGUE RIVER—Mrs. Frank Terry of U.S. 99 North has been announced a first place winner in a recent National Tide Sweepstakes Contest conducted by Proctor and Gamble Company.

Mrs. Terry purchased her lucky box of Tide from Robert Gail's market at Rogue River and entered the contest by mailing in the Tide box top with her social security number.

On Monday at Gail's Market she was presented with a $5,000 check, a new 1964 Buick, and a new 1964 Buick. Another prize, a later date, will be received at a later date.

Robert Weaver, Southern Oregon representative of the Proctor and Gamble Company, brought the prizes that were awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry have been residents of Rogue River since 1949. In 1955 they lost a great deal of their possessions in the severe flood.

Awards Presented At 4-H Achievement Night at Eagle Pt.

EAGLE POINT — The 4-H Achievement Night for Eagle Point, Reese Creek, Trail, and Shady Cove 4-H members was held Oct. 21 at the Eagle Point Grange Hall.

Cliff Moore, president of leaders from the district, introduced Dale Hoecker, new county 4-H agent. Representing the White City Branch of the First National Bank, G. H. Lamplsey spoke urging the members to seek out interested adults in the various fields covered by the 4-H program and encourage their participation as leaders and advisors.

Putting one extra letter in a line where it wasn't needed, changed the name of Miss Linda Cornutt to Linda Cornutt. No, you are wrong. It was not the M.T. The story was in the Royal Neighbor magazine published monthly at Mount Morris, Illinois. Since Miss Cornutt is a local girl, the story created quite a little interest. She is a graduate of Crater High School and is now entering her senior year at Southern Oregon College. At her high school graduation she received the Parent Teachers Association scholarship, and has recently been awarded a Jackson Foundation scholarship worth $1,000. The proud parents are Jim Cornutt, master of the Central Point Grange, and Mrs. Cornutt, who is lecturer.

A recent issue of the Mail Tribune telling of the many methods used to combat Jack Frost reminds us of another method used. A young man from Portland came to the valley and set out an apple orchard just across the road from our place. In due time, the trees grew to fair size, and blossomed up with prospects of a nice crop of apples. About that time a period of freezing weather began to hover over the valley. The young orchardist used the water treatment to combat frost. He had a barrel mounted on a flat bed wagon, pulled by horses. The barrel was filled with water, and a hand pump furnished pressure for the hose and spray nozzle. The orchardist worked the spray nozzle and his hired "Chinaman" worked the pump. To be effective, the water should be put on before sun-up. For seven nights we had frost and seven mornings the spray was put on before sunrise, but one night the orchardist went to some kind of doings in Medford and didn't get home until after midnight, went to bed, and didn't wake up until the sun was shining through his window. He hurried out and put on the spray, but alas, it was too late.

I used to know about all the farmers that were lured here by the beautiful pear blossoms, and remember many funny, and interesting happenings, especially with the ones from the Boston area, who had a brogue of their own.

We wonder if the big headlines in Tuesday's M.T. telling that state institutions' budgets are being cut will wake up the "No" voters, or will they say it's just some more scare tactics?

We heard a talk over the radio where the speaker told what a great country we have, more cars, more radios and televisions and about everything the heart could wish for, including our abundance of food supplies. Then he said that in spite of all of this, we have people that contend that everything is wrong here, and they seem to be terrifically unhappy here. Reminds me of what Col. Kelly, Judge Kelly's father, said many years ago, when we were having a siege of griping similar to the present one. He said they don't believe what they are saying, if they did, and have the brains that God gave geese, they would get out of here.

A storage plant is being erected at the Rowell's Table Rock Gardens. This will have controlled temperature and will be a big help in the keeping and selling of garden products, according to Henry Rowell.

A letter from Miss Gail L. Jhop of Bethel, Kansas, tells of her being chosen a princess in a popularity contest, which entitled her and her escort to lead the American Royal parade in Kansas City, Mo., seated in a new 1964 convertible. She mentioned other members of the family and said all were doing well. Reading the letter, we felt she was bubbling over with happiness, but reading between the lines we sensed a little longing for the old Oregon country where she was born and has many relatives and friends. We were glad to get the letter, and we hope her happiness continues to last and that her popularity doesn't cause her to forget the gang out in Oregon.

Mrs. Carl Quackenbush of the Medford area recently joined a party that paid a visit to Dallas Purcell's sanctuary and reports a most cheerful visit among pleasant surroundings and cheerful people, who it seemed were not bothered with tensions or any disagreeable thoughts. She says she got a wonderful spiritual lift visiting with these people.

Candidates For Jacksonville City Council To Speak

JACKSONVILLE — The five candidates seeking to fill the three vacancies on the Jacksonville City Council will meet Sunday at 3 p.m. at the community hall for a question and answer session.

Voters will go to the polls Tuesday to elect three councilmen.

Two councilmen whose terms will expire at the end of the year are seeking re-election. They are Paul Godward and Ruth Walker. Don Wendt, the third councilman whose term expires, did not file again.

New candidates are E. W. (Dusty) Hannon, Richard Souza Jr. and Bob Coster.

Each councilman serves a two-year term.

The meeting Sunday is sponsored by the Town Meeting Committee. Refreshments will be served.

Dale Hoecker Will Present Talk For Eagle Point Grange

EAGLE POINT — The Eagle Point Grange invites all members and interested persons to a program by Dale Hoecker, Jackson County Extension and 4-H agent, who will present slides and a talk on Tuesday at the Eagle Point Grange Hall at 8 p.m.

His talk will cover his recent work in Brazil setting up extension services there.

Hoecker was county agent in Clatsop County for several years before going to Brazil in 1956. In that country he served with the United States Technical Assistance Program as an extension advisor helping the government of Brazil establish agricultural extension services.

He returned to the United States in September and was assigned to Jackson County. A social hour will follow the program and coffee and cookies will be served by the ladies of the Grange.

Shady Cove Grange Gets Recognition

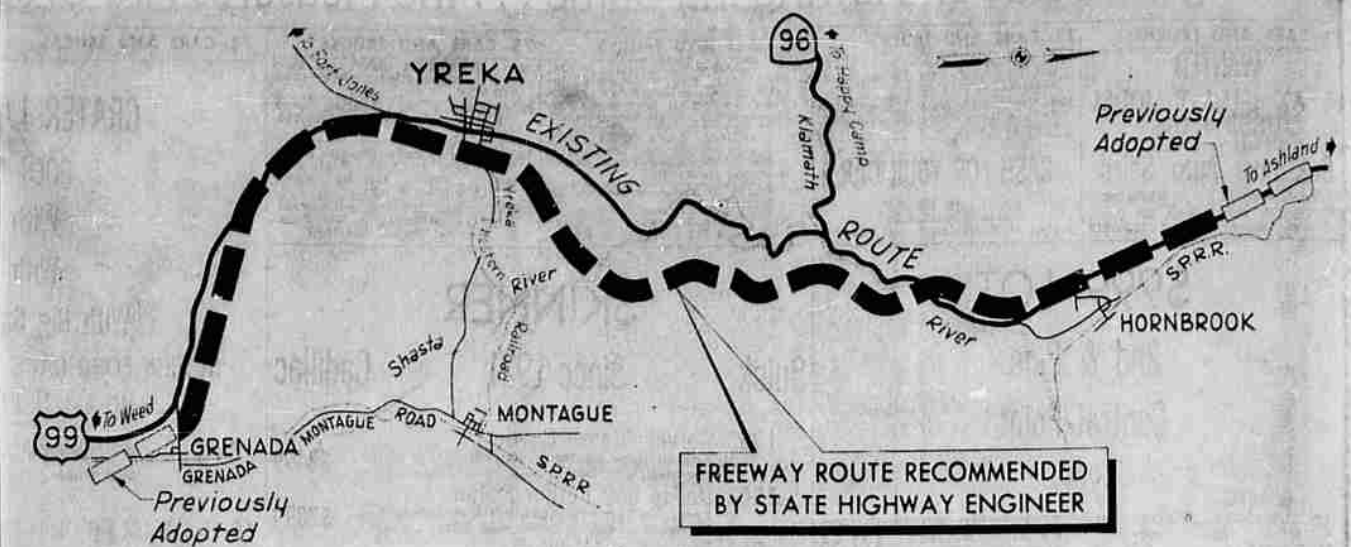

SHADY COVE — Shady Cove Grange No. 931 has received recognition in the past year for community service in state competition. A new program has been set up by the committee and accepted by the grange for the ensuing two years.

Opening this program is the newcomers welcome service. Grange members are to call on new residents, welcoming them and leaving them a directory folder acquainting them with services available in the community.

The folder consists of maps of locations with directory showing business firms and services offered. The area covered extends from Reese Creek to McLeod, including by-roads.

Miss Cecelia Kee, who was delegate from Shady Cove to state grange this year, has been invited to be one of the trumpet-ers at National grange to be held in Portland in November. Miss Kee will be the youngest member to participate in this ceremony.

At the booster night costume party, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ann Cayford for the most original costume, Mrs. Isabel Wunderlich for the prettiest costume, and Mrs. Chester Calloway for the most clever.

FREEWAY ROUTE RECOMMENDED BY STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEER

The California State Highway Engineer will recommend the route depicted above for the Interstate 5 freeway from Grenada north to a point 2.5 miles north of Hornbrook. The California Highway Commission expects to consider adoption of this route at its November meeting or at another meeting soon, it was announced in Sacramento. The freeway would follow existing U.S. 99 from Grenada to the Yreka area, where it would swing to the east and run along a ridge east of the Shasta River Canyon. It would then rejoin the present highway near Hornbrook.

Spruce Cuttings Sent To Germany

APPLAGATE VALLEY — Twenty pounds of eight inch cuttings from the Brewer spruce trees were shipped recently to the Forest Genetic Institute in Ahrensburg, Germany, according to John Kaiser, timber management assistant at Star Ranger Station.

The cuttings were sent at the request of Dr. W. Langer of the institute who visited Siskiyou and Rogue River National Forests three years ago while on a tour of the west coast. The cuttings will be grafted into European spruce (Picea Omorika) for study of characteristics.

A small amount of the Picea Breweriana grows in the Miller Lake area of Sturgis Fork, tributary of Carbury.

The spruce is not logged here because it does not attain sufficient height. The institute requested cones for seedling purposes, but cones were not available.

Ruch Church Honors School Football Team

APPLAGATE VALLEY — Marking completion of the football season at Ruch Elementary School, Ruch Community Church honored the players and their parents with a banquet at the church Monday evening.

Frank Scott, athletic coach, presented letters to the boys, and the Rev. Earl G. Mortlock, as master of ceremonies, presented humorous awards to parents who were active in the rooting section at the games.

A school faculty member pointed out the significance of the dinner in showing close alliance of school, community, and church.

Freeway Route Through Siskiyou County

California Highway Engineer Recommends Canyon Bypass

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The California Highway Commission announced today that it will consider at its November meeting or at a subsequent meeting the adoption of a freeway routing for 26.5 miles of U.S. 99 (Interstate 5) in the Yreka area of Siskiyou County between Grenada and 2.5 miles north of Hornbrook.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack recommended a route which closely follows the existing highway from Grenada to Yreka, then swings east of the present road to south of Hornbrook where it rejoins the present alignment.

The recommended route is along portions of the Green and Brown lines as discussed at a public hearing by the Division of Highways in Yreka on Sept. 26, and along the Yellow line as discussed at a second public hearing in Yreka on Oct. 3.

The Yellow line is the route along the old Anderson Grade Road. It follows the ridge east of the Shasta River Canyon, whereas the present highway goes through the canyon.

The expense of constructing a freeway through the canyon was one of the objections originally raised against routing the new road via Yreka. But the proposal to construct the freeway on the ridge east of the canyon answered most of the objections and met with general approval in Siskiyou County.

The Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors and the Yreka City Council have waived a public hearing on the matter by the commission.

Plans of the Division of Highways call for the construction of a four-lane freeway at a cost of approximately $28,300,000, including rights of way. Start of construction will depend on the availability of future highway funds.

Students attending without the families with whom they are residing while in the United States were Pedro A. Roggiano of Buenos Aires, Argentina, who is living at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Swendiman Jr. of Redding and Elpidio J. Saldo of Aragua, Venezuela, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. William S. Anderson of Dunsmuir; Elpidio Saldo was accompanied to Yreka by Mrs. John Samuelson of Dunsmuir.

Mrs. Tom Dickinson, who is AFS area representative, conducted the orientation sessions.

Reading Method To Be Explained At Happy Camp

HAPPY CAMP — A new reading method which is being examined for possible use in the Happy Camp elementary school will be explained during the next regular meeting of the Parent Teacher Association here on Nov. 13.

Speaking on the subject will be Robert Schaefer, one of the eighth grade teachers, who has been studying the subject for a number of years and has visited university and college professors who have also studied the program for many years. The program called ITA (Initial Teaching Alphabet) institutes a new complete phonic way to teach reading and spelling.

A 40 minute film on the subject entitled "The 40 Sounds of English" is to be shown also to give a better understanding of the program.

All interested citizens are invited to attend this session sponsored by the Happy Camp unit. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Elementary School Multipurpose Room.
